Stresses Points to Back JFK

Calls Readiness Weapon in Crisis

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—Preparation for a possible atomic war, including construction of fallout shelters, is an American weapon in the current world crisis, Gov. Rockefeller maintains.

Rockefeller, during an appearance Monday night at a 3-day meeting of the New York State Publishers Association, said this preparation was necessary to give President Kennedy the support he needs.

Be Ready for Challenge

Nuclear weapons are a basic part of the American defense plan, Rockefeller said in reply to a question.

"Since we have these weapons we must be ready to face an enemy who also has them," the gopernor said. "If we are challenged, we must use our weapons."

New York citizens are not prepared for a nuclear war, he said, and "I'm concerned since I'm responsible for the welfare of the people of the state."

The state superintendent of public works urged press executives today to place greater emphasis on the "positive side" of the highway safety story.

Superintendent J. Burch McMorran said 627 more persons might have been killed on state highways last year if the state had not instituted many new safety measures.

He described the measures as "a vast program of modernizing old roads and building new ones for today's heavier, faster traffic."

Will Tour West N.Y.

After his visit to the publishers' gathering, which ends Wednesday, Rockefeller returned to New York City. He will leave the city tonight on a three-day saturation visit to Western New York.

The tour, including nearly 30 public appearances, will cover Niagara and Erie counties.

While in Cooperstown, Rockefeller issued the annual Newspaper Week proclamation. He said:

Sets Newspaper Week

"The people of New York have a just pride in the historic fact that the first struggles in the great issue of freedom of the press were fought and won here.

"New York publishers and editors use their freedom to give their readers a steady stream of accurate and painstakingly acquired information such as is available nowhere else on earth."

The governor designated Oct. 15-21 as Newspaper Week and Oct. 21 as Newspaper Boy Day.

Before joining the publishers, Rockefeller had dedicated four new buildings at the State University College of Education at Oneonta.

State Takes Steps To Rid School of Discrimination

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The State University was taking steps today to end practices of racial and social discrimination at a junior-senior high school it operates.

The Education Department, in a report on admission policies at Milne School in Albany, said Monday that "the student body in no way is representative of the population of the area served by the school or even of those who apply for admission."

The Department said the procedures of Milne "are discriminatory as far as race and socio-economic status are concerned."

Dr. Thomas H. Hamilton, president of the state University, said steps were being taken to revise the policies completely. He said a significant part of the report was the determination that the school had not practiced deliberate racial discrimination.

The Education Department said 81 per cent of the student body was admitted "because of family relationships with the school or because of pressure.

"The combination of special privileges has created a school privately described as one with a 'private-school orientation' and a student body 'from upper-middle class families,'" the report said.

Review Is Ordered Of Woodstock Ruling

The decision of the Woodstock Planning Board of September 7, denying an application of Ulster Homes, Inc., and its corporate affiliate, Riveredge Warehouse Corporation, for approval of a 13-lot subdivision known as "Streamside Terrace," will be reviewed by the Supreme Court.

Last Friday, Sept. 22, Supreme Court Louis G. Bruhn, at special term in Albany, signed a show cause order directing a review of the Woodstock Planning Board decision. The show cause order is returnable before Justice Kenneth MacAffer at special term in Kingston on October 6 at which time the Board is directed to show cause why its decision should not be reversed.

10 Days to Act

The order of Justice Bruhn also directs the Woodstock Board to serve its answer and a copy of all papers upon which its decision was based, within 10 days after service of the order upon Chairman J. Constant vanRijn.

Justice Bruhn's order directs a review of the decision of the Woodstock Planning Board, rendered on September 7, denying the application of Riveredge Warehouse Corporation and Ulster Homes, Inc., filed June 3, 1961, for approval of its map of a proposed 13-lot real estate subdivision known as Streamside Terrace. This property is located in Woodstock, opposite Millstream Motel and near Sully's Bridge and consists of five acres on which 13 single family houses were proposed to be erected.

What Petitioners Allege

In a statement issued by Ulster Homes, Inc., and its corporate affiliate, Riveredge Warehouse Corporation, the petitioners allege that "the sole grounds of the Board's decision of disapproval were that the applicants had failed to furnish the Board with information as to percolation tests, sub-surface data and the number of bedrooms in each house proposed to be erected, and, according to the Board, because of this failure, the Planning Board's expert advisors were unable to determine and advise the Board as to the adequacy of the planned sewage disposal systems. The ptitioners claim that these

Fresh Foods Help Living Cost Dip; Stability Gains

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living dipped one-tenth of one per cent in August, the Labor Department announced today, mainly because of plentiful fresh foods at lower cost.

'61 Gain Lowest

The department said consumer prices have risen one-half of one per cent in the first eight months of this year, "less than during any comparable period since 1955."

This stability was achieved in spite of July's jump of nearly one-half of one per cent which carried the index to a record of 128.1 per cent of the 1947-49 average, used as a base. The downward movement last month brought the level to 128 per cent.

That meant that the typical assortment of goods and services making up the living costs of the Financial Study Is Made of Plan

A prospectus outlining details of a children's section for New York's 1964-1965 World's Fair Exhibit, prepared under direction of an Ulster County resident is now under financial study in New York, it was revealed today.

Authorized to submit the detailed outline and cost estimates for the multi-million dollar project which is to be known as the "Children's World," was Creative Recreation Consultants, of 107 East 31st Street, New York, headed by J. Harold W. Hargreave, 3rd, of Saugerties, who had originated and operated for several years, Rip's Retreat in the Catskills.

Pike Also Consultant

Another Ulster County resident, who is a member of Creative Recreational Consultants is Artist John Pike, of Woodstock. Its other members are Daniel Chait, architect who prepared plans for the St. Lawrence Seaway, the former New York World Fair and many other major projects; and Lee Lawrence, Dave Garroway's coordinator, who has had experience in other top flight production work.

"Children's World" at the fair, as planned, will be built on a 1½ acre tract in the Meadows Lake area of the fair grounds. A building on the site covering 40,000 square feet will be a large "space frame" with no columns or other supports inside, so as to permit maximum flexibility of movement inside. "Time capsule" cars will move around the great "Hall of Motion" in which a variety of displays are to be viewed.

History of Water Travel

Three stages of transportation with allied displays to suit the occasion, each fluently engineered with respect to time, progress and traffic flow will be featured. On water will be seen such craft as outriggers, clippers, schooners, gondolas, steamboats, submarines and others. On land

2 Highland Girls Reported Missing

Highland state police have sent out a 13-state alarm seeking information as to the whereabouts of two Highland girls, missing from their Chodikee Lake Road home since Saturday.

Trooper James Kaljian identified the girls as Pamela Doss, 16, and her sister, Bylle Gayle, 14, stepdaughters of Roland B. Cole, who reported the girls missing.

Mrs. Ella Cole, Highland, a relative of the girls, told The Freeman today the girls had never before stayed away from home. She said Pamela had bought two tickets for a football game at Poughkeepsie last Saturday, but the family learned the girls didn't attend the game.

Mrs. Cole said the girls were last reported seen on Route 9W heading toward Kingston, at about 12:40 p. m. on Sept. 23. Mrs. Cole said the girls had

Unsatisfactory, Reds Say of JFK Proposals

LONDON (AP) — Radio Moscow asserted today President Kennedy's disarmament proposals to the U.N, General Assembly are unsatisfactory.

In a home service, Russian-language broadcast, the radio declared:

Questions Arms, Forces

"The U.S. program makes no provision for the abolition of arms and armed forces, for the banning of nuclear and other forms of weapons of mass extermination, or for the liquidation of military bases on other people's territory."

The broadcast said that, as outlined by Kennedy, "the main emphasis is laid on the discontinuance of the production of fissionable materials and on control over the launching of devices into cosmic space."

"As is known," it added, "these measures alone are in no way capable of guaranteeing general and complete disarmament.

"Kennedy did not say a word about the attitude of the U.S.A. to such vitally urgent questions as the struggle of the Algerian people for independence, the national liberation struggle of the peoples of Angola or the situation in Southwest Africa."

Most to German Problem

Kennedy's remarks on the subject of Germany and Berlin were dismissed in a single sentence—"The President devote dconsiderable attention to the German problem and, in particular, to the question of West Berlin."

Would Set Arms Check

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy today follows up his challenge to the Soviets to engage in a race for peace by signing a bill setting up a new U.S. arms control and disarmament agency.

With that challenge before the United Nations clearly in mind, the President arranged to sign the bill with ceremony. The measure was passed by congress three days ago.

The man expected to head the new disarmament agency, William C. Foster, was among government officials and private citizens invited to attend the signing. Foster is a former foreign aid administrator and assistant secretary of defense.

Gromyko To Answer President

Arms and Berlin Stand to Remain

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.N. delegates saw little hope today that the Soviet Union will soften its position in replying to President Kennedy's call for new negotiations on disarmament and the Berlin crisis.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko is expected to hold fast to the Kremlin's over-all stand on these and other international issues when he makes his policy statement before the 99-nation General Assembly.

Many Impressed

Western diplomats and many neutrals were impressed by Kennedy's broad new disarmament proposals to freeze nuclear weapons production and stockpiles as soon as controls can be organized.

They also were impressed by Kennedy's overtures for a Berlin settlement coupled with his blunt warning that if the Soviet Union tries to take over the divided city, the United States stands ready to use nuclear weapons.

Kennedy's challenge to the Soviet Union to join in a race for peace leading to full disarmament made no visible imprint on the Communist bloc members who sat silently while the rest of the hall applauded.

Gromyko Noncommital

Gromyko's first reaction was noncommital. Talking with newsmen outside the Soviet U.N. mission on Park Avenue he was asked if he saw any hopeful signs in the speech.

"I would not go so far," he said. "I want to study it more thoroughly."

He repeated Moscow's announced intention to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany, adding that some aspects of the speech "do not meet our objections regarding the possibility of negotiations on Germany."

Little hope was held for progress on the arms question at this stage in view of the discouraging report the Soviet Union and the United States made to the United Nations last week. The two powers disclosed complete failure to agree during three months of discussion on a way to resume full East-West negotiations.

Troika Main Sticker

The main sticking point has been Soviet insistence that the makeup of any new disarmament conference should be based on the troika principle—the same issue that has deadlocked selection of a successor to the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

The Soviets insist that participants at an arms conference be devided among three numerically equal groups of nations—Communist, Western and neutral. The United States has offered several alternative proposals.

2,700-Word Statement

Kennedy supported his disarmament appeal by having U.S. officials issue a 2,700-word statement to U.N. delegations on "general and complete disarmament in a peaceful world."

The proposals went into details on machinery to control disarmament and offered a few ideas that U.S. officials said could be acted on immediately.

These were an offer to sign a nuclear test ban treaty and a proposal for all nuclear powers to agree not to give atomic weapons or know-how to countries now outside the atomic club.

Arms and Berlin Stand to Remain

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.N. delegates saw little hope today that the Soviet Union will soften its position in replying to President Kennedy's call for new negotiations on disarmament and the Berlin crisis.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko is expected to hold fast to the Kremlin's over-all stand on these and other international issues when he makes his policy statement before the 99-nation General Assembly.

Many Impressed

Western diplomats and many neutrals were impressed by Kennedy's broad new disarmament proposals to freeze nuclear weapons production and stockpiles as soon as controls can be organized.

They also were impressed by Kennedy's overtures for a Berlin settlement coupled with his blunt warning that if the Soviet Union tries to take over the divided city, the United States stands ready to use nuclear weapons.

Kennedy's challenge to the Soviet Union to join in a race for peace leading to full disarmament made no visible imprint on the Communist bloc members who sat silently while the rest of the hall applauded.

Gromyko Noncommital

Gromyko's first reaction was noncommital. Talking with newsmen outside the Soviet U.N. mission on Park Avenue he was asked if he saw any hopeful signs in the speech.

"I would not go so far," he said. "I want to study it more thoroughly."

He repeated Moscow's announced intention to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany, adding that some aspects of the speech "do not meet our objections regarding the possibility of negotiations on Germany."

Little hope was held for progress on the arms question at this stage in view of the discouraging report the Soviet Union and the United States made to the United Nations last week. The two powers disclosed complete failure to agree during three months of discussion on a way to resume full East-West negotiations.

Troika Main Sticker

The main sticking point has been Soviet insistence that the makeup of any new disarmament conference should be based on the troika principle—the same issue that has deadlocked selection of a successor to the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

The Soviets insist that participants at an arms conference be devided among three numerically equal groups of nations—Communist, Western and neutral. The United States has offered several alternative proposals.

2,700-Word Statement

Kennedy supported his disarmament appeal by having U.S. officials issue a 2,700-word statement to U.N. delegations on "general and complete disarmament in a peaceful world."

The proposals went into details on machinery to control disarmament and offered a few ideas that U.S. officials said could be acted on immediately.

These were an offer to sign a nuclear test ban treaty and a proposal for all nuclear powers to agree not to give atomic weapons or know-how to countries now outside the atomic club.

New Try Due if Rusk-Gromyko Talks Fail

Signs of Accord Appearing To Ease Crisis Over Berlin

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The rough outline of a possible East-West agreement to end the Berlin crisis is beginning to appear in official statements, including President Kennedy's speech to the United Nations.

This development indicated today, as some Western diplomats are saying privately, that sooner or later the Soviet Union and the Allied powers will agree on a compromise formula for opening negotiations to see whether a deal is possible.

Up to Khrushchev

What is highly uncertain is whether the formula can be worked out in Western diplomatic talks now under way with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. The talks could produce accord in the next few days if Premier Khrushchev is ready to ease the tensions over Berlin a bit. If he is not, the current efforts of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home will end in failure.

Should these preliminary discussions collapse, however, the prospect is that some new effort to arrange negotiations will be undertaken later in the fall. Western leaders seem privately convinced of this because the alternative to a Berlin settlement may well be a nuclear war.

Kennedy told the United Nations Monday the Western powers are determined to defend West Berlin "by whatever means are forced upon them." But he expressed confidence that "firmness and reason" can lead to a peaceful solution.

Stopped Short of Solution

The President stopped short of saying what kind of solution might be acceptable to the United States and its allies.

Kennedy said the United States recognized that Germany could be kept divided by troops and tanks. His guarded statement implied acceptance indefinitely of the existing division of Germany. Such acceptance could lead to Western accommodation to Communist authority in East Germany.

Khrushchev long has demanded that the Western powers recognize the East German Communist regime. The implications of what Kennedy said stop far short of full recognition, but the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany have talked over privately the possibility of accepting the fact of Red rule in East Germany.

Kennedy Confident

Kennedy said he believed an agreement could be worked out that would protect "the freedom of West Berlin and Allied presence and access."

This comes close to the crux of the matter because Khrushchev clearly wants Allied troops withdrawn. But he also has talked a great deal about guaranteeing West Berlin as a "free city" and also guaranteeing access. The gap between his position and Kennedy's could be a subject of negotion, diplomats say, though he would have to accept the presence of Western troops.

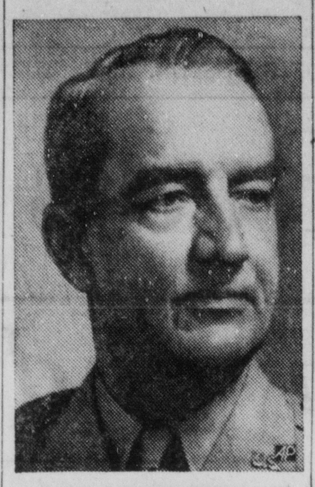
Former 8th Army Commander Dies, Was Chief at WP



R. L. EICHELBERGER

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, 75, commander of the U.S. 8th Army in the Pacific in World War II and former superintendent of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., died here early today.

Eichelberger, who guided the "amphibious 8th" through the long Philippines campaign and later commanded Allied occupation forces in Japan, was hospitalized last Friday. He underwent surgery Monday.

Eichelberger had served as secretary of the general staff of two chiefs of staff of the U.S. Army—Douglas MacArthur and Malin Craig. He was graduated from West Point in 1909.

Got Command in '44

Eichelberger was given commcommand of the 8th Army in the Pacific Sept. 7, 1944. The 8th subsecuently led the Pacific island fighting from Australia to Tokyo.

The 8th was nicknamed "The Amphibious 8th" after Eichelberger led it on 52 amphibious landings in the Philippine Islands campaign alone.

Because of the record of the 8th, Gen. Douglas MacArthur selected it for the invasion of Japan and Eichelberger commanded occupation forces in Japan from 1945 to 1948.

On the first landing in Japan, Eichelberger said: "I got up at daybreak and was on the first plane to land at Atsugi Air Field, Aug. 30, 1945. It was quite a thing, all right. We didn't know what we'd find on the ground.

"Two hours later, I met MacArthur's plane. As we rode along in the jeep, I had a grenade on the seat between us, and MacArthur was wearing a pistol. That was the first time I ever saw him wearing a weapon."

Last Jap Greatest

To an interviewer who asked him what he considered his greatest achievement, he replied: "It was when the last Jap died at Buna. That was the first time anyone had ever licked them."

He received his appointment to West Point after attending Ohio State.

In 1918, Eichelberger was sent to Siberia where he received three decorations for exceptional bravery.

Taxpayers Form Glenford Assn.

The Glenford Firehouse was filled to capacity Monday night when area residents met to form a taxpayers association. The move was spearheaded by Howard Barr of Glenford who opened the meeting and outlined the purposes of the organization.

Among those present at the meeting was Fred Freitag of the Lake Hill Taxpayers Association and John Melia of the Woodstock Association. Both spoke on tax problems.

Robert Haver of Ashokan, the former Town of Olive Democratic committeeman, addressed the meeting on the recent state equalization rate drop in his town and adjacent towns and he also spoke on what he termed an unfair rule for voters on school matters in the Onteora School District.

Haver said if a voter failed to appear and vote at a school meeting and again registered, the voter was barred from voting on school matters. He said a resident once registered should not be required to re-register each time.

After opening the meeting, Barr asked for election of a temporary chairman and Allen Werner was named. It was proposed that the organization be called the Glenford Taxpayers Association. A permanent organization is to be formed at the next meeting Oct. 25, 8 p. m. at the Glenford Firehouse.

$500,000 in Gems Taken by Gunmen In Monte Carlo

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Masked gunmen pulled off the largest jewel robbery of the summer on the Riviera Monday. Estimates of the loot ranged from $500,000 to more than twice that.

Three robbers, dressed in blue jeans and wearing scarves across their faces, entered the Clerc jewelry shop opposite the Monte Carlo Casino in the morning, when most residents of the neighborhood were sleeping. They forced an elderly saleswoman, alone in the store, to lie on the floor and scooped jewels from display cases.

Spat on Docking

father restrained the boy at times.

The mayor, only Democrat on the City Council, has been highly critical of Mitchell's welfare "crackdown" program but that was not a factor in the dispute.

Mitchell said the son, employed in the city's parking meter department, approached him outside his office in City Hall and complained bitterly at the docking of several days' pay from his paycheck.

The city manager said he explained that he had nothing to do with the docking, that it was a departmental matter, but that the boy nonetheless appeared to hold him accountable.

Injured in August

Mayor Ryan said his son was injured about Aug. 8 when accidentally struck on one arm by a sledgehammer another city employe was using to drive a stake. The arm was broken in two places.

He said a doctor told the youth he could return to work Sept. 18 but the parking meter department told him to report several days earlier. When he did not, his pay for those days was docked.

The father said the son felt he should report on the date set by the doctor. The son was paid for the time he was off because of the injury up until the date the department told him to return to work. The youth was on the job today.

Mwamba Faces Treason

TshombeArrests His Former Aide

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—President Moise Tshombe of Katanga announced Monday night his former chief of staff, Capt. Mwamba, is under arrest awaiting trial for treason.

Tshombe told a news conference Mwamba had dealt with U.N. officials in contravention of orders of his military superiors and the president. He said he will be brought before a military court.

No details of the charges were made public. It was reported Mwamba was in touch with the U.N intelligence chief, Col. Bjorn Egge of Norway, during efforts to arrange a cease-fire soon after the fighting broke out in Elisabethville Sept 13.

Egge has said he was escorted into the presidential residence by Mwamba during attempts to get negotiations started.

Tshombe said 17 Belgian officers had left his secessionist province and insisted they were the last remaining foreign advisers with his army.

The United Nations had charged that white officers supervised Katangan military operations against U.N. forces.

The president said that in fact these 17 were kept on with U.N. permission to help the Katangan forces with purely administrative problems.

The charge that they had led military operations, he said, was part of a U.N. attempt to explain what he called its defeat in Katanga.

Tshombe declared that not a single European has any voice in running his state.

Signs of Accord Appearing To Ease Crisis Over Berlin

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The rough outline of a possible East-West agreement to end the Berlin crisis is beginning to appear in official statements, including President Kennedy's speech to the United Nations.

This development indicated today, as some Western diplomats are saying privately, that sooner or later the Soviet Union and the Allied powers will agree on a compromise formula for opening negotiations to see whether a deal is possible.

Up to Khrushchev

What is highly uncertain is whether the formula can be worked out in Western diplomatic talks now under way with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. The talks could produce accord in the next few days if Premier Khrushchev is ready to ease the tensions over Berlin a bit. If he is not, the current efforts of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home will end in failure.

Should these preliminary discussions collapse, however, the prospect is that some new effort to arrange negotiations will be undertaken later in the fall. Western leaders seem privately convinced of this because the alternative to a Berlin settlement may well be a nuclear war.

Kennedy told the United Nations Monday the Western powers are determined to defend West Berlin "by whatever means are forced upon them." But he expressed confidence that "firmness and reason" can lead to a peaceful solution.

Stopped Short of Solution

The President stopped short of saying what kind of solution might be acceptable to the United States and its allies.

Kennedy said the United States recognized that Germany could be kept divided by troops and tanks. His guarded statement implied acceptance indefinitely of the existing division of Germany. Such acceptance could lead to Western accommodation to Communist authority in East Germany.

Khrushchev long has demanded that the Western powers recognize the East German Communist regime. The implications of what Kennedy said stop far short of full recognition, but the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany have talked over privately the possibility of accepting the fact of Red rule in East Germany.

Kennedy Confident

Kennedy said he believed an agreement could be worked out that would protect "the freedom of West Berlin and Allied presence and access."

This comes close to the crux of the matter because Khrushchev clearly wants Allied troops withdrawn. But he also has talked a great deal about guaranteeing West Berlin as a "free city" and also guaranteeing access. The gap between his position and Kennedy's could be a subject of negotiation, diplomats say, though he would have to accept the presence of Western troops.

Taxpayers Form Glenford Assn.

The Glenford Firehouse was filled to capacity Monday night when area residents met to form a taxpayers association. The move was spearheaded by Howard Barr of Glenford who opened the meeting and outlined the purposes of the organization.

Among those present at the meeting was Fred Freitag of the Lake Hill Taxpayers Association and John Melia of the Woodstock Association. Both spoke on tax problems.

Robert Haver of Ashokan, the former Town of Olive Democratic committeeman, addressed the meeting on the recent state equalization rate drop in his town and adjacent towns and he also spoke on what he termed an unfair rule for voters on school matters in the Onteora School District.

Haver said if a voter failed to appear and vote at a school meeting and again registered, the voter was barred from voting on school matters. He said a resident once registered should not be required to re-register each time.

After opening the meeting, Barr asked for election of a temporary chairman and Allen Werner was named. It was proposed that the organization be called the Glenford Taxpayers Association. A permanent organization is to be formed at the next meeting Oct. 25, 8 p. m. at the Glenford Firehouse.

$500,000 in Gems Taken by Gunmen In Monte Carlo

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Masked gunmen pulled off the largest jewel robbery of the summer on the Riviera Monday. Estimates of the loot ranged from $500,000 to more than twice that.

Three robbers, dressed in blue jeans and wearing scarves across their faces, entered the Clerc jewelry shop opposite the Monte Carlo Casino in the morning, when most residents of the neighborhood were sleeping. They forced an elderly saleswoman, alone in the store, to lie on the floor and scooped jewels from display cases.

Spat on Docking

father restrained the boy at times.

The mayor, only Democrat on the City Council, has been highly critical of Mitchell's welfare "crackdown" program but that was not a factor in the dispute.

Mitchell said the son, employed in the city's parking meter department, approached him outside his office in City Hall and complained bitterly at the docking of several days' pay from his paycheck.

The city manager said he explained that he had nothing to do with the docking, that it was a departmental matter, but that the boy nonetheless appeared to hold him accountable.

Injured in August

Mayor Ryan said his son was injured about Aug. 8 when accidentally struck on one arm by a sledgehammer another city employe was using to drive a stake. The arm was broken in two places.

He said a doctor told the youth he could return to work Sept. 18 but the parking meter department told him to report several days earlier. When he did not, his pay for those days was docked.

The father said the son felt he should report on the date set by the doctor. The son was paid for the time he was off because of the injury up until the date the department told him to return to work. The youth was on the job today.

Two Suspended Sentences Given, Cases Pending

A man charged with assault, and another booked for unlawful intrusion were given suspended sentences in city court today and a third held on an indecent exposure charge is due for later hearing.

Charles Gaunt, 24, of 47 Murray Street, who was arrested Monday on a warrant executed by Sgt. Thomas Tomshaw and Officer Weston Hoffay and charging third degree assault, was given a suspended sentence of 30 days in jail by City Judge Aaron E. Klein. The complainant, police said, was his wife Joan.

Also given a suspended sentence of 30 days was Joseph Bohan, of 136 Broadway, who was charged with unlawful intrusion on property near the rear of Reis' Liquor Store, 367 Broadway early today. Bohan said he had driven into the area by mistake. The arrest by Officers Vincent Eckert and Richard J. Dempsey followed a report that someone had been seen near the rear of 373 Broadway.

Hearing on the charge of indecent exposure against Donald E. Baker, 29, of 13 South Road, Mt. Marion, was put over to Oct. 11. He was booked after Officers Raymond Wells and Thomas Carpino were dispatched on a call to Crown and North Front Streets, and following a complaint by a 32-year-old woman, police said. Attorney Seymour Werbalowsky appeared for Baker. Bail, fixed at $200, was not immediately posted.

Mwamba Faces Treason

Tshombe Arrests His Former Aide

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—President Moise Tshombe of Katanga announced Monday night his former chief of staff, Capt. Mwamba, is under arrest awaiting trial for treason.

Tshombe told a news conference Mwamba had dealt with U.N. officials in contravention of orders of his military superiors and the president. He said he will be brought before a military court.

No details of the charges were made public. It was reported Mwamba was in touch with the U.N intelligence chief, Col. Bjorn Egge of Norway, during efforts to arrange a cease-fire soon after the fighting broke out in Elisabethville Sept 13.

Egge has said he was escorted into the presidential residence by Mwamba during attempts to get negotiations started.

Tshombe said 17 Belgian officers had left his secessionist province and insisted they were the last remaining foreign advisers with his army.

The United Nations had charged that white officers supervised Katangan military operations against U.N. forces.

The president said that in fact these 17 were kept on with U.N. permission to help the Katangan forces with purely administrative problems.

The charge that they had led military operations, he said, was part of a U.N. attempt to explain what he called its defeat in Katanga.

R. L. EICHELBERGER

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, 75, commander of the U.S. 8th Army in the Pacific in World War II and former superintendent of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., died here early today.

Eichelberger, who guided the "amphibious 8th" through the long Philippines campaign and later commanded Allied occupation forces in Japan, was hospitalized last Friday. He underwent surgery Monday.

Eichelberger had served as secretary of the general staff of two chiefs of staff of the U.S. Army—Douglas MacArthur and Malin Craig. He was graduated from West Point in 1909.

Got Command in '44

Eichelberger was given command of the 8th Army in the Pacific Sept. 7, 1944. The 8th subsequently led the Pacific island fighting from Australia to Tokyo.

The 8th was nicknamed "The Amphibious 8th" after Eichelberger led it on 52 amphibious landings in the Philippine Islands campaign alone.

Because of the record of the 8th, Gen. Douglas MacArthur selected it for the invasion of Japan and Eichelberger commanded occupation forces in Japan from 1945 to 1948.

On the first landing in Japan, Eichelberger said: "I got up at daybreak and was on the first plane to land at Atsugi Air Field, Aug. 30, 1945. It was quite a thing, all right. We didn't know what we'd find on the ground.

"Two hours later, I met MacArthur's plane. As we rode along in the jeep, I had a grenade on the seat between us, and MacArthur was wearing a pistol. That was the first time I ever saw him wearing a weapon."

Last Jap Greatest

To an interviewer who asked him what he considered his greatest achievement, he replied: "It was when the last Jap died at Buna. That was the first time anyone had ever licked them."

He received his appointment to West Point after attending Ohio State.

In 1918, Eichelberger was sent to Siberia where he received three decorations for exceptional bravery.

When World War II broke out, Eichelberger was superintendent of West Point. He requested and received duty with combat units.

The Building Service Employee's International Union, AFL-CIO Local 493, this weekend held a negotiating meeting with several companies and their attorneys in order to work out an industry wide contract, covering the workers employed in the Hudson Valley. Upstaters Are Called to Talk At Rail Hearing

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission called Upstate New Yorkers today as witnesses concerning the New York Central Railroad's fight for control of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

Representatives of industrial and commercial companies were expected to support the Central's stand, as have Gov. Rockefeller and other officials from New York State.

Today's hearing was the 28th day of testimony in the battle between the Central and the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad over the B&O.

Syracuse Mayor Anthony A. Henninger, six other New York State mayors and Gov. Rockefeller already have testified in Washington in favor of the Central proposal.

The Central maintains that C&O control of the B&O could mean ruinous inroads in Central traffic. It seeks permission either to take control of the B&O or participate in a three-way merger with the C&O and B&O.

Massachusetts government and business leaders backed the Central stand Monday at a hearing in Boston. They also recommended inclusion of other New England Railroads in the proposed merger.

The New England Association of Public Utilities Commissioners said the Central and other roads serving New England have pioneered economic changes, which, sooner or later, other railroads must follow.

To weaken railroads serving New England at this crucial point in their history by creation of a competitive system based upon financial interests of railroads not faced with such economic challenge "would be folly and directly opposed to the public interest," the association said.

The executive director of Massachusetts' Mass Transportation Commission, Joseph F. Maloney, said the commission was worried over the possible destruction of the Central's financial ability to continue passenger and freight service in New England.

Maloney pointed out that New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island had taken specific railroad relief action in the form of tax reductions.

Sinking Highway

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP)—A prehistoric peat bog that went undetected during the building of Interstate 75 has caused about 300 feet of the super highway to sink about a foot in the past year. No serious breaks have occurred but the peat, 30 feet deep in spots, will have to be dug out and replaced with a more substantial foundation.

U.S. Challenges Trico Union Vote

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — An election of officers in February by the 2,000-member Trico Workers Union has been challenged in a federal court suit by the U.S. Dept. of Labor.

Papers filed by the government Monday seek to have the election set aside under the 1959 Labor-Management Reporting & Disclosure Act.

The independent union represents production and maintenance workers at Trico Products Corp. of Buffalo, manufacturers of automobile accessories.

The civil suit charges that the union illegally limited voting privileges to workers on the payroll at the time; failed to give proper notice of the election by mail; and failed to hold the marking and casting of ballots in full view of the members.

The action was reportedly filed in behalf of a defeated candidate for president.

Stratton Backed By Otsego Group For Albany Job

ONEONTA, N.Y. (AP)—The Otsego County Democratic Committee has become the third in Rep. Samuel S. Stratton's congressional district to endorse him for governor.

Stratton, of Schenectady, has not yet said whether he would bid for the 1962 Democratic nomination. Republican Gov. Rockefeller already has announced he will run for re-election.

The Otsego Committee's endorsement was given at a meeting Monday night. The committee hailed him as a man from the "Upstate area who has shown he can win in both urban and rural areas."

Stratton previously received the endorsement of the Schenectady and Montgomery county committees.

you're being asked to "think big, think compact and think small."

For 1962

"Think Hard"

By GEORGE ROMNEY, President, American Motors Corporation

In the 1962 car announcements there will be so many names, models and sizes, that people will be confused.

You will be asked to "think big, or think compact, or think small" as to the size or kind of car you really need.

We recommend, instead, that you "Think Hard."

Think hard about the things you want most in your next car.

Then look hard.

Look for most value. There are more than 100 improvements in the 1962 Ramblers. See how many of these advances are missing in competitive cars.

With our workers as progress-sharing partners, you can expect superior craftsmanship in Ramblers. American Motors' company-wide objective is to make trouble-free Ramblers a symbol of American industrial integrity and honesty... to make Rambler quality superior to that of even far costlier cars built anywhere in the world.

To accomplish this, we are sharing our progress with customers. Because to continue our growth we know we have to give you an obviously better value in product and in price.

How can Rambler give you more than the "Big Two"? It's a matter of dollars and cents.

Every completely new car in the past three years including the Lincoln Continental and Thunderbird has copied Rambler's modern principle of Single-Unit construction.

To convert from old-fashioned separate body-and-frame production lines to single-unit production requires hundreds of millions of dollars for retooling.

Our modern production lines have already been fully paid for. Therefore, we can spend our money to bring you important new benefits and keep our prices low. The records show that our two major competitors have increased prices on their low priced standard models about 50% more than Rambler in the period from 1955 to 1961.

This is one way in which Rambler has been sharing progress with customers.

We must be offering an obviously better value, for in just 12 months, 278,494 owners—of all makes, in all price ranges—switched to Rambler.

Rambler owners—new and old—say they are going to buy Rambler again. In owner loyalty, Rambler continues its big lead over ALL makes of cars — DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN, REGARDLESS OF PRICE—according to a recent survey for a national magazine.

With Rambler-pioneered Single-Unit construction, Rambler owners can keep their cars longer with fewer worries about rattles, rust and cost.

Rambler is the only U.S. car with Deep-Dip rustproofing clear to the roof. The only car with Ceramic-Armored muffler and tailpipe. For the original buyer, it will be replaced free by a Rambler dealer if it ever rusts out (collision damage excepted).

For 1962, we have spend huge sums of money . . . largely for "under-the-skin" improvements which assure longer car life, greater safety, lower upkeep, more trouble-free, service-free driving; easier handling, better performance and superior comfort.

In the 1962 Ramblers you will find a Double-Safety Brake System, standard. It has a tandem master cylinder. One for front brakes. One for rear brakes. If one system is damaged, the other still works. (There are similar systems on Rolls-Royce, Jaguar and '62 Cadillac.) And self-adjusting brakes that compensate for brake lining wear are also standard.

You will find chassis lubrication on most models that lasts 33 times longer. Many parts are lubricated for life.

In all models, Dowgard Full-Fill Engine Coolant replaces both water and anti-freeze at low cost, and is good for 2 years.

There's much, much more—important improvements "under-the-skin" and in exterior and interior beauty.

October 6th is the 1962 Rambler announcement date. It is well worth waiting for. In the meantime send for a free booklet entitled, "What's New In Rambler For '62—And Why." Then "Think Hard." Rambler's better value can save you hundreds of dollars. Write to: Rambler Booklet, Dept. 2, Box 531, American Motors Sales Corp., Detroit 32, Michigan.

Building Service Employes Bargain For New Contract

The Building Service Employee's International Union, AFL-CIO Local 493, this weekend held a negotiating meeting with several companies and their attorneys in order to work out an industry wide contract, covering the workers employed in the Hudson Valley. The meeting held at the Manchester Road office of Eastern Cleaning Company of Poughkeepsie resulted in the presentation of Union demands to be contained in the new contract.

Attending the meeting were Union Representative Jack Campbell, business agent; Jesse Perry, president of the Poughkeepsie Division and Larry Marino, secretary-treasurer of the Kingston Division. Also present and representing the companies, were Attorney Joseph H. Gellert of Poughkeepsie and Attorney Joseph Sint of New York City; Edward Berns and Leonard Bard of the Eastern Cleaning Company of Poughkeepsie and James Sheridan and Patrick Sheridan of the Emerald Cleaners of Poughkeepsie.

The Union demands included wage increases, insurance benefits, holidays sick leave and vacation pay benefits as well as seniority rights.

Campbell and Bard reported progress and it is the Union's desire to have the new contract completed before October 16. Some 600 workers are employed in the industry in the Hudson Valley and the results are to be presented to each division for consideration by the members.

Upstaters Are Called to Talk At Rail Hearing

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission called Upstate New Yorkers today as witnesses concerning the New York Central Railroad's fight for control of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

Representatives of industrial and commercial companies were expected to support the Central's stand, as have Gov. Rockefeller and other officials from New York State.

Today's hearing was the 28th day of testimony in the battle between the Central and the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad over the B&O.

Syracuse Mayor Anthony A. Henninger, six other New York State mayors and Gov. Rockefeller already have testified in Washington in favor of the Central proposal.

The Central maintains that C&O control of the B&O could mean ruinous inroads in Central traffic. It seeks permission either to take control of the B&O or participate in a three-way merger with the C&O and B&O.

Massachusetts government and business leaders backed the Central stand Monday at a hearing in Boston. They also recommended inclusion of other New England Railroads in the proposed merger.

The New England Association of Public Utilities Commissioners said the Central and other roads serving New England have pioneered economic changes, which, sooner or later, other railroads must follow.

To weaken railroads serving New England at this crucial point in their history by creation of a competitive system based upon financial interests of railroads not faced with such economic challenge "would be folly and directly opposed to the public interest," the association said.

The executive director of Massachusetts' Mass Transportation Commission, Joseph F. Maloney, said the commission was worried over the possible destruction of the Central's financial ability to continue passenger and freight service in New England.

Maloney pointed out that New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island had taken specific railroad relief action in the form of tax reductions.

Sinking Highway

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP)—A prehistoric peat bog that went undetected during the building of Interstate 75 has caused about 300 feet of the super highway to sink about a foot in the past year. No serious breaks have occurred but the peat, 30 feet deep in spots, will have to be dug out and replaced with a more substantial foundation.

FIGHT AGAINST HUNGER

Americans like a diet high in animal protein. They dote on steak and chops and hamburger and meaty stews and all the other nutritious delights that come from farm animals. They also, though to a considerably lesser extent, enjoy fish and other seafood. Moreover, they are rich enough to indulge their tastes.

Countless millions of human beings in other parts of the world are not so fortunate. To vast numbers of them, fish is a treat and steak a thing scarcely dreamed of. They starve for the kind of protein we take as a matter of course.

This is a central concern of the world's nutritionists, so much so that the United Nations has sponsored a conference on the use of fish in nutrition. And it is interesting that an American, Secretary of Interior Udall, challenged scientists at this conference to work out better ways of making more fishery products available on a worldwide scale.

Programs to accomplish this would be a most practical contribution to one of the great problems that underlie the cold war. This is the problem of providing greatly improved nutrition for millions in the less developed countries. It is an over-simplification to say that empty stomachs foster communism, but there is a large element of truth in this all the same.

The United States spends enormous sums on the search for ways of fighting disease. This is as it should be. We would also do well, however, to increase our attacks on the basic nutritional problems which, though of comparatively little direct concern to Americans, are a matter of life and death for some other peoples. Hunger, too, is a kind of disease. A cure for it would do more than almost any other single thing to bring about world stability and peace.

The answer to those who wonder "what on earth there is to negotiate about" could be, "Things we might be fighting about."

VENGEANCE IN TURKEY

The hanging of Turkey's former leaders following their trial for alleged crimes against the state has been pushed somewhat into the background by other vital news developments. It is nevertheless important not to lose sight of these events in an important NATO country.

It is likely that the smooth transfer of power from the present military junta to a democratic civilian regime following the elections in October will be hampered by the execution of Adnan Menderes and others. The former prime minister enjoyed great popularity. The harsh sentences, untempered by mercy, may well lead to other blood letting in the months ahead.

Turkish politics is a tough business. The Turks are a tough people to whom the concept of vengeance is familiar. It will not be at all surprising if there are many eager and willing to exact vengeance for the blood of those executed.

This is not to say that Turkey will be in such domestic turmoil that her effectivenes as an ally of the West will be seriously impaired. But democracy is not taking root easily in the land that Ataturk so dramatically hustled into the 20th century. Anything that makes the establishment of democracy more difficult—and a blood vendetta would certainly be such a thing—works against the interests of the world's free nations.

Khrushchev suggests that East and West sit down at a round conference table. The West prefers that everything be on the square.

Before starting a national austerity program Britain boosted postal rates—thus making it harder for critics to send letters of protest.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

TRIALS ARE TROUBLESOME

In the record of the General Walker case appease the following paragraph of a statement by the Acting Judge Advocate:

"Although the file does . . . contain an overall indication of Hatch Act and related violations, the detailed evidence in this respect is not developed, and it is noticed that many of the witnesses, at the time of the investigation, were already claiming recollection difficulties. It is obvious that any trial for such violations would be a most difficult and prolonged undertaking, fraught with intense and emotional publicity, certainly unfavorable to the government, at least in part. A conviction would be by no means a certain result, and even if a conviction were obtained the sentence would probably amount to no more than a reprimand in view of General Walker's brilliant combat record and sincerity of purpose in attempting to fight communism."

This is, indeed, a curious argument. A trial would be costly, as all trials are. It would be embarrassing as most trials are. It would develop mass emotions which such trials do. Also there is no guarantee of conviction. Therefore, admonish General Walker; smear him; make him appear to be a madman; but keep him on the job. Apparently then there would be no excitement and no publicity. Surely whoever conceived this childishness after 922 pages of testimony was taken from 40 witnesses and 229 exhibits were introduced, deserves to be taken out of a position where he can ruin men of valor. How is it possible to maintain the morale of our armed forces if such cases as that of General Billy Mitchell, General Douglas MacArthur, General Walker are examples set before officers?

Senator Harry Byrd thought that the 922 pages of testimony in the General Walker case be made public. Senator Byrd said that the public should know about it.

According to Secretary of Defense McNamara:

"There are, to the best of my knowledge . . . no restrictions other than, I think, the restriction that any responsible officer of our Military Establishment would recognize a restriction of good judgment and restraint in a period of tension and crisis in the world. But, to the best of my knowledge, there are no specific written instructions."

If that is so, how is an officer to know what is permissible and what is verboten? If a general is required to indoctrinate his troops against the enemy, what is he not to say? What is good judgement about Karl Marx, Stalin or even Khrushchev?

Did General Walker exceed his responsibility and authority? It could not be if the testimony of Secretary McNamara before the Senate Armed Services Committee is correct. The Secretary said:

"The responsibility for the training of the troops is with the local commanders. They are given considerable latitude in developing specific training programs to fit the needs of their personnel and their environment.

"What I have to say will be somewhat more general in character and might respond directly to your question because these programs will vary rather substantially as between commands and as between services."

In other words, General Walker could use his own judgement within the margins of good taste. However, it was brought out that speeches with foreign policy implication go to the State Department for approval. How is it possible for a military man to give his troops an anti-Communist indoctrination course without saying something negative about Soviet Russia or Red China? The censors in the State Department are Philip H. Burris, Director of the Office of Policy Plans and Guidance, who reports to Assistant Secretary of State Roger Tubby. The theory of this operation is that military men may talk out of turn, might say things which could do harm, particularly during a period of delicate negotiations.

But the question must arise as to who does the censoring. Is the censor a competent person? Is he himself sufficiently informed to censor a man like Admiral Burke, for instance?

This question was brought to a climax when Senator Thurmond asked:

"To what source do you turn to determine the scope of foreign policy?"

Secretary McNamara has described sources as:

"The men who have the responsibility for reviewing my public speeches and the public speeches of other civilian and military officials of the department, utilize, among other materials in determining whether these are in accordance with national policy, the National Security Council directives, the Joint Chiefs of Staff directives, the statements of the President, the statements of the Secretary of State."

But such material is not likely to be available to every military man who is called upon to make an indoctrination speech. He is more likely to get his information from newspapers and magazines, from general reading. If the government seeks to engage in indoctrination courses, these should be correctly arranged and correlated and not left to each man to decide for himself. If it is left to each general officer, then he should not be punished for reaching conclusions different from those of the State Department or Pentagon censors.

Change in Tuberculin Test Is No Cause for Alarm

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My daughter is in nurses' training. When she went in, she had a tuberculin skin test and it was reported negative. Now, a year later, it was repeated and it's positive and she's being given pills to take. Does this mean she has T.B.? If she has, why are they letting her continue her course? If she hasn't, why are they giving her treatment?

A—I don't blame you for beng confused, dear mother. But what is being done is in the best interests of your daughter as well as the community. Let me try to explain.

The fact that the skin test changed from negative indicates that your daughter has now developed a successful defense mechanism against the tubercle bacillus. To do this, she must have met the organism and conquered it.

She must be free from any symptoms or signs of active infection if the school physician and authorities permit her to continue her studies and her work.

It is now the policy of most experts to supplement the defenses of those who convert from a negatve to a positive reaction by giving mouth doses of a safe and inexpensive drug (isoniazid) that is a powerful enemy of tubercle bacili.

Rest secure in the belief that your daughter is in competent hands and that it is consistent with good practice to have her take the drug and continue her studies and her work all at the same time.

Q—Does cigarette smoking by a pregnant woman have any bad effect on the infant.

A—While an occasional cigarette has no demonstrable effect on a pregnancy, regular use of a pack a day or more results in lesser weight of the newborn, as compared with babies of nonsmokers, and a higher incidence of prematurity.

For example, studies made at the Baltimore City Hospital showed an increase in the rate of prematurity from 11,2 per cent in nonsmokers to 22.9 per cent in a pack-a-day smokers.

Certainly this doubing of the rate cannot lightly be dismissed by any impartial observer or by any woman who hopes to give her infant the best possible start in the difficult world in which it is to live.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — When Congress has gone home and cooled down a bit from all its fuss and fuming, it may be recognized that the handling of foreign aid legislation this year was the result of democratic processes working as they're supposed to work. They offer an example any government might well follow.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S NO. 1 foreign aid problem this year was obtaining congressional authority for long-term commitments.

This was not a unique problem with him. Ever since the Marshall Plan days, it has become increasingly apparent that building a new country's economy cannot be done on a piecemeal or year-to-year basis.

President Eisenhower, and President Truman before him, had repeatedly asked Congress to make long-term foreign loans. The lawmakers consistently refused to consider the requests.

They were jealous of their own power to appropriate government funds and fearful that an executive given a blank check for foreign aid might indulge in uncontrolled waste.

THIS IS WHY THE FOUNDING FATHERS, in their infinite wisdom, set up their constitutional system of checks and balances.

Knowing that Congress would not change its opposition, Kennedy sought another way out of his dilemma. He proposed that foreign aid lending agencies be given authority to make direct long-term loans, without going through the long slow process of annual appropriations.

The money to finance these loans would not come from increasing taxes, but from borrowing by the U. S. Treasury. This increases the public debt by so-called "back door financing."

Congress has approved it in the past for its own pet projects, but usually for smaller sums.

What the President asked for on March 22 was authority to borrow $8.8 billion from the Treasury over the next five years for financing long term, low interest or interest-free loans, repayable in dollars, to develop the economies of friendly foreign countries.

HE WAS ACTING COMPLETELY WITHIN his constitutional authority in making this request, since he considered it necessary for the promotion of United States foreign policy. But Congress was equally within its rights in opposing the request, if the lawmakers considered it unsound.

After five months of hearings, testimony by those favoring or opposing foreign aid and prolonged debate over the back door financing provisions, Senate and House passed widely varying versions of a foreign aid bill.

In conference, committees from the two houses worked out their compromise. The authority to finance long-term foreign development programs by Treasury borrowing was stricken out. In its place, provision was made for financing the programs by congressional appropriations. This is sound financing. This is the way it should have been in the first place.

It is considered unfortunate that the President had to obtain what he and his predecessors had wanted by a back door approach. But in the long run it worked.

The amount authorized for this financing over the five-year period has been cut from the requested $8.8 billion to $7.2 billion. This will be cut some millions further in the final appropriation bill, but that is not considered important.

What is important is that a sound solution was arrived at by proposal, counterproposal and unlimited debate in the democratic process.

It is an example of executive and legislative branches of government working in conflict but at their best, for the good of the country.

The President's Speech Called of Surpassing Merit

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Great speeches by spokesmen for modern governments are rare. But when such an address is made, it is quickly recognizable as a work of transcedent merit.

This appraisal may readily be given with respect to the address of President Kennedy before the General Assembly of the United Nations. For he expressed in words, as the President of the United States, what the people of this country really feel during the current period of tension in international affairs.

Oratorical at times, epigrammatic in its phrasing, but comprehensive in its treatment of the issues of the day, the speech stated unequivocally American ideals and American purposes. While severely critical of the Soviet Union's policies, it was dignified in its restraint yet unmistakable in its meaning.

The address will have worldwide repercussions. For it will be widely rebroadcast and will be read throughout the free world, though unhappily the Soviets will keep their own people from hearing or reading the hopeful and helpful pronouncement which could be made the basis of a real peace if the Soviet people could exert upon their government the influence that is directed every day toward free governments.

Some Excerpts

Excerpts do not do justice to the text of the whole of the President's address, but there were certain passages which are examples of directness and forthrightness in defining the controversies of the day. He said, for instance, to the so-called "nonaligned" nations:

"In this hall there are not three forces, but two. One is composed of those who are trying to build the kind of world described in Articles I and II of the Charter. The other, seeking a far different world, would undermine this organization (the U. N.) in the process."

As for the suggestion of the Soviets that the office of Secretary general be a three-headed affair, with an official from each of the Communist, the Western and the "neutral" blocs, like the "troika"—the Russian vehicle drawn by three horses abreast—Mr. Kennedy made this caustic comment:

"Even the three horses of the 'troika' did not have three drivers, all going in different directions. They had only one—and so must the United Nations executive".

Most eloquent and emotional was the President's treatment of the whole armament question as he said:

"Men no longer debate whether armaments are a symptom or a cause of tension. The mere existence of modern weapons—ten million times more powerful than anything that the world has ever seen, and only minutes away from any target on earth—is a source of horror and discord and distrust. . . .

"But we are well aware that all issues of principle are not settled—and that principles alone are not enough. It is therefore our intention to challenge the Soviet Union, not to an arms race, but to a peace race—to advance together step by step, stage by stage, until general and complete disarmament has been achieved."

Asks Steady Reduction

The President was not dismayed by the argument that a utopian condition cannot possibly be attained. He called for a program of "steady reduction in forces, both nuclear and conventional, until it has abolished all armies and all weapons except those needed for internal order and a new United Nations peace force." Mr. Kennedy insisted that this wouldn't "usher in the era of the super-state—but it would usher in an era in which no state could annihilate or be annihilated by another."

Perhaps the President was at his best when he lashed out at the hypocrisy of the Communists as they mischievously champion the cause against "colonialism" in other lands. He said on this point:

". . . There is no ignoring the fact that the tide of self-determination has not reached the Communist empire where a population far larger than that officially termed 'dependent' lives under governments installed by foreign troops instead of free institutions — under a system which knows only one party and one belief—which surpresses free debate and free elections and free newspapers and free books and free trade unions—and which builds a wall to keep truth a stranger and its own citizens prisoners. Let us debate colonialism in full—and apply the principle of free choice and the practice of free plebiscites in every corner of the globe."

Firmness on Berlin

But, lest any one think the glow of idealism in the speech might divert attention from the basic resoluteness of the United States and the West to defend their rights in Berlin, the President pointed out that "terror is not a new weapon" and has been tried before and failed "either because men are not afraid to die for a life worth living—or because the terrorists themselves came to realize that free men cannot be frightened by threats, and that aggression would meet its own response." He concluded with this warning to Moscow:

"And it is in the light of that history that every nation today should know, be he friend or foe, that the United States has both the will and the weapons to join free men in standing up to their responsibilities."

As said before, the entire speech merits careful reading. It has been in preparation for a long time. It represents the composite thought of many advisers from both parties, inside and outside the government. It also reflects accurately at this time the public opinion of the United States.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Back in 1915, automobile news, had its own column in the Kingston Freeman June 15. One item reads: "Forsyth and Davis have sold to O. R. Hiltebrant of this city, a five passenger, Model 7, Franklin touring car. Mr. Davis, with Mr. and Mrs. Hiltebrant drove the car to Kingston from the factory on Thursday, making the 208 miles in 7 hours."

June 4, 1915, there was a large advertisement reading "Down goes the price in automobiles, owing to the enormous increase of the manufacturing facilities of the Chevrolet Motor Co. They have decided to give the buying public, the benefit and therefore have instructed us to sell from June 1, the Baby Grand 5-passenger Touring Car, formerly sold for $985 F.O.B. now $750. The Royal Mail Roadster, a 2-passenger, formerly sold for $860 F.O.B. now $720. If your intention is set upon buying a car this year, there is no better time than the present. See Stryker and Youmans, 75 Furnace Strreet, for a demonstration or phone them for further particulars, phone, residence 181-J or garage 1216-W."

Wall Street was a busy place in those days. Van Wagenen's were having a cut glass sale, "Not a piece selling regularly for less than $4.50, many selling for $10 and $12.50. Your choice while they last $2.98. No reservations, no phone or mail orders, no exchanges. All new, fresh glassware." Those who own cut glass of years back can now realize that even then items were expensive.

Here is an item from the social page from that same paper. "Superintendent F. E. Kelsey of Fitzpatrick and Draper's Cigar Factory on Mill Street celebrated his 72nd birthday Wednesday. He surprised his 96 employes at the factory by giving each one a box of Headley's chocolates. In return the employes surprised him with a big bunch of 72 American beauty roses." The paper is dated Friday, June 11, 1915.

In the June 15, 1915, local paper there was a write-up on the epidemic, and a list of all those who were quarantined. They mention diphtheria, measles, scarlet fever and small pox. I wonder how many remember, years back, anyone having such sicknesses like measles, a Board of Health official came and nailed a "Keep Out" sign on the apartment or home. I guess you could not go back to school unless you were OK'd by the physician.

I see they had chain stores on Wall Street in 1915 also. Savard and McCarthy were operators of nine stores. Their Kingston store was at 324 Wall Street and also had a 316 Fair Street address. They were featuring besides men's suits, "soft shirts with soft cuff, light and clever for $1 and $1.50. They also had, "new summer-silk, four-in-hand ties, dark blue with white dots 50 cents," and "Lamson- Hubbard Straw hats were $1.50 to $5."

Carl's Millinery Department was having a sale on Panama hats for $2.50 and real South American Panama hats for $2.97. The latest fad of 1915, the corduroy tam was 79 cents. Auto caps, hoods and veils were 50 cents to $3.50. "With every $1 purchase, we will give free a yard hat, for woman or child, during the sale" was the Carl Millinery come-on in the advertisement.

FIGHT AGAINST HUNGER

Americans like a diet high in animal protein. They dote on steak and chops and hamburger and meaty stews and all the other nutritious delights that come from farm animals. They also, though to a considerably lesser extent, enjoy fish and other seafood. Moreover, they are rich enough to indulge their tastes.

Countless millions of human beings in other parts of the world are not so fortunate. To vast numbers of them, fish is a treat and steak a thing scarcely dreamed of. They starve for the kind of protein we take as a matter of course.

This is a central concern of the world's nutritionists, so much so that the United Nations has sponsored a conference on the use of fish in nutrition. And it is interesting that an American, Secretary of Interior Udall, challenged scientists at this conference to work out better ways of making more fishery products available on a worldwide scale.

Programs to accomplish this would be a most practical contribution to one of the great problems that underlie the cold war. This is the problem of providing greatly improved nutrition for millions in the less developed countries. It is an over-simplification to say that empty stomachs foster communism, but there is a large element of truth in this all the same.

The United States spends enormous sums on the search for ways of fighting disease. This is as it should be. We would also do well, however, to increase our attacks on the basic nutritional problems which, though of comparatively little direct concern to Americans, are a matter of life and death for some other peoples. Hunger, too, is a kind of disease. A cure for it would do more than almost any other single thing to bring about world stability and peace.

The answer to those who wonder "what on earth there is to negotiate about" could be, "Things we might be fighting about."

VENGEANCE IN TURKEY

The hanging of Turkey's former leaders following their trial for alleged crimes against the state has been pushed somewhat into the background by other vital news developments. It is nevertheless important not to lose sight of these events in an important NATO country.

It is likely that the smooth transfer of power from the present military junta to a democratic civilian regime following the elections in October will be hampered by the execution of Adnan Menderes and others. The former prime minister enjoyed great popularity. The harsh sentences, untempered by mercy, may well lead to other blood letting in the months ahead.

Turkish politics is a tough business. The Turks are a tough people to whom the concept of vengeance is familiar. It will not be at all surprising if there are many eager and willing to exact vengeance for the blood of those executed.

This is not to say that Turkey will be in such domestic turmoil that her effectivenes as an ally of the West will be seriously impaired. But democracy is not taking root easily in the land that Ataturk so dramatically hustled into the 20th century. Anything that makes the establishment of democracy more difficult—and a blood vendetta would certainly be such a thing—works against the interests of the world's free nations.

Khrushchev suggests that East and West sit down at a round conference table. The West prefers that everything be on the square.

Before starting a national austerity program Britain boosted postal rates—thus making it harder for critics to send letters of protest.

TRIALS ARE TROUBLESOME

In the record of the General Walker case appease the following paragraph of a statement by the Acting Judge Advocate:

"Although the file does . . . contain an overall indication of Hatch Act and related violations, the detailed evidence in this respect is not developed, and it is noticed that many of the witnesses, at the time of the investigation, were already claiming recollection difficulties. It is obvious that any trial for such violations would be a most difficult and prolonged undertaking, fraught with intense and emotional publicity, certainly unfavorable to the government, at least in part. A conviction would be by no means a certain result, and even if a conviction were obtained the sentence would probably amount to no more than a reprimand in view of General Walker's brilliant combat record and sincerity of purpose in attempting to fight communism."

This is, indeed, a curious argument. A trial would be costly, as all trials are. It would be embarrassing as most trials are. It would develop mass emotions which such trials do. Also there is no guarantee of conviction. Therefore, admonish General Walker; smear him; make him appear to be a madman; but keep him on the job. Apparently then there would be no excitement and no publicity. Surely whoever conceived this childishness after 922 pages of testimony was taken from 40 witnesses and 229 exhibits were introduced, deserves to be taken out of a position where he can ruin men of valor. How is it possible to maintain the morale of our armed forces if such cases as that of General Billy Mitchell, General Douglas MacArthur, General Walker are examples set before officers?

Senator Harry Byrd thought that the 922 pages of testimony in the General Walker case be made public. Senator Byrd said that the public should know about it.

According to Secretary of Defense McNamara:

"There are, to the best of my knowledge . . . no restrictions other than, I think, the restriction that any responsible officer of our Military Establishment would recognize a restriction of good judgment and restraint in a period of tension and crisis in the world. But, to the best of my knowledge, there are no specific written instructions."

If that is so, how is an officer to know what is permissible and what is verboten? If a general is required to indoctrinate his troops against the enemy, what is he not to say? What is good judgement about Karl Marx, Stalin or even Khrushchev?

Did General Walker exceed his responsibility and authority? It could not be if the testimony of Secretary McNamara before the Senate Armed Services Committee is correct. The Secretary said:

"The responsibility for the training of the troops is with the local commanders. They are given considerable latitude in developing specific training programs to fit the needs of their personnel and their environment.

"What I have to say will be somewhat more general in character and might respond directly to your question because these programs will vary rather substantially as between commands and as between services."

In other words, General Walker could use his own judgement within the margins of good taste. However, it was brought out that speeches with foreign policy implication go to the State Department for approval. How is it possible for a military man to give his troops an anti-Communist indoctrination course without saying something negative about Soviet Russia or Red China? The censors in the State Department are Philip H. Burris, Director of the Office of Policy Plans and Guidance, who reports to Assistant Secretary of State Roger Tubby. The theory of this operation is that military men may talk out of turn, might say things which could do harm, particularly during a period of delicate negotiations.

But the question must arise as to who does the censoring. Is the censor a competent person? Is he himself sufficiently informed to censor a man like Admiral Burke, for instance?

This question was brought to a climax when Senator Thurmond asked:

"To what source do you turn to determine the scope of foreign policy?"

Secretary McNamara has described sources as:

"The men who have the responsibility for reviewing my public speeches and the public speeches of other civilian and military officials of the department, utilize, among other materials in determining whether these are in accordance with national policy, the National Security Council directives, the Joint Chiefs of Staff directives, the statements of the President, the statements of the Secretary of State."

But such material is not likely to be available to every military man who is called upon to make an indoctrination speech. He is more likely to get his information from newspapers and magazines, from general reading. If the government seeks to engage in indoctrination courses, these should be correctly arranged and correlated and not left to each man to decide for himself. If it is left to each general officer, then he should not be punished for reaching conclusions different from those of the State Department or Pentagon censors.

Change in Tuberculin Test Is No Cause for Alarm

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My daughter is in nurses' training. When she went in, she had a tuberculin skin test and it was reported negative. Now, a year later, it was repeated and it's positive and she's being given pills to take. Does this mean she has T.B.? If she has, why are they letting her continue her course? If she hasn't, why are they giving her treatment?

A—I don't blame you for beng confused, dear mother. But what is being done is in the best interests of your daughter as well as the community. Let me try to explain.

The fact that the skin test changed from negative indicates that your daughter has now developed a successful defense mechanism against the tubercle bacillus. To do this, she must have met the organism and conquered it.

She must be free from any symptoms or signs of active infection if the school physician and authorities permit her to continue her studies and her work.

It is now the policy of most experts to supplement the defenses of those who convert from a negatve to a positive reaction by giving mouth doses of a safe and inexpensive drug (isoniazid) that is a powerful enemy of tubercle bacili.

Let us debate colonialism in full—and apply the principle of free choice and the practice of free plebiscites in every corner of the globe."

Firmness on Berlin

But, lest any one think the glow of idealism in the speech might divert attention from the basic resoluteness of the United States and the West to defend their rights in Berlin, the President pointed out that "terror is not a new weapon" and has been tried before and failed "either because men are not afraid to die for a life worth living—or because the terrorists themselves came to realize that free men cannot be frightened by threats, and that aggression would meet its own response." He concluded with this warning to Moscow:

"And it is in the light of that history that every nation today should know, be he friend or foe, that the United States has both the will and the weapons to join free men in standing up to their responsibilities."

As said before, the entire speech merits careful reading. It has been in preparation for a long time. It represents the composite thought of many advisers from both parties, inside and outside the government. It also reflects accurately at this time the public opinion of the United States.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Back in 1915, automobile news, had its own column in the Kingston Freeman June 15. One item reads: "Forsyth and Davis have sold to O. R. Hiltebrant of this city, a five passenger, Model 7, Franklin touring car. Mr. Davis, with Mr. and Mrs. Hiltebrant drove the car to Kingston from the factory on Thursday, making the 208 miles in 7 hours."

June 4, 1915, there was a large advertisement reading "Down goes the price in automobiles, owing to the enormous increase of the manufacturing facilities of the Chevrolet Motor Co. They have decided to give the buying public, the benefit and therefore have instructed us to sell from June 1, the Baby Grand 5-passenger Touring Car, formerly sold for $985 F.O.B. now $750. The Royal Mail Roadster, a 2-passenger, formerly sold for $860 F.O.B. now $720. If your intention is set upon buying a car this year, there is no better time than the present. See Stryker and Youmans, 75 Furnace Strreet, for a demonstration or phone them for further particulars, phone, residence 181-J or garage 1216-W."

Wall Street was a busy place in those days. Van Wagenen's were having a cut glass sale, "Not a piece selling regularly for less than $4.50, many selling for $10 and $12.50. Your choice while they last $2.98. No reservations, no phone or mail orders, no exchanges. All new, fresh glassware." Those who own cut glass of years back can now realize that even then items were expensive.

Here is an item from the social page from that same paper. "Superintendent F. E. Kelsey of Fitzpatrick and Draper's Cigar Factory on Mill Street celebrated his 72nd birthday Wednesday. He surprised his 96 employes at the factory by giving each one a box of Headley's chocolates. In return the employes surprised him with a big bunch of 72 American beauty roses." The paper is dated Friday, June 11, 1915.

In the June 15, 1915, local paper there was a write-up on the epidemic, and a list of all those who were quarantined. They mention diphtheria, measles, scarlet fever and small pox. I wonder how many remember, years back, anyone having such sicknesses like measles, a Board of Health official came and nailed a "Keep Out" sign on the apartment or home. I guess you could not go back to school unless you were OK'd by the physician.

I see they had chain stores on Wall Street in 1915 also. Savard and McCarthy were operators of nine stores. Their Kingston store was at 324 Wall Street and also had a 316 Fair Street address. They were featuring besides men's suits, "soft shirts with soft cuff, light and clever for $1 and $1.50. They also had, "new summer-silk, four-in-hand ties, dark blue with white dots 50 cents," and "Lamson- Hubbard Straw hats were $1.50 to $5."

Carl's Millinery Department was having a sale on Panama hats for $2.50 and real South American Panama hats for $2.97. The latest fad of 1915, the corduroy tam was 79 cents. Auto caps, hoods and veils were 50 cents to $3.50. "With every $1 purchase, we will give free a yard hat, for woman or child, during the sale" was the Carl Millinery come-on in the advertisement.

So They Say..

We are being told that Laos is not a good place to fight. In my opinion, Laos is a better place to fight than Los Angeles, Havana is better than Houston and Berlin is better than Boston.

Radicalism on the right can be expected to have great mass appeal. It osers the simple solution, easily understood: Scourging of the devils within the body politic or, in the extreme, lashing out at the enemy.

Monopoly Charge Must Be Fought, Says Store Head

GROSSINGER—A united effort by independent retailers, affiliated groups and corporate chains to combat "the strong and growing movement to label the food retailing industry as monopolistic" was urged today by Thomas C. Butler, president of The Grand Union Company.

Delivering the keynote address at the 60th Annual Convention of the New York State Food Merchants Association here today at Grossinger's Hotel, Butler proposed the formation of a "permanent Public and Government Relations Committee representing every segment of the food distribution industry."

"Food costs as related to spendable income have come down steadily," said Butler, "not through legislative fiat but because of honest competition in an open market. Let's tell that story to our elected representatives at the national, state and local level with every resource at our command. Even more importantly let's tell it to the American public."

Butler stressed the lowered percentage of consumer income spent for food, approximately 20 per cent today as compared to 50 per cent three generations ago, as a major reason why "the food retailer is the American housewife's best friend."

Butler's proposal would unite efforts of the National Association of Retail Grocers of the United States, Supermarket Institute, the United States Wholesale Grocers Association, the National American Wholesale Grocers Association, the Cooperative Food Distributors of America and the National Association of Food Chains.

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Services are the fastest growing portion of the economy and today take about 40 cents of every dollar consumers spend. They have provided the biggest increase in the number of jobs. Also they have accounted for much of the rise in the cost of living.

Indications that consumers will pay more than $140 billion this year for all types of services leave some businessmen far from happy. They are the makers of hard goods, like autos and appliances, and the merchants who sell both hard and soft goods.

Less for Merchandise

Their worry: If the consumer spends more and more on services, there is less of his spendable dollar left to go for goods.

But many of the services owe their very being to making and sale of these goods. For example, when you buy a home appliance you please some utility company as well as the merchant and the appliance makers.

You'll be using the services of someone to install the appliance, and in time you're likely to use a repair man. Also you may need the services of a financing company and an insurance company when you buy a car or a major appliance.

May Reduce Services

There's another side to it, as noted today by the economics department of the Chase Manhattan Bank, New York. When you buy an appliance you may be cutting down on the need of some services. Example: The decling importance of domestic service workers. Or when you buy a car, you may cut further into the need for intercity rail and bus transportation.

Expenses Are High

Since 1946 consumer prices as a whole have gone up 52 per cent while the average rise in the service component has been 65 per cent. Department of Labor statistics show a wide variance in the rise of service prices in the last 14 years. Electricity rates on average have risen 11 per cent, while the cost of a hospital room has gone up 205 per cent.

Commerce Department figures show Americans spent $19.6 billion last year for household operation, including electricity, phone, gas and water charges, domestic service and miscellaneous expenses.

Another $20.6 billion went for interest paid on nonmortgage debt, life insurance, legal, investment and bank fees.

Medical service accounted for $16.2 billion. Outlays for hospital care went up most, followed by payments for medical insurance.

Transportation took $10.5 billion recreation $6.4 billion; personal appearance $6.1 billion; religion and welfare $4.7 billion; private education $4.5 billion; and foreign travel $2.6 billion.

In the last 14 years the fastest growing item was interest on nonmortgage debt.

In Any Clash Over Berlin

Joint Chiefs Back Nuclear Weapons If Step Is Necessary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pentagon sources said today the Joint Chiefs of Staff are united in a belief that nuclear weapons should be used if such a step becomes necessary in any military clash with the Soviet Union over Berlin.

These sources said the uniformed chiefs of the Army, Navy and Air Force long have been agreed with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara on this.

The White House, unlike the Kremlin, has not been rattling nuclear weapons during the Berlin crisis. Premier Khrushchev set off outcries of "nuclear blackmail" and "terror tactics" when he talked recently of having the ability to develop a superbomb and bragged that he had the missile power to deliver it to any point on the globe.

But in commenting on the Berlin crisis during his United Nations address Monday, President Kennedy declared every nation should know "the United States has both the will and the weapons to join free men in standing up to their responsibilities."

On the point of willingness to use the U.S. weapons stockpile, the President in effect was replying to criticism in a Senate speech last week by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine. She said the Kennedy administration, in building up U.S. conventional forces, has practically told the Russians "we do not have the will to use nuclear power against them."

McNamara was quoted as calling Sen. Smith's contention nonsense, and saying the United States will respond with whatever weapons and in whatever quantity it considers necessary to protect its freedom and vital interests.

The Pentagon sources expressed puzzlement that there should be any doubt on where the United States stands on the question of using its nuclear punch if necessary.

They recalled that Gen. Lyman L. Limnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, made his position quite clear in mid-August at a briefing for visiting editors. Kennedy was present, the sources said, when Limnitzer spoke.

Nearing Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress inches on today toward adjournment with the foreign aid money bill still not ready for final approval.

House-Senate conferees ended in deadlock Monday night in their effort to resolve differences. One senator reported the conferees were within about $60 million of agreement when the meeting broke up. Originally, the difference between House and Senate bills was more than $500 million.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he would bring up the $1.06 billion supplemental appropriation bill as soon as the Senate met today.

Local Delegates Plan to Attend Kiwanis Parley

Town of Ulster Kiwanis Club will be represented at the 1961 convention of the New York District of Kiwanis International at Kiamesha Lake in session through Wednesday, John Drewes, club president announced today. Monticello Kiwanis Club will be hosts.

Local delegates are William Powers and Harold Macholdt.

Edward C. Keefe, a trustee of Kiwanis International, and Oklahoma City education association director, will be a featured speaker at the three-day meeting. Also on hand will be Don E. Mumford of New York City, a Trustee of Kiwanis International.

Delegates from 305 clubs representing more than 15,000 business and professional leaders will participate in the various sessions. Committee conferences, a discussion of plans for the coming year, consideration of successful community service work, and the election of officers will highlight the program, Drewes said.

Presiding officer will be Salvator Milazzo, Governor of the New York District of Kiwanis.

Syracuse Man Is Indicted for Murder in Taxi

OSWEGO, N.Y. (AP) — A 28-year-old Syracuse lift-truck driver was under a first-degree murder indictment today in the shooting of a taxicab-driver.

The indictment against Garry B. Rhinehart was returned Monday in State Supreme Court.

The body of the taxicab-driver, Frank F. Coolidge, 54, of Syracuse, was found Aug. 9 in his taxi, which had been smashed against a tree along a lonely road near Oswego.

Coolidge had been shot nine times with a .22-caliber target pistol.

Rhinehart was quoted by state police as saying Coolidge "called me a name." Rhinehart had hired Coolidge to drive him from Syracuse to Oswego for $15.

Rhinehart also was indicted on a charge of first-degree assault in the taxi-driver's death.

41-Year Veteran

Engineers, the International Conference on Large Electric High Tension Systems, the American Society for Engineering Education, the Atomic Industrial Forum and the Atomic Technical Committee of Empire State Atomic Development Associates, Inc. He also served as sponsor representative of the Edison Eletcric Institute on the Radio Technical Planning Board.

Underhill, who resides on Clover Hill Road, Town of LaGrange, in past years served as a consultant to the City of Poughkeepsie Police Department, to the Dutchess County Sheriff's Office, to the County Fire Service and to the Town of Poughkeepsie on radio matters.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rebounded smartly early this afternoon from Monday's sharp decline. Trading was quite active.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .90 at 249.20 with industrials up 1.50, rails up .30 and utilities up .30.

Gains of key stocks ran mostly from fractions to about a point while some of the "growth" stocks, which have taken severe losses recently, recouped several points.

Brokers saw it as a technical recovery.

The recovery was fairly unanimous except for aluminums and steels, both affected by price situations in their industries—aluminums by a further price cut and steels by administration hostility to an advance in steel prices.

The trend was higher among motors, chemicals, electrical equipments, drugs, utilities, tobaccos, rubbers, farm implements and electronics.

Coppers, steady at the start, turned mixed as news spread of a cut in the price of copper scrap.

Chemicals put on quite a sturdy performance. Du Pont, Union Carbide and Allied Chemical were all up a point or so.

See Program at Stake

WASHINGTON (AP) — Forty senators—19 Republicans and 21 Democrats—urge President Kennedy to accept the Tariff Commission's recommendation to increase import duties on wilton and velvet carpets.

The commission recently recommended raising the duty from 21 to 40 per cent on the carpets made principally in Belgium and Japan.

In a letter made public Monday, the 40 senators said the spirit of Kennedy's textile industry program is at stake in the carpet import case.

They noted that the commission investigation showed that the domestic wilton and velvet carpet industry has suffered serious economic injury because of imports.

Fresh Foods Help

average city family cost 28 per cent more in August than in the period immediately after World War II.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the net advance for this year stemmed mainly from steady increases in the cost of used cars and the price of various services including rents, medical care, entertainment costs and public transportation.

Sees September Rise

Clague predicted the index will show a rise for September, for two reasons—an increase in used car prices is expected before the arrival of new models on the market, and the introduction of fall clothing lines will boost the apparel index following the late season summer clearance sales.

October's index normally would rise, Clague said, because of new-car models selling at or near their list prices. November and December may bring a downward movement as meat prices fall.

Despite the August living costs decline, about 120,000 workers in aircraft and missile plants and small metal-working firms will get cost-of-living pay boosts under wage contracts tied to quarterly changes in the consumer price index. The quarterly index was up.

Some 100,000 employes of North American, Lockheed and Martin aircraft companies will get a cent hourly increases. About 20,000 workers of Republic Aircraft will receive two cents.

580,000 Due for Hike

The contracts for about 580,000 workers in the steel industry would permit a three-cent increase in hourly pay, but Clague said it is not yet known whether all or part of this increase will go to the workers in cash starting Oct. 1, or will be used up in offsetting the increased costs of insurance for the workers. In December, a three-cent increase was used to cover the insurance rise.

The spendable earnings of factory workers in August were slightly below the record highs of June and July. After deduction of income and Social Security taxes, the average take-home pay of a worker with three dependents was $83.40 a week in August; for a worker with no dependents, $75.79.

Even so, the slight dip in consumer prices brought to factory workers a buying power which was 2½ per cent above a year ago and an August record.

the range will be from wagon travel to various modern type transportation, and in the air will be jets, flying saucers, rockets and other craft.

Fair visitors will be conveyed in suspended vehicles around a 1,500-foot tram "in a circular fashion" to a height of 60 feet. Vehicles will simulate time capsules going from water and ground level into the ionosphere where passengers "will float among the galaxies." Each car will be equipped with repeater type tape recorders and speakers. Atmosphere and sound effects will be geared to children's thinking.

Other Features

In the section also will be entrance and exit plazas, "The Playground of the Future," a snack bar and displays of toys and souvenirs. Lighting and space effects will be ultra modern and dramatic. The upper Hall of Motion will be pitch black.

Along with the four in the Creative Recreational Consultants Group, it was noted, the service of 15 to 20 "qualified specialists" will be used in completing project plans.

It is estimated that 70,000,000 people will attend the fair. This, however, it is also noted, could be conservative, since the attendance at the Chicago fair in 1933 and 1934 was 49,000,000 and that at New York's fair which opened in 1939 was $55,000,000. The new fair is expected to open in April, 1964.

Won't Say When

Adenauer Keeps Foes on Ropes, To Resign Post

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer announced on British television Monday night that he plans to retire. But his statement made no impression on his political opponents today because he failed to say when.

The 85-year-old West German leader told a British television audience he had no intention of remaining chancellor for another four years.

"I've had enough," he said.

This is nothing new. He told his Christian Democratic party recently he would relinquish his office "after a certain time" so that his successor could get used to his job before the next elections in 1965.

Government officials said Adenauer's remarks were recorded last Saturday for the program.

Wilson and St. John Elected GOP Leaders Monday Night

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock was re-elected Ulster County Republican Chairman and Former District Attorney Howard C. St. John of Kingston was named Kingston City Chairman at an organizational meeting of city and county Republicans Monday evening at the county court house.

Following the nomination of County Chairman Wilson by Supervisor Peter Williams of Saugerties, seconded by Frank Muller of Wawarsing and Edward Schoonmaker of Rochester, and his unanimous election, Supervisor Jesse McHugh of Shawangunk was re-elected Ulster County Vice Chairman. Former Mayor Frederick Stang of Kingston placed the name of Jesse McHugh before the meeting and Mrs. Rose LeFevre of Bloomington seconded the nomination.

Cluett Schantz of Marlborough, former Ulster County sheriff, served as temporary chairman of the Republican county meeting and Robert A. Snyder of Saugerties, was temporary chairman of the city meeting. The name of Howard C. St. John was placed before the city meeting by Attorney Ward Ingalsbee Jr., of Kingston, and after being unanimously elected city chairman, St. John presided at the city meeting. An assistant city chairman will be named later by Chairman St. John.

Robert A. Snyder of Saugerties, clerk of the board of supervisors, was re-elected secretary and John T. Groves of Port Ewen was re-elected treasurer of the Ulster County Republican Central Committee.

Following the election of Chairman Wilson, he re-appointed Mrs. Rose LeFever of Bloomington vice-chairman of the County Committee and Judge Sterley as assistant county chairman. Judge Sterley recently resigned as Kingston City chairman due to the press of business and he was succeeded by Howard C. St. John who served as acting city chairman until his election Monday to the office of City Chairman.

Republican city and county candidates were present at the well attended meeting and were introduced.

500-Million Mark Reached in Sale Of Israel Bonds

Alfred D. Ronder, chairman of the State of Israel Bond program for 1961 in the Kingston area, announced today that Israel Bond sales have reached the $500,000,000 figure. This total is a result of 10 years of intensive effort in the sale of Israel Bonds in 29 countries.

Ronder announced that the new goal for the next seven years is to reach the $1,000,000,000 mark. He said "Israel Bonds have been the bone and sinew of the State of Israel's development. These bonds pay 5 per cent interest on a cumulative basis and are used to develop new housing for immigrants, new agricultural resources, new factories, build new cities, harbors and in general are the basis for the State of Israel's economic progress during the past 10 years."

Ronder explained that Israel Bonds may be used for all expenses on a visit to Israel; may be used as collateral on a loan up to 75 per cent; and are payable in full plus all interest on the decease of the bondholder. Ronder also stated that today over 1,100,000 American families own Israel Bonds.

Chairman Ronder has announced that a whole series of events will soon take place in the Kingston community for Israel Bonds in celebration of Israel's 13th anniversary. Bonds may be purchased by contacting him at 286 Clinton Avenue, or any member of the committee.

Find Valatie Man Dead in Auto

A 41-year-old Valatie man was found dead Monday at 3:55 p. m. in his automobile parked on the lawn at the rear of his home.

Trooper Paul Ellis of Claverack identified the man as John Russman of Valatie. Russman's wife died unexpectedly about three months ago of a heart attack, troopers said.

According to troopers, a piece of hose was found attached to the exhaust pipe of the automobile and extended through the back into the car.

The body was found by a neighbor identified as Carol Dahlgren, who notified state police.

Columbia County Coroner Robert Near said death was due to carbon monoxide gas poisoning. He gave a verdict of suicide, troopers said.

operated by the State University College of Education at Albany. Teacher-trainees use it for practice teaching.

Hamilton said admission policies at the school had been established some time ago and agreed that the standards discriminated against many applicants.

But he said he felt the discrimination was not based on racial grounds. He added that admission policies at other practice schools in the state university would be reviewed.

Meanwhile, a Negro girl whose complaint touched off the investigation of admission policies at Milne will enter it next week. The Education Department did not uphold her charge that she was rejected previously on the ground of race.

May Take to Air

WASHINGTON (AP)—American nuclear tests in the atmosphere will be necessary shortly if the Soviets fail to accept President Kennedy's new challenge to halt atmospheric shots, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said today.

Jackson, who heads a Senate-House Atomic Weapons subcommittee, said Kennedy was taking a calculated, but relatively minor, risk when he told the United Nations Monday this country and Great Britain are prepared to sign immediately a treaty to ban testing of all kinds. The Soviets have rejected the proposed treaty.

Review Is . . .

were matters strictly within the jurisdiction of the Ulster County Health Department."

"In the papers submitted to Judge Bruhn, it was charged that the Ulster County Health Department had made percolation and other subsurface tests and had approved the subdivision and the adequacy of the planned sewage disposal systems on June 1, 1961. It was further alleged," the petitioner's statement says, "that the Health Department had so advised the Planning Board and had made all this information available to that Board. Further, it was alleged that the Planning Board's experts were in a position to make such tests and studies independently, if the information was really needed by the Board in order to make a decision." No law or rule, according to petitioners, requires them to supply such information.

Point to Conditional Approval

"The legal papers also allege that the Planning Board on June 18, 1961, had given its conditional approval of the map, subject to the developer donating to the Town a public area for park purposes, or in the alterative, that it pay to the Town of Woodstock a sum equal to 10 per cent of the selling price of the lots. This would require the developer to pay $3,300 to the town," the statement says.

"If every developer, according to the papers, were required to give the Town a park area, the town would be dotted with a series of small parks which the Town would have to maintain thereafter at the taxpayers' expense. Such a requirement, according to the applicant, was absurd and unreasonable."

More of Statement

The statement issued by Ulster Homes, Inc., continues:

"The developer declined to dedicate any of its land for park purposes or to pay the sum of money demanded upon the grounds that under a recent supreme court decision such requirements had been held to be beyond the power of a Planning Board to impose."

"The petition to the court charged that after the applicants refused to comply with the Board's demand for the gratuitous donation of a park area or the payment of a sum of money, the Board apparently abandoned its demands in that regard and sought other, but specious reasons for disapproving the application.

Call Demands Discriminatory

It is also alleged in the statement "that certain members of the Board have been urging the adoption of a comprehensive Zoning and Ordinance for the Town of Woodstock and despite the fact that the Town Board has not so far adopted such an ordinance, Board members have sought to exercise the powers of a Zoning Board in disapproving the application."

In the papers submitted to Justice Bruhn, it is alleged, "the Board's decision of disapproval is to have been arbitrary, illegal and capricious because, in the case of other developers who sought plat approval, no demands were made by the Board that such other developers donate an area of theirs; and for public parks, or as an alternative, pay the Town 10 per cent of the value of the land."

"Nor were other developers required to produce information as to percolation tests, sub-surface conditions or the number of bedrooms in each house proposed to be erected. Only upon the petitioners," according to the papers, "were such discriminatory demands made."

The Petitioners, Ulster Homes, Inc., were represented at Albany before Justice Bruhn by John E. Egan.

Reds in Appeal To Halt Tests

VIENNA, Austria (AP) —The East-West International Atomic Energy Agency opened its fifth general conference today with a Communist's appeal to the world's powers to stop nuclear testing and work jointly for general disarmament.

The conference's outgoing president, Georgii Nadjakov, chief delegate of Communist Bulgaria, said in his opening address that the big powers "have stocked up enough nuclear material to plunge the world into a catastrophe if common sense bows to madness." Nadjekov charged "certain delegates here are not eager to seek the most reasonable solution to this burdensome problem." It was obvious he meant the Western powers.

The conference then elected Argentina's chief delegate, Rear Adm. Oscar A. Quihillalt, president of the conference.

The 76-nation conference is an affiliate of the United Nations.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

Industry Climb Might Stop Further Decline

Q) "I purchased 100 shares of Bethlehem Steel as an investment. The reduced earnings of the company and the price action of the stock have worried me. Should I take my loss now, or is the stock worthy of recovery?" L.S., A.M., C.R.

A) Bethlehem Steel has not lived up to previous expectations, and a number of my readers have asked whether they should continue to hold the shares.

Personally I find it hard to become enthusiastic over Bethlehem Steel as an investment. Earnings have been in a general downtrend since 1957, and there is no positive assurance—despite a strong business comeback—that this tendency has been reversed.

In July, Bethlehem's directors declared the usual 60 cent quarterly dividend despite the fact that it had not been earned. The company is in strong financial condition, and such a move was justified if the directors felt that business was going to pick up during the coming months. However, the investment community has yet to be convinced.

A major investment trust recently eliminated all its very considerable holdings of Bethlehem. The shares continue to be under selling pressure, and the yield currently approaches 6 per cent, which is an indication of doubt — in today's market—as to the security of the dividend.

Now, it is likely that the demand for steel will continue to rise and that company earnings will benefit as the year progresses. If this happens, the shares are also likely to show some gains. I would not sell Bethlehem at this juncture. However, I would seriously consider a switch if—and when—the shares do recover, say to around 50.

Q) "In 1958, I bought J. I. Case at $23½. The present price is around $9. I do not want to take such a capital loss but it is beginning to look hopeless. Should I sell?" G.D.

A) J. I. Case has had some tough problems to cope with, and a turn for the better is not yet in sight. Your paper loss is large but the shares probably won't decline too much further. I recommend that you hold Case in anticipation of an eventual comeback.

VA Pensions May Be Affected by Social Security

Recent changes in the Social Security Law might well have a drastic effect on Veterans Administration pension benefits payable to widows and other selected claimants.

This is the advice given by George M. Vadas, manager of the Albany Veterans Administration regional office to F. William Sheehan of the Kingston VA in the central post office here.

The general public, in many instances, Vadas said, is not aware that Social Security benefits are considered income in determining VA pension benefits, nor are they aware of the necessity of prompt notice to the VA relative to changes in their income status.

Vadas pointed out that in view of the prescribed increases authorized by the new amendments to the Social Security Law, it is imperative that all beneficiaries currently in receipt of VA pension benefits, who received such increases under these amendments, review their income status and, if necessary, promptly contact the Veterans Administration.

Complete information and assistance may be furnished by visiting the Veterans Administration, 496 Broadway, here.

N. Y. Speeding Return Of Relief Hopefuls

NEW YORK (AP) — City and state officials are speeding the return to other states and Puerto Rico of families they say come to New York and go on relief but make no attempt to find work.

Peter Kasius, deputy state welfare commissioner, disclosed Monday that 142 welfare applicants returned — at New York's taxpayers' expense—to their home states and Puerto Rico in the past two months.

Of these, Kasius said, 43 returned to Puerto Rico and 52 to Southern states.

Kasius' disclosure followed charges last week by officials in New York that some states were laying out money for welfare recipients to come here.

Ulster Democrats Honor Couple at Recent Meeting

The regular meeting of the Town of Ulster Democratic Club was held recently at Democratic Headquarters at Esopus Avenue and Albany Avenue Extension. A large group of members and friends attended.

In Any Clash Over Berlin

Joint Chiefs Back Nuclear Weapons If Step Is Necessary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pentagon sources said today the Joint Chiefs of Staff are united in a belief that nuclear weapons should be used if such a step becomes necessary in any military clash with the Soviet Union over Berlin.

These sources said the uniformed chiefs of the Army, Navy and Air Force long have been agreed with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara on this.

The White House, unlike the Kremlin, has not been rattling nuclear weapons during the Berlin crisis. Premier Khrushchev set off outcries of "nuclear blackmail" and "terror tactics" when he talked recently of having the ability to develop a superbomb and bragged that he had the missile power to deliver it to any point on the globe.

But in commenting on the Berlin crisis during his United Nations address Monday, President Kennedy declared every nation should know "the United States has both the will and the weapons to join free men in standing up to their responsibilities."

On the point of willingness to use the U.S. weapons stockpile, the President in effect was replying to criticism in a Senate speech last week by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine. She said the Kennedy administration, in building up U.S. conventional forces, has practically told the Russians "we do not have the will to use nuclear power against them."

McNamara was quoted as calling Sen. Smith's contention nonsense, and saying the United States will respond with whatever weapons and in whatever quantity it considers necessary to protect its freedom and vital interests.

The Pentagon sources expressed puzzlement that there should be any doubt on where the United States stands on the question of using its nuclear punch if necessary.

They recalled that Gen. Lyman L. Limnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, made his position quite clear in mid-August at a briefing for visiting editors. Kennedy was present, the sources said, when Limnitzer spoke.

Nearing Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress inches on today toward adjournment with the foreign aid money bill still not ready for final approval.

House-Senate conferees ended in deadlock Monday night in their effort to resolve differences. One senator reported the conferees were within about $60 million of agreement when the meeting broke up. Originally, the difference between House and Senate bills was more than $500 million.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he would bring up the $1.06 billion supplemental appropriation bill as soon as the Senate met today.

Local Delegates Plan to Attend Kiwanis Parley

Town of Ulster Kiwanis Club will be represented at the 1961 convention of the New York District of Kiwanis International at Kiamesha Lake in session through Wednesday, John Drewes, club president announced today. Monticello Kiwanis Club will be hosts.

Local delegates are William Powers and Harold Macholdt.

Edward C. Keefe, a trustee of Kiwanis International, and Oklahoma City education association director, will be a featured speaker at the three-day meeting. Also on hand will be Don E. Mumford of New York City, a Trustee of Kiwanis International.

Delegates from 305 clubs representing more than 15,000 business and professional leaders will participate in the various sessions. Committee conferences, a discussion of plans for the coming year, consideration of successful community service work, and the election of officers will highlight the program, Drewes said.

Presiding officer will be Salvator Milazzo, Governor of the New York District of Kiwanis.

Syracuse Man Is Indicted for Murder in Taxi

OSWEGO, N.Y. (AP) — A 28-year-old Syracuse lift-truck driver was under a first-degree murder indictment today in the shooting of a taxicab-driver.

The indictment against Garry B. Rhinehart was returned Monday in State Supreme Court.

The body of the taxicab-driver, Frank F. Coolidge, 54, of Syracuse, was found Aug. 9 in his taxi, which had been smashed against a tree along a lonely road near Oswego.

Coolidge had been shot nine times with a .22-caliber target pistol.

Rhinehart was quoted by state police as saying Coolidge "called me a name." Rhinehart had hired Coolidge to drive him from Syracuse to Oswego for $15.

Rhinehart also was indicted on a charge of first-degree assault in the taxi-driver's death.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rebounded smartly early this afternoon from Monday's sharp decline. Trading was quite active.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .90 at 249.20 with industrials up 1.50, rails up .30 and utilities up .30.

Gains of key stocks ran mostly from fractions to about a point while some of the "growth" stocks, which have taken severe losses recently, recouped several points.

Brokers saw it as a technical recovery.

The recovery was fairly unanimous except for aluminums and steels, both affected by price situations in their industries—aluminums by a further price cut and steels by administration hostility to an advance in steel prices.

The trend was higher among motors, chemicals, electrical equipments, drugs, utilities, tobaccos, rubbers, farm implements and electronics.

Coppers, steady at the start, turned mixed as news spread of a cut in the price of copper scrap.

Chemicals put on quite a sturdy performance. Du Pont, Union Carbide and Allied Chemical were all up a point or so.

See Program at Stake

WASHINGTON (AP) — Forty senators—19 Republicans and 21 Democrats—urge President Kennedy to accept the Tariff Commission's recommendation to increase import duties on wilton and velvet carpets.

The commission recently recommended raising the duty from 21 to 40 per cent on the carpets made principally in Belgium and Japan.

In a letter made public Monday, the 40 senators said the spirit of Kennedy's textile industry program is at stake in the carpet import case.

They noted that the commission investigation showed that the domestic wilton and velvet carpet industry has suffered serious economic injury because of imports.

Fresh Foods Help

average city family cost 28 per cent more in August than in the period immediately after World War II.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the net advance for this year stemmed mainly from steady increases in the cost of used cars and the price of various services including rents, medical care, entertainment costs and public transportation.

Sees September Rise

Clague predicted the index will show a rise for September, for two reasons—an increase in used car prices is expected before the arrival of new models on the market, and the introduction of fall clothing lines will boost the apparel index following the late season summer clearance sales.

October's index normally would rise, Clague said, because of new-car models selling at or near their list prices. November and December may bring a downward movement as meat prices fall.

Despite the August living costs decline, about 120,000 workers in aircraft and missile plants and small metal-working firms will get cost-of-living pay boosts under wage contracts tied to quarterly changes in the consumer price index. The quarterly index was up.

Some 100,000 employes of North American, Lockheed and Martin aircraft companies will get a cent hourly increases. About 20,000 workers of Republic Aircraft will receive two cents.

580,000 Due for Hike

The contracts for about 580,000 workers in the steel industry would permit a three-cent increase in hourly pay, but Clague said it is not yet known whether all or part of this increase will go to the workers in cash starting Oct. 1, or will be used up in offsetting the increased costs of insurance for the workers. In December, a three-cent increase was used to cover the insurance rise.

The spendable earnings of factory workers in August were slightly below the record highs of June and July. After deduction of income and Social Security taxes, the average take-home pay of a worker with three dependents was $83.40 a week in August; for a worker with no dependents, $75.79.

Even so, the slight dip in consumer prices brought to factory workers a buying power which was 2½ per cent above a year ago and an August record.

Saugerties Man

the range will be from wagon travel to various modern type transportation, and in the air will be jets, flying saucers, rockets and other craft.

Fair visitors will be conveyed in suspended vehicles around a 1,500-foot tram "in a circular fashion" to a height of 60 feet. Vehicles will simulate time capsules going from water and ground level into the ionosphere where passengers "will float among the galaxies." Each car will be equipped with repeater type tape recorders and speakers. Atmosphere and sound effects will be geared to children's thinking.

Other Features

In the section also will be entrance and exit plazas, "The Playground of the Future," a snack bar and displays of toys and souvenirs. Lighting and space effects will be ultra modern and dramatic. The upper Hall of Motion will be pitch black.

Along with the four in the Creative Recreational Consultants Group, it was noted, the service of 15 to 20 "qualified specialists" will be used in completing project plans.

It is estimated that 70,000,000 people will attend the fair. This, however, it is also noted, could be conservative, since the attendance at the Chicago fair in 1933 and 1934 was 49,000,000 and that at New York's fair which opened in 1939 was $55,000,000. The new fair is expected to open in April, 1964.

Adenauer Keeps Foes on Ropes, To Resign Post

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer announced on British television Monday night that he plans to retire. But his statement made no impression on his political opponents today because he failed to say when.

The 85-year-old West German leader told a British television audience he had no intention of remaining chancellor for another four years.

"I've had enough," he said.

This is nothing new. He told his Christian Democratic party recently he would relinquish his office "after a certain time" so that his successor could get used to his job before the next elections in 1965.

Government officials said Adenauer's remarks were recorded last Saturday for the program.

Wilson and St. John Elected GOP Leaders Monday Night

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock was re-elected Ulster County Republican Chairman and Former District Attorney Howard C. St. John of Kingston was named Kingston City Chairman at an organizational meeting of city and county Republicans Monday evening at the county court house.

Following the nomination of County Chairman Wilson by Supervisor Peter Williams of Saugerties, seconded by Frank Muller of Wawarsing and Edward Schoonmaker of Rochester, and his unanimous election, Supervisor Jesse McHugh of Shawangunk was re-elected Ulster County Vice Chairman. Former Mayor Frederick Stang of Kingston placed the name of Jesse McHugh before the meeting and Mrs. Rose LeFevre of Bloomington seconded the nomination.

Cluett Schantz of Marlborough, former Ulster County sheriff, served as temporary chairman of the Republican county meeting and Robert A. Snyder of Saugerties, was temporary chairman of the city meeting. The name of Howard C. St. John was placed before the city meeting by Attorney Ward Ingalsbee Jr., of Kingston, and after being unanimously elected city chairman, St. John presided at the city meeting. An assistant city chairman will be named later by Chairman St. John.

Robert A. Snyder of Saugerties, clerk of the board of supervisors, was re-elected secretary and John T. Groves of Port Ewen was re-elected treasurer of the Ulster County Republican Central Committee.

Following the election of Chairman Wilson, he re-appointed Mrs. Rose LeFever of Bloomington vice-chairman of the County Committee and Judge Sterley as assistant county chairman. Judge Sterley recently resigned as Kingston City chairman due to the press of business and he was succeeded by Howard C. St. John who served as acting city chairman until his election Monday to the office of City Chairman.

Republican city and county candidates were present at the well attended meeting and were introduced.

500-Million Mark Reached in Sale Of Israel Bonds

Alfred D. Ronder, chairman of the State of Israel Bond program for 1961 in the Kingston area, announced today that Israel Bond sales have reached the $500,000,000 figure. This total is a result of 10 years of intensive effort in the sale of Israel Bonds in 29 countries.

Ronder announced that the new goal for the next seven years is to reach the $1,000,000,000 mark. He said "Israel Bonds have been the bone and sinew of the State of Israel's development. These bonds pay 5 per cent interest on a cumulative basis and are used to develop new housing for immigrants, new agricultural resources, new factories, build new cities, harbors and in general are the basis for the State of Israel's economic progress during the past 10 years."

Ronder explained that Israel Bonds may be used for all expenses on a visit to Israel; may be used as collateral on a loan up to 75 per cent; and are payable in full plus all interest on the decease of the bondholder. Ronder also stated that today over 1,100,000 American families own Israel Bonds.

Chairman Ronder has announced that a whole series of events will soon take place in the Kingston community for Israel Bonds in celebration of Israel's 13th anniversary. Bonds may be purchased by contacting him at 286 Clinton Avenue, or any member of the committee.

Find Valatie Man Dead in Auto

A 41-year-old Valatie man was found dead Monday at 3:55 p. m. in his automobile parked on the lawn at the rear of his home.

Trooper Paul Ellis of Claverack identified the man as John Russman of Valatie. Russman's wife died unexpectedly about three months ago of a heart attack, troopers said.

According to troopers, a piece of hose was found attached to the exhaust pipe of the automobile and extended through the back into the car.

The body was found by a neighbor identified as Carol Dahlgren, who notified state police.

Columbia County Coroner Robert Near said death was due to carbon monoxide gas poisoning. He gave a verdict of suicide, troopers said.

Hamilton said admission policies at the school had been established some time ago and agreed that the standards discriminated against many applicants.

But he said he felt the discrimination was not based on racial grounds. He added that admission policies at other practice schools in the state university would be reviewed.

Meanwhile, a Negro girl whose complaint touched off the investigation of admission policies at Milne will enter it next week. The Education Department did not uphold her charge that she was rejected previously on the ground of race.

May Take to Air

WASHINGTON (AP)—American nuclear tests in the atmosphere will be necessary shortly if the Soviets fail to accept President Kennedy's new challenge to halt atmospheric shots, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said today.

Jackson, who heads a Senate-House Atomic Weapons subcommittee, said Kennedy was taking a calculated, but relatively minor, risk when he told the United Nations Monday this country and Great Britain are prepared to sign immediately a treaty to ban testing of all kinds. The Soviets have rejected the proposed treaty.

Review Is . . .

were matters strictly within the jurisdiction of the Ulster County Health Department."

"In the papers submitted to Judge Bruhn, it was charged that the Ulster County Health Department had made percolation and other subsurface tests and had approved the subdivision and the adequacy of the planned sewage disposal systems on June 1, 1961. It was further alleged," the petitioner's statement says, "that the Health Department had so advised the Planning Board and had made all this information available to that Board. Further, it was alleged that the Planning Board's experts were in a position to make such tests and studies independently, if the information was really needed by the Board in order to make a decision." No law or rule, according to petitioners, requires them to supply such information.

Point to Conditional Approval

"The legal papers also allege that the Planning Board on June 18, 1961, had given its conditional approval of the map, subject to the developer donating to the Town a public area for park purposes, or in the alterative, that it pay to the Town of Woodstock a sum equal to 10 per cent of the selling price of the lots. This would require the developer to pay $3,300 to the town," the statement says.

"If every developer, according to the papers, were required to give the Town a park area, the town would be dotted with a series of small parks which the Town would have to maintain thereafter at the taxpayers' expense. Such a requirement, according to the applicant, was absurd and unreasonable."

More of Statement

The statement issued by Ulster Homes, Inc., continues:

"The developer declined to dedicate any of its land for park purposes or to pay the sum of money demanded upon the grounds that under a recent supreme court decision such requirements had been held to be beyond the power of a Planning Board to impose."

"The petition to the court charged that after the applicants refused to comply with the Board's demand for the gratuitous donation of a park area or the payment of a sum of money, the Board apparently abandoned its demands in that regard and sought other, but specious reasons for disapproving the application.

Call Demands Discriminatory

It is also alleged in the statement "that certain members of the Board have been urging the adoption of a comprehensive Zoning and Ordinance for the Town of Woodstock and despite the fact that the Town Board has not so far adopted such an ordinance, Board members have sought to exercise the powers of a Zoning Board in disapproving the application."

In the papers submitted to Justice Bruhn, it is alleged, "the Board's decision of disapproval is to have been arbitrary, illegal and capricious because, in the case of other developers who sought plat approval, no demands were made by the Board that such other developers donate an area of theirs; and for public parks, or as an alternative, pay the Town 10 per cent of the value of the land."

"Nor were other developers required to produce information as to percolation tests, sub-surface conditions or the number of bedrooms in each house proposed to be erected. Only upon the petitioners," according to the papers, "were such discriminatory demands made."

The Petitioners, Ulster Homes, Inc., were represented at Albany before Justice Bruhn by John E. Egan.

Reds in Appeal To Halt Tests

VIENNA, Austria (AP) —The East-West International Atomic Energy Agency opened its fifth general conference today with a Communist's appeal to the world's powers to stop nuclear testing and work jointly for general disarmament.

The conference's outgoing president, Georgii Nadjakov, chief delegate of Communist Bulgaria, said in his opening address that the big powers "have stocked up enough nuclear material to plunge the world into a catastrophe if common sense bows to madness." Nadjekov charged "certain delegates here are not eager to seek the most reasonable solution to this burdensome problem." It was obvious he meant the Western powers.

The conference then elected Argentina's chief delegate, Rear Adm. Oscar A. Quihillalt, president of the conference.

The 76-nation conference is an affiliate of the United Nations.

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I purchased 100 shares of Bethlehem Steel as an investment. The reduced earnings of the company and the price action of the stock have worried me. Should I take my loss now, or is the stock worthy of recovery?" L.S., A.M., C.R.

A) Bethlehem Steel has not lived up to previous expectations, and a number of my readers have asked whether they should continue to hold the shares.

Personally I find it hard to become enthusiastic over Bethlehem Steel as an investment. Earnings have been in a general downtrend since 1957, and there is no positive assurance—despite a strong business comeback—that this tendency has been reversed.

In July, Bethlehem's directors declared the usual 60 cent quarterly dividend despite the fact that it had not been earned. The company is in strong financial condition, and such a move was justified if the directors felt that business was going to pick up during the coming months. However, the investment community has yet to be convinced.

A major investment trust recently eliminated all its very considerable holdings of Bethlehem. The shares continue to be under selling pressure, and the yield currently approaches 6 per cent, which is an indication of doubt — in today's market—as to the security of the dividend.

Now, it is likely that the demand for steel will continue to rise and that company earnings will benefit as the year progresses. If this happens, the shares are also likely to show some gains. I would not sell Bethlehem at this juncture. However, I would seriously consider a switch if—and when—the shares do recover, say to around 50.

Q) "In 1958, I bought J. I. Case at $23½. The present price is around $9. I do not want to take such a capital loss but it is beginning to look hopeless. Should I sell?" G.D.

A) J. I. Case has had some tough problems to cope with, and a turn for the better is not yet in sight. Your paper loss is large but the shares probably won't decline too much further. I recommend that you hold Case in anticipation of an eventual comeback.

VA Pensions May Be Affected by Social Security

Recent changes in the Social Security Law might well have a drastic effect on Veterans Administration pension benefits payable to widows and other selected claimants.

This is the advice given by George M. Vadas, manager of the Albany Veterans Administration regional office to F. William Sheehan of the Kingston VA in the central post office here.

The general public, in many instances, Vadas said, is not aware that Social Security benefits are considered income in determining VA pension benefits, nor are they aware of the necessity of prompt notice to the VA relative to changes in their income status.

Vadas pointed out that in view of the prescribed increases authorized by the new amendments to the Social Security Law, it is imperative that all beneficiaries currently in receipt of VA pension benefits, who received such increases under these amendments, review their income status and, if necessary, promptly contact the Veterans Administration.

Complete information and assistance may be furnished by visiting the Veterans Administration, 496 Broadway, here.

N. Y. Speeding Return Of Relief Hopefuls

NEW YORK (AP) — City and state officials are speeding the return to other states and Puerto Rico of families they say come to New York and go on relief but make no attempt to find work.

Peter Kasius, deputy state welfare commissioner, disclosed Monday that 142 welfare applicants returned — at New York's taxpayers' expense—to their home states and Puerto Rico in the past two months.

Of these, Kasius said, 43 returned to Puerto Rico and 52 to Southern states.

Kasius' disclosure followed charges last week by officials in New York that some states were laying out money for welfare recipients to come here.

Lions Eye Bank Seeks Donations

The New Paltz Lions Club is conducting a three-week pledge campaign whereby eyes are donated to the local eye bank.

The pledge cards distribution began on Sept. 18 and will continue through Oct. 6. Dr. Harri Janssen, chairman of the local eye bank has pointed out that money never enters the picture when vision is in the balance. Human eyes are never bought or sold as eyes are furnished free to both doctors and patients. There is never an expense to the donor.

The New Paltz Lions Club, in conjunction with the Sight Conservation Society of Northeastern New York Inc. to obtain pledges from local people for donation of eyes after death, now has a display at the New Paltz Savings Bank. The display, emphasizes the needs of the blind and the extensive network of volunteers who insure proper care and use of donated eyes. Brochures, further explaining the work of the society and containing pledge forms are available at the bank.

William Schmalkuche Jr., chairman of the Lions Club sight conservation committee, says that the program is in line with the Lions long-standing interest in eyesight. The club for the past several years has supplied eye examinations and glasses to needy children of the area, and have supplied special reading material to persons of impaired vision, as well as founding the local eye bank.

The aim of the three-week campaign is set at 500 eye pledges. Anyone can pledge his eyes. Age does not matter, nor does the cause of death, nor the condition of the eyes. The cornea will still be of great value to science. Also it is not necessary for an eye examination before signing a pledge card.

A party for the benefit of the Auxiliary Hospital Fund of the VFW will be held on Thursday 8 p. m. at the V.F.W. home Route 208. Refreshments will be served.

New members will be received into the fellowship of the Reformed Church Sunday, Oct. 1, at the World-Wide Communion Service. Anyone considering joining the church may contact either the Rev. Gerret Wullschleger or the Rev. Roger Leonard.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Coincidence has a long arm and NBC's new cops-and-psychos series, "87th Precinct," twisted it like a pretzel Monday night.

Mental cases have almost completely replaced old fashioned robbers in TV's police action stories, so we're accustomed now to lonely hearts killers with sadistic impulses. Monday night's sick, sick man was a fellow who fancied himself—and literally was—a lady killer. His penchant for having his victims-to-be painfully tattooed was the important clue to his capture.

We also had the deaf mute wife of a police sergeant suddenly deciding to have herself tattooed. While in the needle artist's parlor she just happened to run into the killer her husband was after. Now that's a rare coincidence.

Pretty Gena Rowlands plays Teddy, the deaf-mute, and is a member of the regular cast, tattoo and all.

Robert Lansing is her husband, detective Steve Carella. He not only looks a little like Robert Stack of Eliot Ness fame, but plays in the same intense, grim style. There are three other detectives too, and presumably they will rotate the leading parts from week to week. All the other shows with multiple heroes do.

Next Sunday's "Meet the Press" guest on NBC will be Frederick Boland, Ireland's delegate to the United Nations and past president of the organization. Boland takes the seat originally reserved for Jack Paar, who at the height of his Berlin show controversy asked for a chance to take his case to the people. "Meet the Press" — and probably the NBC brass as well — apparently had some second thoughts about this and the invitation was withdrawn.

Recommended tonight: "Ichabod and Me," premiere, CBS, 9-9:30 (EDT)—new comedy series starring Robert Sterling and George Chandler; Dick Powell Show, premiere, NBC, 9-10 — anthology series of dramas starting with "Who Killed Julie Greer," with a big star cast.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Coincidence has a long arm and NBC's new cops-and-psychos series, "87th Precinct," twisted it like a pretzel Monday night.

Mental cases have almost completely replaced old fashioned robbers in TV's police action stories, so we're accustomed now to lonely hearts killers with sadistic impulses. Monday night's sick, sick man was a fellow who fancied himself—and literally was—a lady killer. His penchant for having his victims-to-be painfully tattooed was the important clue to his capture.

We also had the deaf mute wife of a police sergeant suddenly deciding to have herself tattooed. While in the needle artist's parlor she just happened to run into the killer her husband was after. Now that's a rare coincidence.

Pretty Gena Rowlands plays Teddy, the deaf-mute, and is a member of the regular cast, tattoo and all.

Robert Lansing is her husband, detective Steve Carella. He not only looks a little like Robert Stack of Eliot Ness fame, but plays in the same intense, grim style. There are three other detectives too, and presumably they will rotate the leading parts from week to week. All the other shows with multiple heroes do.

Next Sunday's "Meet the Press" guest on NBC will be Frederick Boland, Ireland's delegate to the United Nations and past president of the organization. Boland takes the seat originally reserved for Jack Paar, who at the height of his Berlin show controversy asked for a chance to take his case to the people. "Meet the Press" — and probably the NBC brass as well — apparently had some second thoughts about this and the invitation was withdrawn.

Recommended tonight: "Ichabod and Me," premiere, CBS, 9-9:30 (EDT)—new comedy series starring Robert Sterling and George Chandler; Dick Powell Show, premiere, NBC, 9-10 — anthology series of dramas starting with "Who Killed Julie Greer," with a big star cast.

Crime Ad

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—An ad Larry Ross placed in a newspaper to sell his wife's mink stole was even more effective than he imagined. A burglar snatched the fur piece from a hall closet while Ross was watching television.

Here tomorrow—a great new exclusive from Buick

ADVANCED THRUST

Moves power forward for arrow-straight going

It puts the engine ahead like the tip of an arrow • It tames "wind wander" and road sway • It sweeps you forward in a hush of luxury • It turns the floor hump into foot space.

WHAT IT IS—Buick's big new move: It positions the great new Wildcat V-8 and Turbine Drive way up front over Buick's front wheels.

WHAT IT DOES—As the engine went forward, the floor hump went DOWN. And, the forward weight makes wheel response far quicker, cornering far surer, ride far smoother.

WHY YOU'LL LOVE IT—It's the closest you can come to sports car handling in a passenger car. Distances shrink before its ¾-G thrust. Hills disappear. Lean on curves is really gone. Winds don't make you wander. It's going at its Buick best!

Pravda Publishes Story About JFK, Requested by Post

MOSCOW (AP) —Pravda today printed a two-column article about President Kennedy—at the invitation of the New York Post.

The article was written by the Post's editor, James Wechsler, who pointed out that almost everything about Premier Khrushchev is printed in U.S. newspapers but little about Kennedy appears in Soviet newspapers.

In his article Wechsler invited the Communist party newspaper Pravda and the government newspaper Izvestia to print the article, which he called a brief analysis of the position of the President. Pravda reported it was printing it in full.

Wechsler wrote that Kennedy has no illusions about victory in a nuclear war, but if the worst happened he would not allow the United States to accept defeat.

Nevertheless, he said the President was determined to try to work out solutions of existing problems even knowing that any solution will shower blame on him as a conciliator. He said the President thought anything could be negotiated except the dignity of a free people.

Wechsler said the President was too ready to accept the published word as the voice of the people. Further, he added, the President acted too quickly in response to pressure from inside the country.

That, he said, explained Kennedy's decision to renew nuclear tests soon after the Russians resumed them.

He added that he had no doubts of the sincerity or force of Kennedy's striving for a reasonable settlement in a world which has been balancing on the brink for so long.

That ended the portion from the Post article. This is the first such appraisal of the President in recent memory printed in the Soviet Union. Most articles are critical, not analytical.

Frank Fay Dies, Was in Hospital Since August 23

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Frank Fay, 62, former Broadway vaudeville comedian and radio star, died Monday night.

Death came at 11:55 p.m. in St. John's Hospital while he was semi-conscious. A hospital spokesman said Fay had spoken a few words to his nurse five minutes prior to his death. The nurse and a doctor were at his side.

Was Teamed With Dyer

The spokesman said the actor suffered from an internal rupture of the abdominal aorta. He entered the hospital last Aug. 23.

Born in San Francisco Nov. 17, 1898, Fay made his stage debut at 6 with a part in "Quo Vadis?" in Chicago.

With Johnny Dyer Fay toured vaudeville circuits for years in the Dyer and Fay team. The pair frequently gave five or six performances a day. They danced and sang songs which Fay wrote.

His greatest success came in the '40s when he made a side-splitting comeback in the Pulitzer Prize-winning Broadway hit, "Harvey."

The play opened in 1944, played two years on Broadway and then went on the road with Fay still portraying Elwood P. Dowd, the captivating drunk who palled around with an invisible rabbit.

Stardom at Palace

Fay first reached Broadway in musical comedy and then went on to stardom at the Palace. In 1922, he wrote, produced and acted in "Frank Fay's Fables." Throughout the '20s, he alternated between vaudeville and the theater.

Broadway shows in which he appeared included: "Raymond Hitchcock's Pinwheel," "Artists and Models" and "Delmar's Revels."

Fay's first screen appearance was as a master of ceremonies in "Show of Shows" in 1929.

He played the leads in the films "Under a Texas Moon" and "The Matrimonial Bed." Other screen credits included "Bright Lights," "They Knew What They Wanted" and "Spotlight Scandals," all produced in the 1930s. He returned to the movies in 1951 in "A WAAC in His Life."

Had Network Show

Playing in vaudeville at New York's Palace Theater, he was the highest paid performer in the business during the mid-20s. His salary reached $17,500 a week.

During the heyday of big radio productions, Fay had his own network show.

His seven-year marriage to actress Barbara Stanwyck ended in divorce in 1935. They have an adopted son, Dion Anthony Fay of Los Angeles.

An earlier marriage, to Gladys Buchanan Fay, also ended in divorce.

Howard H. Cherry Jr., president of the corporation, said the firm was "planning to do our uppermost to lessen the economic impact on the area through an intensive re-employment effort."

Gov. Rockefeller had written Cherry that plans to cut plant employment at Little Falls from 500 to 210 had caused the governor great concern.

"Your firm is one of the economic mainstays of the entire Little Falls area," Rockefeller said.

He offered the services of his administration to "help you not only maintain the existing level of your Little Falls operations but, hopefully, to expand them."

The firm plans to move from Little Falls to Cedar Rapids certain machining and assembly operations.

Advice to Heart Patients

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Ninety-one per cent of all heart patients should return to work after pulmonary attacks, says a Philadelphia heart specialist. Think Boyfriend Sent Bomb-Like Device to Co-ed

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A bomb-like device that forced the temporary evacuation of a women's dormitory at the University of Rochester was mailed to a co-ed by a boyfriend, police believe.

The dormitory was cleared Monday when Susan Lawrence of suburban Penfield showed the building director a cigar box she received by special delivery. Inside was a pipe filled with homemade gunpowder, hooked to two batteries by an electrical relay.

City Chemist John Temmermen said the device was crudely made and probably wouldn't have injured anyone even if it had exploded.

Police did not identify the boyfriend or say where the package was mailed from. The FBI and postal inspectors were called in to the case.

The dormitory houses several hundred students. Most of them were at classes.

Little Falls Firm To Cut Staff Anyhow

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP)—The Cherry-Burrell Corp., despite Gov. Rockefeller's plea, is going ahead with plans to curtail its operations at Little Falls, N.Y.

Howard H. Cherry Jr., president of the corporation, said the firm was "planning to do our uppermost to lessen the economic impact on the area through an intensive re-employment effort."

Gov. Rockefeller had written Cherry that plans to cut plant employment at Little Falls from 500 to 210 had caused the governor great concern.

"Your firm is one of the economic mainstays of the entire Little Falls area," Rockefeller said.

He offered the services of his administration to "help you not only maintain the existing level of your Little Falls operations but, hopefully, to expand them."

Cherry said Monday he had written Rockefeller expressing sincere regrets that the firm must cut operations of its Little Falls Division.

The firm manufactures dairy, brewery equipment.

East Germany Charges Distortion

JFK's Speech Draws Warm Praise From Friends, Allies

President Kennedy's speech to the United Nations drew warm praise today from America's friends and allies. First Communist reaction was hostile.

Returns were awaited from the nonaligned nations, who were cast in a vital role by Kennedy. He appealed to them to help save the United Nations by working for a strong secretary-general and to participate in disarmament.

The first significant neutralist comment came from Prince Norodom Sihanouk, chief of state of Cambodia. He visited Kennedy at his New York hotel and told newsmen that Cambodia adopts the same position toward disarmament as Kennedy in his speech. "With controls," he stressed.

No Comment on Address

Moscow radio and the Soviet news agency Tass reported without comment that the President had addressed the General Assembly and "dwelt on the activity of the United Nations, the question of disarmament, the so-called Berlin crisis, and the question of colonialism."

The East German news agency ADN reported at length on the portions dealing with Germany and Berlin, accusing Kennedy of deliberately distorting the Soviet position. The agency said "he spoke of U.S. willingness to negotiate without submitting any concrete proposals."

'Empty,' Says Chinese

Chinese Communist reaction appeared in the Ta Kung Pao of Hong Kong, a Red newspaper which follows Peiping's line. It accused Kennedy of mouthing "empty propaganda phrases."

A British Foreign Office statement said the plan "represents a realistic and practicable basis for negotiations."

British officials also privately praised Kennedy's statement that 'we seek no perfect solution." The British have long felt that U.S. policy tended too much toward absolute solutions that would not end the cold war.

Warm Praise

Non-Communist Asians reacted warmly and with praise.

Newspapers everywhere outside of mainland China gave it top play.

The Japanese Foreign Ministry called the speech "a welcome reaffirmation of the United States position on world problems." The Japanese were pleased with Kennedy's proposals for an end to nuclear tests and for general disarmament.

Pearson Comments

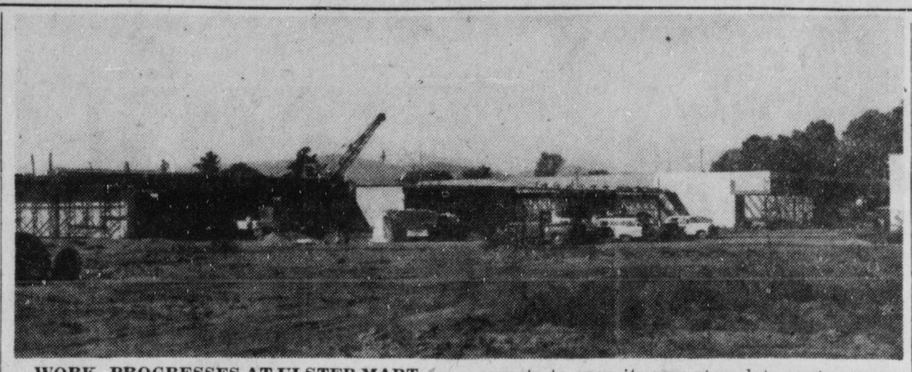
In Canada, Lester B. Pearson, Nobel Peace Prize winner and former U.N. Assembly president said the speech put the Western world on a peace offensive.

This aspect drew mild criticism from a liberal newspaper in Denmark. The Politiken said the disarmament proposal "reminds one too much of tactics. A nuclear ban is a realistic and important thing. But proposing general nuclear disarmament unrelated to other kinds of disarmament control is either too naive or too smart. Kennedy knows the Soviet Union cannot accept his proposal."

India Plays Up Ban

Yet it was Kennedy's disarmament proposals that attracted attention in India, a leader of the nonaligned nations. The Hindustan Times, a supporter of Prime Minister Nehru's Congress party, played up the President's appeal for a nuclear test ban treaty and his step-by-step disarmament plan.

In Sweden, a neutral nation basically friendly to the West, Stockholm's liberal Dagens Nyheter said: "It was a speech written in small letters, a speech free from accusations and threats, a speech which, lacking every tone of aggressiveness, differed as radically as possible from what has been performed by Moscow recently."



WORK PROGRESSES AT ULSTER MART—Work is progressing at Ulster Shopping Center on Albany Avenue Extension, Town of Ulster at the former Kraus Farm site. Three major firms—Wallace, F. W. Woolworth, and Food Fair have contracted for buildings at the site. The Wallace Company announced Thursday it expects to open its new store late next summer. The buildings (above) under construction are for the F. W. Woolworth and Food Fair Markets. Footings were poured this week for the Wallace store. Projected opening dates for Woolworth and Food Fair were not immediately known. (Freeman photo).

Columbia County Man Indicted for Murder

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP) —Alfred J. Major of nearby Mellenville, has been indicted on a charge of first-degree murder in the death of his brother-in-law last month.

The indictment will be held in State Supreme Court here for disposition in the event Major is released from Matteawan State Hospital for the criminal insane, Beacon.

Major was committed after the shooting of Henry Overby during an argument Aug. 2.

New Tieup Hits Rutland Line, Two Far Apart

RUTLAND, Vt. (AP)—Management and labor appeared far apart today in efforts to end the second strike in 12 months on the Rutland Railway.

Picket lines were established at the utility shortly after the strike was called at 1 a.m. Monday.

Both union and management officials indicated they would stand firm on the pay issue in the year-old dispute.

The strike idled 400 workers.

Officials of four operating railroad brotherhoods called the strike when company representatives countered their demands for an eight cent an hour hike with a proposed reduction of 19 cents.

The union was empowered to strike without a vote at midnight Friday but the walkout was delayed 48 hours while Gov. F. Ray Keyser Jr., federal mediators and city officials met with both sides in several fruitless sessions.

Federal Mediator Tedford Schoonover has not scheduled a second series of meetings.

JFK Peace Drive Is Endorsed by Dixie Governors

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Southern governors put aside sectional problems today and stood united behind the Kennedy administration's promise to work for peace but never to surrender to blackmail.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, substituting at the Southern Governors' Concerence Monday night for President Kennedy, warned the Soviets not to misjudge the character and strength of this nation, lest the world be pushed into nuclear war.

"We seek peace but we shun appeasement because we have learned appeasement is surrender on the installment plan and the signal for ultimate war," the vice president said.

Johnson spoke slowly and at times grimly. He drew his biggest applause from the 17 governors present when he declared the United States would never desert West Berlin or Nationalist China.

A resolution, submitted by Govs. Lindsay Almond of Virginia and Orval Faubus of Arkansas, was adopted in which Kennedy's speech was termed "a magnificent address."

Suicide Is Verdict In Po'keepsie Death

A preliminary verdict of suicide has been reported by Dr. E. Alan Larkin, assistant Dutchess county medical examiner, who took part in the investigation of the hanging of Joseph Somogyi, 71, of 22 Williams Street, Poughkeepsie.

Police Chief John L. Martin said Somogyi was found hanging on the rear porch of his home on Sunday by his wife, who told authorities Somogyi had been in ill health the last several months.

Mrs. Somogyi found the body on her return home from church.

Death was due to strangulation, Dr. Larkin said.

To Run as Independent

A past president of the Town of Red Hook Republican Club said Monday he will seek reelection on Nov. 7 to the office of town supervisor, as an Independent candidate. Warren Simmons resigned last week as president of the Republican club. Nominating petitions for Simmons also named four Republicans and a Democrat to run on the Independent ticket, but all filed declinations.

Area Assemblies Of God to Host Mission Speakers

REV. ROBERT BOLTON

Missionaries to Formosa, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Bolton, will be the featured speakers at special missions rally Thursday, 7:30 p. m. at the Lomontville Assembly of God, the Rev. David O. Stanton, pastor. Friday 7:30 p. m. the rally will be at the Bethel Assembly of God, 3 Esopus Avenue, Kingston, the Rev. Dean L. Harrison, pastor.

Born in Kunming, China, the Rev. Mr. Bolton is a missionary under appointment with the Foreign Missions Department of the Assemblies of God with international headquarters in Springfield, Mo. With his wife he has engaged in pioneer missionary work in Formosa, opening Assemblies of God churches in Tanshui and Kaohsinug. The Rev. Mr. Bolton also conducted tent campaigns and Bible teaching crusades. Mrs. Bolton ministered extensively in children's and women's services.

Former City Residents

Before entering missionary service, the Boltons pastored an Assemblies of God church in New Jersey. During World War II the Boltons lived in Kingston where the late Rev. Leonard Bolton pastored the Assembly of God Church in this city.

The Rev. and Mrs. Bolton are graduates of Central Bible Institute, Springfield, Mo., and the Rev. Mr. Bolton has also attended the Missionary Language Institute of Taipei, Formosa.

They are now traveling in the United States in the interest of the Assemblies of God, Mission in southern Formosa. At the conclusion of their furlough they will return to Formosa and engage in an evangelistic and teaching program. The Rev. Mr. Bolton will also assist in the construction of church buildings.

The host pastors extend an invitation to the public to attend the rallies. A pictoral presentation and recording made in Formosa will highlight the services. Native costumes and curios also will be on display.

Mission Speaker Slated Sept. 27 At Uptown Church

The Rev. Charles E. Hess, a former pastor in the Reformed Church of the United States, and more recently a missionary to Tanganyika territory, Africa, will speak at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, Wednesday 7 p. m. The church is at 131 Franklin Street.

The Rev. Mr. Hess, affiliated with the Africa Inland Mission, was in charge of 110 outstations in Africa, and when a native uprising was aroused against him because he was a white man, only 10 of the stations seceded from his leadership. He attributes this to the fact he had not gone to press a particular denomination, but simply as a Christian.

He was in Congo during the sharpest part of the conflict there.

The Rev. Mr. Hess plans to show pictures he has taken while in Africa.

An important part of his work in that land has been involved in translation. He reads French, German, Greek, Hebrew and two native African languages. He and his wife have just completed the translation of a Bible in a native tongue.

The public may attend.

The speaker will be presented by the Rev. Robert Houghtaling, pastor of the Wawarsing Union Chapel.

Wagner Lists Don'ts

NEW YORK (AP) —Mayor Robert F. Wagner, making a pitch for more home rule, gives this list of things the city can't do without approval by the State Legislature:

"1. Put posters on city lamp-posts.

"2. Permit telephone booths on sidewalks.

"3. Change local taxing laws.

"4. Sell a piece of waterfront property.

"5. Take care of a rundown cemetery."

Wagner read the list Monday in an address at the 26th annual conference of the National Institute of Law Officers.

$979,380 Is Goal Of Church Relief

NEW YORK — A special appeal to be launched during the Thanksgiving season will ask American Protestants and Eastern Orthodox church members for $979,380 to finance the 1962 Share Our Surplus Program through which more than 20 million hungry persons overseas will receive life-saving U. S. surplus foods.

The goal for the 1962 SOS appeal was announced by Hugh D. Farley, executive director of Church World Service, National Council of Churches, which sponsors the program on behalf of major denominations in America.

Value of SOS foodstuffs—wheat, flour, bulgar (a processed, quickly-prepared wheat derivative), corn meal, powdered milk and cooking oils—scheduled for distribution to the world's hungry in 39 areas of Asia, Africa, Europe and Latin America, is estimated at more than $30 million.

These foods used in the overseas program of the churches are made available from U. S. government surplus stocks in excess of the amounts first set aside to relieve need in the United States.

Might Try to Avoid Prize

BURNT HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Youngsters who compete Saturday in a children's pet show at the Town of Ballston library probably will try to avoid winning the award for the pet that looks most like its owner.

Crushed After Pushing Other Man to Safety

GRANVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Allen Covey, 37, of Frankfort, pushed another man to safety but was crushed to death by his own truck Monday, police reported.

Covey, a construction truck-driver, was injured fatally when his parked truck rolled and crushed him against another truck on Route 22 near this Washington County community.

The truck's brakes apparently were not set properly, police said.

Monroe Reports 3 Polio Deaths

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Three polio deaths within two weeks have been reported by Monroe County health officials.

The deaths of two victims, both 3-year-old boys, were reported Monday. Both died Sept. 13.

One of the youngsters was from Lyndonville in Orleans County. The other was from Rochester.

A 7-month-old Rochester baby died of the disease Sept. 1. The three deaths were the first cases of polio reported by the county this year.

New Walkout Big Threat to Mills In Buffalo Today

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A new walkout by grain elevator workers on Buffalo's troubled waterfront threatened today to shut down the city's vast grain milling industry, the largest in the world.

About 150 workers at five of 12 grain elevators here left their jobs Monday after working without contract since Aug. 15. Picketing by the strikers would idle the whole 3,000-man grain work force.

Of this number, about 1,200 grain millers are already on strike at General Mills and Russell Miller Mills over new pay demands and improved working conditions. The millers are members of Grain Millers Local 36.

The walkout by the grain elevator workers, members of Grain Elevator Employes Local 1286, came amid preparations for continued talks between the local and management on a new contract. At issue are job security and work rules.

"This was a complete surprise to the negotiating committee," said John Roberts, president of the elevator workers local. "I guess the men just got tired of working without a contract."

Management sources said Monday night that 485 millers would be laid off if the elevator strike continues. Also affected immediately are 250 grain shovelers who won't be able to unload grain from great lakes ships into the elevators.

Mission Speaker Slated Sept. 27 At Uptown Church

The Rev. Charles E. Hess, a former pastor in the Reformed Church of the United States, and more recently a missionary to Tanganyika territory, Africa, will speak at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, Wednesday 7 p. m. The church is at 131 Franklin Street.

The Rev. Mr. Hess, affiliated with the Africa Inland Mission, was in charge of 110 outstations in Africa, and when a native uprising was aroused against him because he was a white man, only 10 of the stations seceded from his leadership. He attributes this to the fact he had not gone to press a particular denomination, but simply as a Christian.

He was in Congo during the sharpest part of the conflict there.

The Rev. Mr. Hess plans to show pictures he has taken while in Africa.

An important part of his work in that land has been involved in translation. He reads French, German, Greek, Hebrew and two native African languages. He and his wife have just completed the translation of a Bible in a native tongue.

The public may attend.

The speaker will be presented by the Rev. Robert Houghtaling, pastor of the Wawarsing Union Chapel.

Wagner Lists Don'ts

NEW YORK (AP) —Mayor Robert F. Wagner, making a pitch for more home rule, gives this list of things the city can't do without approval by the State Legislature:

"1. Put posters on city lampposts.

"2. Permit telephone booths on sidewalks.

"3. Change local taxing laws.

"4. Sell a piece of waterfront property.

"5. Take care of a rundown cemetery."

Wagner read the list Monday in an address at the 26th annual conference of the National Institute of Law Officers.

$979,380 Is Goal Of Church Relief

NEW YORK — A special appeal to be launched during the Thanksgiving season will ask American Protestants and Eastern Orthodox church members for $979,380 to finance the 1962 Share Our Surplus Program through which more than 20 million hungry persons overseas will receive life-saving U. S. surplus foods.

The goal for the 1962 SOS appeal was announced by Hugh D. Farley, executive director of Church World Service, National Council of Churches, which sponsors the program on behalf of major denominations in America.

Value of SOS foodstuffs—wheat, flour, bulgar (a processed, quickly-prepared wheat derivative), corn meal, powdered milk and cooking oils—scheduled for distribution to the world's hungry in 39 areas of Asia, Africa, Europe and Latin America, is estimated at more than $30 million.

These foods used in the overseas program of the churches are made available from U. S. govenrment surplus stocks in excess of the amounts first set aside to relieve need in the United States.

New Walkout Big Threat to Mills In Buffalo Today

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A new walkout by grain elevator workers on Buffalo's troubled waterfront threatened today to shut down the city's vast grain milling industry, the largest in the world.

About 150 workers at five of 12 grain elevators here left their jobs Monday after working without contract since Aug. 15. Picketing by the strikers would idle the whole 3,000-man grain work force.

Of this number, about 1,200 grain millers are already on strike at General Mills and Russell Miller Mills over new pay demands and improved working conditions. The millers are members of Grain Millers Local 36.

The walkout by the grain elevator workers, members of Grain Elevator Employes Local 1286, came amid preparations for continued talks between the local and management on a new contract. At issue are job security and work rules.

"This was a complete surprise to the negotiating committee," said John Roberts, president of the elevator workers local. "I guess the men just got tired of working without a contract."

Management sources said Monday night that 485 millers would be laid off if the elevator strike continues. Also affected immediately are 250 grain shovelers who won't be able to unload grain from great lakes ships into the elevators.

By DOROTHY A. NAREL
Freeman Society Editor

In the unceasing struggle to achieve an ultra-mechanized world complete with massive push-button destruction, one feels a sense of serenity and calmness when handling even a small handmade ashtray. Its artistic design and beauty is the end result of man's love for creative arts—it represents hours of devoted work using God-given talents.

Beautiful paintings and handicrafts represent different things to different people. To me, they are the fingerprints of the basic good in humanity. A visit to a gallery, any gallery, emphasizes this feeling.

This is how I felt when I visited the Kingston Art Gallery the other day. There, the creative abilities of artists and craftsmen in the Hudson Valley are being uncovered every day through the untiring efforts of a fellow artist, Mrs. Anne Berk, on behalf of the new gallery which opened this month on Albany Avenue Extension.

To spur the interest and attention of untapped talent sources, 20 noted artists and craftsmen have included some of their most outstanding works in the current gallery exhibit. The exhibition includes oils, pastels, water colors, etchings, enameling, ceramics and woodwork.

Exhibiting are H. R. Boyer of Saugerties; Mrs. Marie Arndt, Woodstock; Mrs. Sally Atkinson of Kingston; James Kaman, Hurley; Richard Munsell, William Ward, Francis Stein, Woodstock; David R. Adams, Poughkeepsie; J. Nosti of Miami, Fla.; Mrs. Lillian Lent, Mrs. Lotti Loewenfeld, Kurt Sluizer and Richard Jeffries, Woodstock; and Bernard Eife of Valatie, N. Y.

On exhibit also are works in enameling and exceptionally fine ceramic pieces by the outstanding designers Jean Colberg of Wittenberg, Sadie DePasquale of Woodstock and Miami, Kenneth Green of New Paltz and Bea Binger of Sawkill.

The Gallery is housed in the same quarters as the Kingston Blueprint and Supply Company which is owned by Mrs. Berk's husband, George Berk, a commercial artist and technical illustrator, A. Simidian and William Beyer Jr.

Talent in Valley

"The Hudson Valley is rich with creative, talented people and it is our ambition to help discover them and encourage them in their work," Mrs. Berk told me in a private interview.

"The backbone of gallery exhibits will consist of paintings in every medium and size by well known professional and good amateur artists. The crafts are all handmade and original in design and we are making a special effort to have one of the most selective collections of sculpture and imported wood carvings," Mrs. Berk said.

Mrs. Berk brings to the gallery a qualified knowledge of enameling and painting. She studied ceramics, weaving, silk screening at the Art Students League in Woodstock and the New School of Social Research in New York City. She has had years of experience in the field of merchandising and is a member of the Woodstock Art Association, Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, The American Craftsmen's Council of New York and countless other art groups.

Her zealous work on behalf of art and culture in the Hudson Valley has made her one of the directors of the Ulster County Chapter of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society. Practically single-handed she instituted a series of music appreciation sessions which featured the Philharmonic conductor, Claude Monteux. Sessions were not only well attended but yielded a profit for the Society.

For many years, Mrs. Berk and her husband provided illustrations for college textbooks. Now residents of Hurley, the couple had resided in Woodstock for more than 13 years.

A commercial artist and technical illustrator is manager of the business section which has supplies and equipment for the arts, crafts, drafting and engineering fields. She is Miss E. Leibman, graduate of the New York School of Industrial Art in New York City. Miss Leibman also studied crafts, basketweaving, ceramics, woodworking, designing and majored in silversmithing at the Maryland Institute.

New Shows Planned

Mrs. Berk also informed me the Kingston Art Gallery will have new exhibits approximately every month and a half. With each exhibit, there will be an opening and reception to which the public will be invited. The artists will be on hand to meet the public and discuss their works.

"To the best of my knowledge," Mrs. Berk said, "this is the only gallery in Kingston where paintings and handicrafts are displayed side by side. Its only counterpart would be the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen," she said.

The Gallery, coupled with a supplies section and personalized service promises to be a worthwhile and satisfying venture.

Talent in Valley

"The Hudson Valley is rich with creative, talented people and it is our ambition to help discover them and encourage them in their work," Mrs. Berk told me in a private interview.

"The backbone of gallery exhibits will consist of paintings in every medium and size by well known professional and good amateur artists. The crafts are all handmade and original in design and we are making a special effort to have one of the most selective collections of sculpture and imported wood carvings," Mrs. Berk said.

Mrs. Berk brings to the gallery a qualified knowledge of enameling and painting. She studied ceramics, weaving, silk screening at the Art Students League in Woodstock and the New School of Social Research in New York City. She has had years of experience in the field of merchandising and is a member of the Woodstock Art Association, Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, The American Craftsmen's Council of New York and countless other art groups.

Her zealous work on behalf of art and culture in the Hudson Valley has made her one of the directors of the Ulster County Chapter of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society. Practically single-handed she instituted a series of music appreciation sessions which featured the Philharmonic conductor, Claude Monteux. Sessions were not only well attended but yielded a profit for the Society.

For many years, Mrs. Berk and her husband provided illustrations for college textbooks. Now residents of Hurley, the couple had resided in Woodstock for more than 13 years.

A commercial artist and technical illustrator is manager of the business section which has supplies and equipment for the arts, crafts, drafting and engineering fields. She is Miss E. Leibman, graduate of the New York School of Industrial Art in New York City. Miss Leibman also studied crafts, basketweaving, ceramics, woodworking, designing and majored in silversmithing at the Maryland Institute.

New Shows Planned

Mrs. Berk also informed me the Kingston Art Gallery will have new exhibits approximately every month and a half. With each exhibit, there will be an opening and reception to which the public will be invited. The artists will be on hand to meet the public and discuss their works.

"To the best of my knowledge," Mrs. Berk said, "this is the only gallery in Kingston where paintings and handicrafts are displayed side by side. Its only counterpart would be the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen," she said.

The Gallery, coupled with a supplies section and personalized service promises to be a worthwhile and satisfying venture.

Kingston Couple Married 61 Years

Freeman Society Editor

In a very short meeting submitted by Sisterhood of Ahavath Israel this week, it was noted that a Kingston couple had observed their 61st wedding anniversary. They are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jacobson of 31 Livingston Street, this city.

Sixty-one years of marriage to one partner is certainly deserving of notice particularly in a day and age when one out of every four marriages ends in divorce.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson came to Kingston from New York City 35 years ago and at that time owned and operated a restaurant in the store now occupied by Ellenbogen, 64 Broadway. They later sold their business and returned to Manhattan where Mr. Jacobson was engaged as a painter - contractor. He retired from business approximately 20 years ago.

The Jacobsons have five children: Seymour Jacobson of Newburgh, Mrs. Benjamin Rothenberg of Stanford, N. Y., George Jacobson of Hurley, Mrs. Harry Clark of New York City, and Mrs. Jack Savage of Cambria Heights, N. Y.

They also have eight grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The Freeman also learned that long marriages are not uncommon in the family. Mrs. Jacobson's sister, Mrs. Joseph Kirschner of Kingston, is married 57 years, and another sister, Mrs. Herman Rubin of Long Beach, L. I., is married 51 years.

Married in June of 1900, the couple today are enjoying good health and still take an active part in community life. Mr. Jacobson, 83, is a member of Congregation Ahavath Israel, and his wife, 77 years of age, is a participating member of the Sisterhood. Mrs. Jacobson is still her own housekeeper and lists crocheting as her main hobby. Her afghans are particularly beautiful.

Ingrid's Daughter Moves Out on Heir to Fortune

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Textile heir Fuller E. Callaway III confirmed Monday that his pretty wife, daughter of film star Ingrid Bergman, has left him.

Friends of the couple said Mrs. Callaway, the former Jenny Ann Lindstrom, wants a divorce and plans to study drama at Stanford University.

Callaway, 29, said she moved out of his San Francisco apartment and was setting up her own in Menlo Park near the Stanford campus.

Mrs. Callaway, 22, was a student at Mills College in Oakland when she married the heir to a Georgia textile fortune, in February 1960.

Jenny Ann, slender, green-eyed and poised, bears a striking resemblance to her mother, an Academy Award-winning film star.

Friends of the young couple said Mrs. Callaway wanted a divorce. Callaway said he didn't know whether she did or not.

The luncheon will be at 1 p. m. and the speaker will be Dr. Andrew Fleck, associate commissioner, New York State Department of Health, who will discuss "What's New in Public Health." Dr. E. Franklin Hall will act as master of ceremonies.

Anyone wishing to attend this meeting is asked to contact the Health Department for reservations.

MARRIED 61 YEARS—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jacobson of 31 Livingston Street, this city, who were married in New York City on June 21, 1900. They were honored this month at a meeting of Sisterhood of Ahavath Israel of which Mrs. Jacobson is a member. (Freeman photo)

Kingston Couple Married 61 Years

BY DOROTHY A. NAREL
Freeman Society Editor

In a very short meeting submitted by Sisterhood of Ahavath Israel this week, it was noted that a Kingston couple had observed their 61st wedding anniversary. They are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jacobson of 31 Livingston Street, this city.

Sixty-one years of marriage to one partner is certainly deserving of notice particularly in a day and age when one out of every four marriages ends in divorce.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson came to Kingston from New York City 35 years ago and at that time owned and operated a restaurant in the store now occupied by Ellenbogen, 64 Broadway. They later sold their business and returned to Manhattan where Mr. Jacobson was engaged as a painter - contractor. He retired from business approximately 20 years ago.

The Jacobsons have five children: Seymour Jacobson of Newburgh, Mrs. Benjamin Rothenberg of Stanford, N. Y., George Jacobson of Hurley, Mrs. Harry Clark of New York City, and Mrs. Jack Savage of Cambria Heights, N. Y.

They also have eight grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The Freeman also learned that long marriages are not uncommon in the family. Mrs. Jacobson's sister, Mrs. Joseph Kirschner of Kingston, is married 57 years, and another sister, Mrs. Herman Rubin of Long Beach, L. I., is married 51 years.

Married in June of 1900, the couple today are enjoying good health and still take an active part in community life. Mr. Jacobson, 83, is a member of Congregation Ahavath Israel, and his wife, 77 years of age, is a participating member of the Sisterhood. Mrs. Jacobson is still her own housekeeper and lists crocheting as her main hobby. Her afghans are particularly beautiful.

Births

The city registrar recently recorded the following births:

Sept. 17—Michelle Faye to Mr. and Mrs. Earle Harold McLane, 6 Grandview Avenue, and Rose to Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Edwin Blas, 147 Clinton Avenue.

Sept. 18—Gina Marie to Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Dino Guiliano, West Shokan; Lisa Christine to Mr. and Mrs. Granville Arthur Lockwood, Stone Ridge; Joseph to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robert Nardi, 75 Henry Street, and Deborah Lynne to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Alfred Kowalski, RD 5, Box 181, Petticoat Lane, Town of Ulster.

Sept. 19—Waldemar, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. Waldemar Zahn, Malden-on-Hudson, and Colleen Gail to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Joseph Bradley, 36 Ponckhockie Street.

Ingrid's Daughter Moves Out on Heir to Fortune

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Textile heir Fuller E. Callaway III confirmed Monday that his pretty wife, daughter of film star Ingrid Bergman, has left him.

Friends of the couple said Mrs. Callaway, the former Jenny Ann Lindstrom, wants a divorce and plans to study drama at Stanford University.

Callaway, 29, said she moved out of his San Francisco apartment and was setting up her own in Menlo Park near the Stanford campus.

Mrs. Callaway, 22, was a student at Mills College in Oakland when she married the heir to a Georgia textile fortune, in February 1960.

Jenny Ann, slender, green-eyed and poised, bears a striking resemblance to her mother, an Academy Award-winning film star.

Friends of the young couple said Mrs. Callaway wanted a divorce. Callaway said he didn't know whether she did or not.

Miss Dawn Lee Effner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Effner of Onteora Trail, wed Garvin L. Russell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Russell of West Hurley on Saturday, Sept. 23 at a 1 p. m. ceremony in Old Dutch Church, this city.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the bridegroom's uncle the Rev. James H. Russell of Homer Congregational Church, Homer, N. Y.

Soloist for the occasion was Mrs. G. Alfred Nussbaum of West Hurley. Organist was Miss Gloria Smith.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and pompons. The pews were marked with white satin ribbon.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Wallace Effner. She wore a white nylon organdy gown styled with a sweetheart neckline, long tapered sleeves and narrow ruffled skirt. Her veil of illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white mums with pompons.

Mrs. John Wood of Woodstock was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a pale yellow nylon organdy gown styled with scalloped neckline, short sleeves and full skirt. She carried a cascade of yellow mums. Attendings were Miss Martha Russell, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Janice Effner, the bride's sister-in-law from Mt. Marion. Their gowns were identical in style to that worn by the honor attendant except in colors of orchid and pale blue. They carried cascades of yellow mums.

Clyde Russell of West Hurley was best man for his brother. Ushers included Charles Russell, brother of the bridegroom, and Stanley Effner, the bride's brother.

A reception was given at the home of the bridegroom's parents on Clover Street in West Hurley.

The bride, who attended Kingston High School, is employed by the Polkanets Drive-in Restaurant. Her husband was graduated from Kingston High School and served four years with the U. S. Air Force. He is employed by Pine Hill-Kingston Bus Corporation.

SHS, Arlington Meet Under Dietz Stadium Lights Friday

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

The mad scramble for World Series tickets is over and just in case you were shut out, don't feel too badly abut it. You have a lot of company.

The rule which requires the customer to buy in strips of three or four games kills the average fan, who just can't afford that kind of money. But it's old hat to the major leagues and so long as the World Series remains something of a national hysteria, their ticket sales are assured.

When you have a couple of guys like Maris and Mantle going for you, the plight of the average fan doesn't mean too much to the moguls. The guy who makes several trips a year to the stadium with the neighborhood crowd, complete with bus, beer and skittles, has a reason to be embittered when his application for World Series tickets is returned with a form letter of regret. But then there is always television you know.

• FLOTSAM AND JETSAM:

Outstanding golf "finds" have been scarce this 1961 season and Tony Pizzarelli of Woodstock Country Club looks like the most improved golfer of the season. . . If hair is supposed to be a symbol of masculine strength, didn't George Baron make the myth seem silly by sharing both the men's and mixed doubles championships in the recent Kingston Tennis tournament?. . . . Dutchess Old Timers will honor five former baseball stars at its Nov. 18 banquet. The group includes Foxey Kamen, Joe Gunn, Sr., Harold "Nook" Sullivan, Robert Thompson and Bob Bogardus. . . When the county sweltered through that recent two-week heat wave, the heat and humidity had little effect on fishing. Deputy Sheriff Earl Conro of Chichester, an ardent angler, said that, strangely enough, the sport was the best he had seen in many years. Conro said both rainbow and brown trout catches were plentiful and he related an instance of one fisherman netting 80 rainbows in one day. He hastened to add that the sportsman tossed back all his catch above the limit.

• WERE YOU GLAD OR SAD:

If you're an old timer, maybe you breathed a sigh of relief when Roger Maris was balked at 59 in his efforts to crack Babe Ruth's 60 home run record that has endured all these years. Roger will get his 60th and maybe more before the present 162-game season is completed. It will be a new standard by which home run hitters will be measured in the future, since the National League will add two new teams next year-Huston and New York. Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick in his edict stipulating that Mairs must hit 60 home runs with 154--game limit, observed that "you don't break the 110-meter dash record in the 100-yard run." This logic is hard to refute. Considering the tremendous pressure put on Maris, we think his 59 home runs represented a phenomenal achievement. Only 8,000 persons saw Babe Ruth hit his 60th homer and the feat created hardly more than a ripple of excitement. The Babe had hit 59 the year before and the fans took the 60 in stride, believing the Bambino would hit more the following year, such was the grasp he had on the baseball public. The press, radio and TV put heavy pressure on Roger Maris, far more than Ruth had to contend with in his record breaking year. So let Babe Ruth keep his 60 in one 154-year and Roger Maris or Mickey Mantle or someone else get better than 60 in the 162-game schedule. There is room in the record books for both.

• A CLASSIC PUNCHER:

Izzy Dambois, the Kerhonkson iron worker, who was felled in an auto accident over the weekend, was cast in the class mould of the club fighter. Never a champion, Dambois was renowned for his terriffic punching power. Old timers will never forget the classic knockout he scored over Frankie Konchina, a National Guard boxing elite of the time. A Dambois right sent Konchina pitching face first to the canvas and he lay there inert for more than five minutes. That was the night the phrase "he left him for dead" was spawned.

Kingston Slated For Tilt Against Albany Eleven

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Arlington's visit to Dietz Stadium for a meeting with Saugerties Friday night highlights this week's scholastic football slate. The two DCSL foes will collide in an 8 p. m. feature, the initial league clash for both clubs.

Kingston High, beaten by Suffern in its first outing, has another tough one, this time at Albany against the Capital District champions.

The rest of the slate shows Poughkeepsie at Middletown in a DUSO clash, Minisink Valley at Rondout Valley, Liberty at New Paltz in a UCAL contest, Cornwall vs. Onteora in a Saturday game at Dietz stadium, Wallkill at Pine Bush, Highland at Beacon and Wappingers at Cardinal Farley" in DCSL tilts at Millbrook at Marlboro.

Without Jordan

Saugerties will put an eight game winning streak on the line against Arlington, appearing here for the first time in many seasons without Fritz Jordan at the helm. Frank King has taken over the Maroon club and his debut wasn't too successful as the team lost, 21-12, to Cornwall last week.

The Sawyers were impressive in beating Red Hook, 39-0, but the Hookers are not as potent as Arlington. Halfback Al Hrdlicka was in good form with a pair of nifty touchdown runs. Coach Fred Seither couldn't help but be impressed with the play of sophomore quarterback Jerry Ollinger.

Good Defense

Kingston showed a solid defense in a losing effort against Suffern but the offense left something to be desired. Coach Bill Burke has a young team this season and the mistakes were evident.

Albany whitewashed Vincentian, 6-0, in its bow and is a big threat to repeat its Capital District championship. This will be the first meeting between the schools since 1926, when Kingston won a 28-0 decision.

Middletown rules a heavy favorite to defeat Sam J. Kalloch's Pioneers in the opening DUSO game. The Middies have been looking forward to this one since their loss at Poughkeepsie last season. They even dropped Suffern as an opponent in order to play PHS first on the schedule. Poughkeepsie was bombed, 40-13, by Wantagh, L. I., last week.

The big UCAL attraction is the Liberty battle at the New Paltz gridiron. The Indians are in the league for the first time and they were impressive in their 27-0 rout of Pine Bush. New Paltz had to rally late to gain a 6-6 standoff with Millbrook. Injuries have hampered the Huguenots. If quarterback Biff Longfield isn't ready to play, the results could be bad.

The Highland-Beacon battle is the big one on the DSCL. Both scored wins against the also-rans in their debuts. Highland had trouble in beating Roosevelt, 20-14, while Beacon overpowered Cardinal Farley Military Academy, 38-0. Wappingers, a loser to Hudson, should get well against the Cadets.

First Home Game

Rondout opens its home season against Minisink Valley and the Ganders were impressive in beating Dover Plains. Onteora had a tough one in Cornwall, the Orange County league powerhouse. This one will be played Saturday afternoon at Dietz. Pine Bush won't enter UCAL football play until next season and it's a good thing. The Bushmen are young and coach Bob Foote is hoping they'll get better as the year progresses. Wallkill figures to be in the running for UCAL laurels and should win this one. Marlboro had an easy time against Haldane last week but Millbrook had New Paltz beaten until the final seconds and will be tougher to handle.

San Francisco — Alejandro Lavorante, 207, Argentina, defeated Alonzo Johnson, 188, Rankin, Pa., 10.

Pennant At Hand For Reds

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A wait of more than two decades may have dwindled into the final few hours for the Cincinnati Reds. Tonight could bring them their first National League pennant since 1940.

With the magic number at two, the race is at the wire. The Reds play the Cubs at Chicago this afternoon and the Los Angeles Dodgers are slated for a twi-night doubleheader at Pittsburgh with last year's surprise flag winners, the Pirates.

Any combination of two—a Cincinnati win plus a Dodger defeat, or a pair of Dodger losses—would give the NL another bust-to-boom champion, and would send the Reds into the World Series against New York's home run-blasting Yankees.

Cincinnati was idle Monday night. The Dodgers and Pirates were rained out, setting up their twi-nighter. In other NL games, the San Francisco Giants bombed the Philadelphia Phillies 10-2 with an 18-hit offensive and the Milwaukee Braves cut down the potential tying run at the plate in the ninth inning and edged the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1.

The Giants' free-swinging assault against the Phils was spearheaded by Orlando Cepeda and rookie catcher John Orsino.

Cepeda, on a torrid batting streak, had four hits and drove in four runs, boosting his league-leading RBI total to 140. Orsino homered twice and singled, while Willie Mays and Felipe Alou also contributed three hits each. Left-hander Mike McCormick (13-16) was tagged for 10 hits but won in a breeze. Don Farrarese (5-11), batted out early, was the loser.

The Braves saved their narrow decision over the Cards by cutting down Ken Boyer when he tried to score on an almost-wild pitch by Don McMahon. Ray Washburn (0-1), in his first big league start, gave up a first-inning homer to Hank Aaron and balked across the deciding run in the fourth. Milwaukee starter Carl Willey (6-12) collaborated on a five-hitter with McMahon.

Shaw (12-13) reached the ninth inning before his try for a no-hitter blew up. Dick McAuliffe led off the Tiger ninth and was safe on Dick Howser's wild throw, then Bubba Morton clipped the Kansas City right-hander for a solid single. An infield out, a sacrifice fly, Larry Osborne's homer and a single by Jake Wood followed before Frank House popped up for the last out.

A five-run burst in the eighth brought Detroit from behind in the opening game. Wood, pinch-batters Al Kaline and Vic Wertz, Bill Bruton and Morton knocked in the runs in the Tiger rally.

Cerv Out of Series; Will Have Operation

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees have lost a reserve outfielder and valued pinch hitter for the world series.

Bob Cerv, who set two records last Saturday when he hit the 12th pinch-homer of his career and the Yanks 10th of the season, entered the hospital for a cartilage operation on his right knee.

Reds Are Hoping For Clincher

CHICAGO (AP) — The pennant-hungry Cincinnati Reds have a chance today to win their first National League title in 21 years.

The Reds need only a victory over the Chicago Cubs and a Los Angeles defeat in one of two games with the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates.

Los Angeles, the only team with any chance of overhauling the Reds, was rained out at Pittsburgh Monday night. The Dodgers and the Pirates have rescheduled a doubleheader tonight.

Since Cincinnati's "magic number" is two, the Reds need to defeat the Cubs today to clinch a tie for the pennant. But, a Cincinnati victory and one Los Angeles loss will produce the title for Cincinnati — the first in more than two decades.

Should the Reds lose to the Cubs, they could still back into the league championship if Pittsburgh takes a pair from the fading Dodgers.

Slider Deprives Shaw of No-Hitter

KANSAS CITY (AP) —"I like to throw the slider but tonight I should have left it home," says Bob Shaw.

It was a slider that Bubba Morton drilled into center field for a single in the ninth inning Monday night, ending a no-hit bid by Shaw against the Detroit Tigers.

The 28-year-old Kansas City Athletics right-hander completed the game for his 12th victory against 13 losses, but he was touched for two more hits — one a home run by Larry Osborne—before the smoke cleared.

The Athletics won 6-3 after dropping the first game of a doubleheader 6-4.

All three Detroit hits came off sliders that "didn't do just right," Shaw commented after his great effort.

"No I didn't get tired," he said. "In fact I felt real good starting the ninth. Then I let that slider go and — bang — Morton hits it into center field. And that was the first pitch too."

Maris Resumes 60 HR Assault Against Orioles

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris, still looking for "a pitcher to make a mistake," resumes his search for his 60th home run tonight as the New York Yankees return to Yankee Stadium for their last five games of the regular season.

Baltimore, with a pitching staff that has allowed only two homers to the 27-year-old slugger, furnishes the opposition tonight and Wednesday afternoon, and the Boston Red Sox for the final three games—Friday night, and Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Maris, who'll have to settle for a 162-game record in his challenge to Babe Ruth's all-time total of 60 in 1927 if he manages to hit any more, isn't at all confident.

"They (the pitchers) aren't giving me anything to hit," he said. "I'd have a better chance at the Stadium if they pitched to me. But, you watch, they'll pitch me outside. The only way I'll get another one is if a pitcher makes a mistake."

The law of averages would indicate that Maris should hit at least one home run, possibly two, in the last five games. In 76 games at the Stadium, he has hit 28—an average of a home run every 2.7 games.

Alonzo Johnson Bows To Argentine Champ

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Argentine heavyweight Alejandro Lavorante jabbed Alonzo Johnson of Rankin, Pa., half blind, knocked him down twice and scored an unimous decision before 3,000 dissatisfied fans in Civic Auditorium Monday night.

Lavorante, at 207 pounds, to Johnson's 188, held a big height and reach advantage but still found difficulty coping with his smaller foe. Johnson continually tried to move inside, grabbing and clinching.

Finally in the ninth of 10 scheduled rounds, Lavorante put Johnson down with a left to the head. Johnson was up at four but took a mandatory eight count. Later in the same round a right put Johnson down for a three-count.

The crowd began jeering Johnson's clutch tactics as early as the third round and kept up the booing.

Skull Murphy, Von Hess

Plan Wrestling Card At Auditorium, Oct. 4

The professional wrestling caravan opens the fall season in Kingston next Wednesday, Oct. 4, with a double tag-team windup at the municipal auditorium.

Promoter Ed Ceccolini will present two tag team matches and three solo bouts featuring some of the game's top villains.

The feature event pairs Johnny Valentino and Bruno Sammartino, the new Italian sensation, against the veteran roughhouse combination of Don Curtis and Mark Lewin.

Bob Orton and the Great Scot tangle with the Billy Darnell-Bill Zbyszko tandem in the co-feature.

Two of the best known "bad men" in the business — Skull Murphy and Carl Von Hess return to the Broadway arena after a long absence.

Murphy takes on The Angel in a 30-minute time limit contest, while Von Hess is slated against Arnold Skoaland, the Swede from White Plains.

The curtain raiser at 8:45 p. m. sends Larry Simon against a new character by the name of Cholly Jolly.

Sugar Ray Earns Split Decision Against Greaves

DETROIT (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson, at 41 just a spurting shadow of a great champion, wants to wear the middleweight crown once more.

The five-time former middleweight king launched another of his many comebacks Monday night and earned a 10-round split decision over aggressive Wilfie Greaves.

Robinson got off the canvas after a low blow in the eighth round to notch his first victory in nearly 18 months.

As soon as he's ready, he said he'd like to fight Gene Fullmer, NBA champion who defeated him last March, or Terry Downes of England. Downes is recognized as the champion in New York, Massachusetts and Europe.

"I'm certainly not ready yet to fight for the championship," Robinson said, weary after his close victory over Greaves, claimant to the Canadian middleweight championship.

Robinson is signed to fight Denny Moyer in New York's Madison Square Garden Oct. 21.

Judge Nick Thimmesch awarded the fight to Robinson 47-46. Judge Al Goodman favored Robinson 46-44. Referee Lou Handler voted for Greaves 45-44. The AP scored it 48-44 under Michigan's five-point must system.

Lopez Inks Pact To Manage in '62

CHICAGO (AP)—Al Lopez, the only manager to crack New York Yankee pennant superiority since 1948, will pilot the Chicago White Sox for the sixth consecutive season in 1962.

Lopez, 53, signed a one-year contract Monday after suffering the worst finish of his managerial career. The Sox will wind up fourth this year.

Last year they finished third. Previous to last season, no team managed by Lopez, a former National League catcher, had finished lower than second.

Lopez won pennants with the Cleveland Indians in 1954 and the White Sox in 1959. His one burning ambition is to manage a team to a world championship, something he failed to achieve in 1954 and again in 1959.

In signing Lopez to what is believed to be a $50,000 contract, General Manager Ed Short said, "I am delighted that Al has decided to remain with the White Sox. I consider him the best manager in baseball and I hope he stays with us a long, long time."

SHS, Arlington Meet Under Dietz Stadium Lights Friday

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

The mad scramble for World Series tickets is over and just in case you were shut out, don't feel too badly abut it. You have a lot of company.

The rule which requires the customer to buy in strips of three or four games kills the average fan, who just can't afford that kind of money. But it's old hat to the major leagues and so long as the World Series remains something of a national hysteria, their ticket sales are assured.

When you have a couple of guys like Maris and Mantle going for you, the plight of the average fan doesn't mean too much to the moguls. The guy who makes several trips a year to the stadium with the neighborhood crowd, complete with bus, beer and skittles, has a reason to be embittered when his application for World Series tickets is returned with a form letter of regret. But then there is always television you know.

• FLOTSAM AND JETSAM:

Outstanding golf "finds" have been scarce this 1961 season and Tony Pizzarelli of Woodstock Country Club looks like the most improved golfer of the season. . . If hair is supposed to be a symbol of masculine strength, didn't George Baron make the myth seem silly by sharing both the men's and mixed doubles championships in the recent Kingston Tennis tournament?. . . . Dutchess Old Timers will honor five former baseball stars at its Nov. 18 banquet. The group includes Foxey Kamen, Joe Gunn, Sr., Harold "Nook" Sullivan, Robert Thompson and Bob Bogardus. . . When the county sweltered through that recent two-week heat wave, the heat and humidity had little effect on fishing. Deputy Sheriff Earl Conro of Chichester, an ardent angler, said that, strangely enough, the sport was the best he had seen in many years. Conro said both rainbow and brown trout catches were plentiful and he related an instance of one fisherman netting 80 rainbows in one day. He hastened to add that the sportsman tossed back all his catch above the limit.

• WERE YOU GLAD OR SAD:

If you're an old timer, maybe you breathed a sigh of relief when Roger Maris was balked at 59 in his efforts to crack Babe Ruth's 60 home run record that has endured all these years. Roger will get his 60th and maybe more before the present 162-game season is completed. It will be a new standard by which home run hitters will be measured in the future, since the National League will add two new teams next year-Huston and New York. Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick in his edict stipulating that Mairs must hit 60 home runs with 154--game limit, observed that "you don't break the 110-meter dash record in the 100-yard run." This logic is hard to refute. Considering the tremendous pressure put on Maris, we think his 59 home runs represented a phenomenal achievement. Only 8,000 persons saw Babe Ruth hit his 60th homer and the feat created hardly more than a ripple of excitement. The Babe had hit 59 the year before and the fans took the 60 in stride, believing the Bambino would hit more the following year, such was the grasp he had on the baseball public. The press, radio and TV put heavy pressure on Roger Maris, far more than Ruth had to contend with in his record breaking year. So let Babe Ruth keep his 60 in one 154-year and Roger Maris or Mickey Mantle or someone else get better than 60 in the 162-game schedule. There is room in the record books for both.

• A CLASSIC PUNCHER:

Izzy Dambois, the Kerhonkson iron worker, who was felled in an auto accident over the weekend, was cast in the class mould of the club fighter. Never a champion, Dambois was renowned for his terriffic punching power. Old timers will never forget the classic knockout he scored over Frankie Konchina, a National Guard boxing elite of the time. A Dambois right sent Konchina pitching face first to the canvas and he lay there inert for more than five minutes. That was the night the phrase "he left him for dead" was spawned.

Kingston Slated For Tilt Against Albany Eleven

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Arlington's visit to Dietz Stadium for a meeting with Saugerties Friday night highlights this week's scholastic football slate. The two DCSL foes will collide in an 8 p. m. feature, the initial league clash for both clubs.

Kingston High, beaten by Suffern in its first outing, has another tough one, this time at Albany against the Capital District champions.

The rest of the slate shows Poughkeepsie at Middletown in a DUSO clash, Minisink Valley at Rondout Valley, Liberty at New Paltz in a UCAL contest, Cornwall vs. Onteora in a Saturday game at Dietz stadium, Wallkill at Pine Bush, Highland at Beacon and Wappingers at Cardinal Farley" in DCSL tilts at Millbrook at Marlboro.

Without Jordan

Saugerties will put an eight game winning streak on the line against Arlington, appearing here for the first time in many seasons without Fritz Jordan at the helm. Frank King has taken over the Maroon club and his debut wasn't too successful as the team lost, 21-12, to Cornwall last week.

The Sawyers were impressive in beating Red Hook, 39-0, but the Hookers are not as potent as Arlington. Halfback Al Hrdlicka was in good form with a pair of nifty touchdown runs. Coach Fred Seither couldn't help but be impressed with the play of sophomore quarterback Jerry Ollinger.

Good Defense

Kingston showed a solid defense in a losing effort against Suffern but the offense left something to be desired. Coach Bill Burke has a young team this season and the mistakes were evident.

Albany whitewashed Vincentian, 6-0, in its bow and is a big threat to repeat its Capital District championship. This will be the first meeting between the schools since 1926, when Kingston won a 28-0 decision.

Middletown rules a heavy favorite to defeat Sam J. Kalloch's Pioneers in the opening DUSO game. The Middies have been looking forward to this one since their loss at Poughkeepsie last season. They even dropped Suffern as an opponent in order to play PHS first on the schedule. Poughkeepsie was bombed, 40-13, by Wantagh, L. I., last week.

The big UCAL attraction is the Liberty battle at the New Paltz gridiron. The Indians are in the league for the first time and they were impressive in their 27-0 rout of Pine Bush. New Paltz had to rally late to gain a 6-6 standoff with Millbrook. Injuries have hampered the Huguenots. If quarterback Biff Longfield isn't ready to play, the results could be bad.

The Highland-Beacon battle is the big one on the DSCL. Both scored wins against the also-rans in their debuts. Highland had trouble in beating Roosevelt, 20-14, while Beacon overpowered Cardinal Farley Military Academy, 38-0. Wappingers, a loser to Hudson, should get well against the Cadets.

First Home Game

Rondout opens its home season against Minisink Valley and the Ganders were impressive in beating Dover Plains. Onteora had a tough one in Cornwall, the Orange County league powerhouse. This one will be played Saturday afternoon at Dietz. Pine Bush won't enter UCAL football play until next season and it's a good thing. The Bushmen are young and coach Bob Foote is hoping they'll get better as the year progresses. Wallkill figures to be in the running for UCAL laurels and should win this one. Marlboro had an easy time against Haldane last week but Millbrook had New Paltz beaten until the final seconds and will be tougher to handle.

San Francisco — Alejandro Lavorante, 207, Argentina, defeated Alonzo Johnson, 188, Rankin, Pa., 10.

Pennant At Hand For Reds

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A wait of more than two decades may have dwindled into the final few hours for the Cincinnati Reds. Tonight could bring them their first National League pennant since 1940.

With the magic number at two, the race is at the wire. The Reds play the Cubs at Chicago this afternoon and the Los Angeles Dodgers are slated for a twi-night doubleheader at Pittsburgh with last year's surprise flag winners, the Pirates.

Any combination of two—a Cincinnati win plus a Dodger defeat, or a pair of Dodger losses—would give the NL another bust-to-boom champion, and would send the Reds into the World Series against New York's home run-blasting Yankees.

Cincinnati was idle Monday night. The Dodgers and Pirates were rained out, setting up their twi-nighter. In other NL games, the San Francisco Giants bombed the Philadelphia Phillies 10-2 with an 18-hit offensive and the Milwaukee Braves cut down the potential tying run at the plate in the ninth inning and edged the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1.

The Giants' free-swinging assault against the Phils was spearheaded by Orlando Cepeda and rookie catcher John Orsino.

Cepeda, on a torrid batting streak, had four hits and drove in four runs, boosting his league-leading RBI total to 140. Orsino homered twice and singled, while Willie Mays and Felipe Alou also contributed three hits each. Lefthander Mike McCormick (13-16) was tagged for 10 hits but won in a breeze. Don Farrarese (5-11), batted out early, was the loser.

The Braves saved their narrow decision over the Cards by cutting down Ken Boyer when he tried to score on an almost-wild pitch by Don McMahon. Ray Washburn (0-1), in his first big league start, gave up a first-inning homer to Hank Aaron and balked across the deciding run in the fourth. Milwaukee starter Carl Willey (6-12) collaborated on a five-hitter with McMahon.

Shaw (12-13) reached the ninth inning before his try for a no-hitter blew up. Dick McAuliffe led off the Tiger ninth and was safe on Dick Howser's wild throw, then Bubba Morton clipped the Kansas City right-hander for a solid single. An infield out, a sacrifice fly, Larry Osborne's homer and a single by Jake Wood followed before Frank House popped up for the last out.

A five-run burst in the eighth brought Detroit from behind in the opening game. Wood, pinch-batters Al Kaline and Vic Wertz, Bill Bruton and Morton knocked in the runs in the Tiger rally.

Cerv Out of Series; Will Have Operation

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees have lost a reserve outfielder and valued pinch hitter for the world series.

Bob Cerv, who set two records last Saturday when he hit the 12th pinch-homer of his career and the Yanks 10th of the season, entered the hospital for a cartilage operation on his right knee.

Reds Are Hoping For Clincher

CHICAGO (AP) — The pennant-hungry Cincinnati Reds have a chance today to win their first National League title in 21 years.

The Reds need only a victory over the Chicago Cubs and a Los Angeles defeat in one of two games with the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates.

Los Angeles, the only team with any chance of overhauling the Reds, was rained out at Pittsburgh Monday night. The Dodgers and the Pirates have rescheduled a doubleheader tonight.

Since Cincinnati's "magic number" is two, the Reds need to defeat the Cubs today to clinch a tie for the pennant. But, a Cincinnati victory and one Los Angeles loss will produce the title for Cincinnati — the first in more than two decades.

Should the Reds lose to the Cubs, they could still back into the league championship if Pittsburgh takes a pair from the fading Dodgers.

Slider Deprives Shaw of No-Hitter

KANSAS CITY (AP) —"I like to throw the slider but tonight I should have left it home," says Bob Shaw.

It was a slider that Bubba Morton drilled into center field for a single in the ninth inning Monday night, ending a no-hit bid by Shaw against the Detroit Tigers.

The 28-year-old Kansas City Athletics right-hander completed the game for his 12th victory against 13 losses, but he was touched for two more hits — one a home run by Larry Osborne—before the smoke cleared.

The Athletics won 6-3 after dropping the first game of a doubleheader 6-4.

All three Detroit hits came off sliders that "didn't do just right," Shaw commented after his great effort.

"No I didn't get tired," he said. "In fact I felt real good starting the ninth. Then I let that slider go and — bang — Morton hits it into center field. And that was the first pitch too."

Maris Resumes 60 HR Assault Against Orioles

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris, still looking for "a pitcher to make a mistake," resumes his search for his 60th home run tonight as the New York Yankees return to Yankee Stadium for their last five games of the regular season.

Baltimore, with a pitching staff that has allowed only two homers to the 27-year-old slugger, furnishes the opposition tonight and Wednesday afternoon, and the Boston Red Sox for the final three games—Friday night, and Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Maris, who'll have to settle for a 162-game record in his challenge to Babe Ruth's all-time total of 60 in 1927 if he manages to hit any more, isn't at all confident.

"They (the pitchers) aren't giving me anything to hit," he said. "I'd have a better chance at the Stadium if they pitched to me. But, you watch, they'll pitch me outside. The only way I'll get another one is if a pitcher makes a mistake."

The law of averages would indicate that Maris should hit at least one home run, possibly two, in the last five games. In 76 games at the Stadium, he has hit 28—an average of a home run every 2.7 games.

Alonzo Johnson Bows To Argentine Champ

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Argentine heavyweight Alejandro Lavorante jabbed Alonzo Johnson of Rankin, Pa., half blind, knocked him down twice and scored an unimous decision before 3,000 dissatisfied fans in Civic Auditorium Monday night.

Lavorante, at 207 pounds, to Johnson's 188, held a big height and reach advantage but still found difficulty coping with his smaller foe. Johnson continually tried to move inside, grabbing and clinching.

Finally in the ninth of 10 scheduled rounds, Lavorante put Johnson down with a left to the head. Johnson was up at four but took a mandatory eight count. Later in the same round a right put Johnson down for a three-count.

The crowd began jeering Johnson's clutch tactics as early as the third round and kept up the booing.

Skull Murphy, Von Hess

Plan Wrestling Card At Auditorium, Oct. 4

The professional wrestling caravan opens the fall season in Kingston next Wednesday, Oct. 4, with a double tag-team wind-up at the municipal auditorium.

Promoter Ed Ceccolini will present two tag team matches and three solo bouts featuring some of the game's top villains.

The feature event pairs Johnny Valentino and Bruno Sammartino, the new Italian sensation, against the veteran roughhouse combination of Don Curtis and Mark Lewin.

Bob Orton and the Great Scot tangle with the Billy Darnell-Bill Zbyszko tandem in the co-feature.

Two of the best known "bad men" in the business — Skull Murphy and Carl Von Hess return to the Broadway arena after a long absence.

Murphy takes on The Angel in a 30-minute time limit contest, while Von Hess is slated against Arnold Skoaland, the Swede from White Plains.

Stance

By SHARON KAY RITCHIE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Don't be in too much of a hurry to start rolling.

This is one of the first things professional bowlers tell you. Get set properly before you start. That's the reason for stressing the importance of the stance.

The word stance is defined as "mode of standing, or being placed." In other words, getting the feet and arms in position. In bowling, it's how you stand and the position of the arms before you begin the approach.

Boston University Seeking TD, Victory Against Army

WEST POINT, N. Y.—Unable to post a victory—or even a touchdown for that matter—in seven previous games with Army, Boston University visits Michie Stadium on Saturday poised for the kill on both counts.

Coach Steve Sinko has developed what is probably the strongest team in recent Terrier history. "In the past", the coach relates, "we never had enough bodies to make it a wholesome picture. For the first time we will be able to field two units of equal ability."

Key operatives for the Sinko charges are Jackie Farland, senior quarterback, and Hugh O'Flynn, a 195 pound halfback who averaged 4-plus yards a carry in '60, and Albie Stonkus who is the best break-away threat.

Bulwarks of a rather formidable line are Pete Perreault, 235 pound tackle, and Bill DiLorenzo, 220 pound guard. Sinko appraised this tandem as "finest in New England."

Not Optimistic

In this the first meeting between the two teams in nearly a quarter of a century, Army coach Dale Hall is not overly optimistic about this Cadet entry.

"We have not jelled as yet" Hale says, "and we may not find ourselves until late in the season due to a series of untimely injuries which have about wrecked our plans for playing platoons."

The Cadet's entire starting unit has remained intact since the close of spring practice. So far ahead of the pack are some of these regulars that they continue to prevail despite injuries. Halfback, Pete King, for example, has been nursing a bruised instep, and fullback, Al Rushatz, has several major bumps anyone of which might have sidelined the less hardy.

The remainder of the starting lineup will in all probability include: ends, John Ellerton and Paul Zmuida; tackles, Dale Kuhns and Chet Kempinski; guards, Captain Mike Casp and Barry Butzer; center, Mike Miller; quarterback, Dick Eckert; and halfback, George Kirschenbauer.

The Army line averages 207, and the backs 187.

Ruth Hit Home Run For Every 11.8 Times

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle are undoubtedly the outstanding home run hitters of 1961, but on a lifetime per at bat basis the New York Yankee sluggers are among the also-rans.

Babe Ruth, whose 60 homers, Maris will attempt to surpass during the Yanks' final five games, has 714 lifetime homers in 8,399 times at bat for an average of one home run in each 11.8 official try.

Maris, with 59 homers this year, has 156 in 2,450 total at bats for an average of one homer in every 15.7 trips. Mantle has 54 homers this season and a lifetime aggregate of 374 in 5,519 attempts for a 14.7 average.

Ralph Kiner is second to Ruth with a homer in each 14.1 times at bat. The former Pittsburgh star had 369 circuit blows in 5,205 official trips. Mantle is third followed by Ted Williams 14.8 and Jimmy Foxx ,15.2. Williams had 521 circuits in 7,706 at bats and Foxx had 534 homers in 8,134 official plate appearances.

Finley Demands A Frick Apology

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Charles O. Finley owner of the Kansas City Athletics, says an apology should be made to him over a hassle with a sports writer.

Finley made a "poison pen award" to Ernest Mehl, sports editor of the Kansas City Star, at a game Aug. 20 after Mehl had criticized Finley's handling of the ball club.

Baseball commissioner Ford Frick on Aug. 23 told the Associated Press in New York:

"Such things do not belong in baseball and I called Mehl this morning and apologized to him, both personally and in the name of baseball."

Finley has sent a 20-page letter, dated Sept. 5, to Frick requesting the commissioner to withdraw that apology.

"If any apology is due, it should come to me, because I have done no moral wrong but have myself been the victim of one of the most scurrilous attacks in baseball history," he said.

Frick refused to comment in New York Monday on whether he had apologized to Mehl.

There was no comment from Mehl.

Don't be in too much of a hurry to start rolling.

This is one of the first things professional bowlers tell you. Get set properly before you start. That's the reason for stressing the importance of the stance.

The weight of the ball should rest on the non-bowling hand while in the stance position. Elbows should be close to sides.

Ruth Hit Home Run For Every 11.8 Times

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle are undoubtedly the outstanding home run hitters of 1961, but on a lifetime per at bat basis the New York Yankee sluggers are among the also-rans.

Babe Ruth, whose 60 homers, Maris will attempt to surpass during the Yanks' final five games, has 714 lifetime homers in 8,399 times at bat for an average of one home run in each 11.8 official try.

Maris, with 59 homers this year, has 156 in 2,450 total at bats for an average of one homer in every 15.7 trips. Mantle has 54 homers this season and a lifetime aggregate of 374 in 5,519 attempts for a 14.7 average.

Ralph Kiner is second to Ruth with a homer in each 14.1 times at bat. The former Pittsburgh star had 369 circuit blows in 5,205 official trips. Mantle is third followed by Ted Williams 14.8 and Jimmy Foxx 15.2. Williams had 521 circuits in 7,706 at bats and Foxx had 534 homers in 8,134 official plate appearances.

Boston University Seeking TD, Victory Against Army

WEST POINT, N. Y.—Unable to post a victory—or even a touchdown for that matter—in seven previous games with Army, Boston University visits Michie Stadium on Saturday poised for the kill on both counts.

Coach Steve Sinko has developed what is probably the strongest team in recent Terrier history. "In the past", the coach relates, "we never had enough bodies to make it a wholesome picture. For the first time we will be able to field two units of equal ability."

Key operatives for the Sinko charges are Jackie Farland, senior quarterback, and Hugh O'Flynn, a 195 pound halfback who averaged 4-plus yards a carry in '60, and Albie Stonkus who is the best break-away threat.

Bulwarks of a rather formidable line are Pete Perreault, 235 pound tackle, and Bill DiLorenzo, 220 pound guard. Sinko appraised this tandem as "finest in New England."

Not Optimistic

In this the first meeting between the two teams in nearly a quarter of a century, Army coach Dale Hall is not overly optimistic about this Cadet entry.

"We have not jelled as yet" Hale says, "and we may not find ourselves until late in the season due to a series of untimely injuries which have about wrecked our plans for playing platoons."

The Cadet's entire starting unit has remained intact since the close of spring practice. So far ahead of the pack are some of these regulars that they continue to prevail despite injuries. Halfback, Pete King, for example, has been nursing a bruised instep, and fullback, Al Rushatz, has several major bumps anyone of which might have sidelined the less hardy.

The remainder of the starting lineup will in all probability include: ends, John Ellerton and Paul Zmuida; tackles, Dale Kuhns and Chet Kempinski; guards, Captain Mike Casp and Barry Butzer; center, Mike Miller; quarterback, Dick Eckert; and halfback, George Kirschenbauer.

The Army line averages 207, and the backs 187.

Roberson-Partner Card Best Ball 67

Scotty Robertson of Wiltwyck Country Club teamed with amateur Bill Gooey of Western Tunrpike for a best-ball 67 in Monday's Northeastern PGA Pro-Member tournament at Western Turnpike links.

Robertson also had a 69 with another partner, John Provenzano. Jim Hutchins of Woodstock and Vic Jabukiak posted a net 69.

Three winning teams shared the best ball lead at 62, ten under par. They were Jim Farina, Ballston, and John Murray, 31-31-62; Eddie Schultz, Troy, and George H. Knauf, 33-29-62; and Armand Farnia, Schenectady, and Mike Petruska, 31-31-62.

Jim Farnia led the pro division with 35-35-70. Runnersup were John Gaucas, Van Schaick, 38-33-71 and Armand Farina, 39-32-71.

Hutchins carded 38-38-76 and Robertson had 37-39-76.

Buffalo Has Lead In Junior Series

BUFFAO, N. Y. (AP)—Kerby Farrell of the Buffalo Bisons was halfway home today in becoming the first manager in Junior World Series history to win the title for both represented leagues.

His hard-hitting Bisons turned defensive giants Monday night to move into a 2-0 lead in the best-of-7 series with a 2-0 victory over the Louisville Colonels of the American Association.

In 1956 Farrell's Indianapolis club of the AA defeated Rochester in four straight games for the minor league championship.

Monday night the International League team scored one run in the first and protected Billy Smith's five-hitter with sensational defensive maneuvers.

Ted Savage gave the Bisons an insurance run in the eighth inning when he blasted Ken MacKenzie's first relief pitch for a home run.

Cecil Butler is expected to pitch for Louisville tonight in the third game. His opponent will be Wally Seward.

John Podres' Dad Dies of Pneumonia

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — Joseph Podres, 52, of Witherbee, N.Y., father of Los Angeles pitcher Johnny Podres, died Monday night at Mary Fletcher Hospital while his son was flying to the bedside.

The elder Podres had been suffering from double pneumonia and complications. He entered the hospital 10 days ago.

The Dodgers pitcher learned baseball from his father, a semi-professional ball player in New York State in his youth.

The son came to Burlington when his father first entered the hospital, then returned to baseball. He was in Pittsburgh with the Dodgers when he was notified his father had suffered a relapse Monday morning. Podres boarded an afternoon plane in Pittsburgh but his father died at 7:35 p.m. before he arrived.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For the superlative-minded, "West Side Story" is the most expensive musical film ever made. It's also one of the best.

How can the brothers Mirisch spend $6 million on a musical? Especially one with a single expensive star—Natalie Wood at $250,000?

Take a high-priced stage property. Add a year's preparation with top talent—$250,000 on screen tests alone. Rehearse for three months. Shoot for half a year. Do it in color, stereo sound and 70mm film. The bill mounts.

Profit or no, the film version was worth the chance. There has never been greater dancing on the screen. Number after number stirred Hollywood previewers to applause.

The theme seems forbidding for a musical. It is the story of a power clash between a native New York City gang and another of Puerto Rican newcomers. Two lovers, one from each side, are caught in the middle.

"West Side Story" is really a dance opera. The powerful dances of Jerome Robbins and the highly charged music of Leonard Bernstein are perfect for the milling and rumbling of the New York gangs.

But the device has its drawbacks, especially in dramatic moments. When the brother and sweetheart of the leading actresses is killed, the girls break into a duet. Credibility is strained.

Otherwise you're with the warring Jets and Sharks all the way, fascinated with their animal energy and appalled by their violence. Robert Wise, as producer and co-director, has done a fine job of holding the story together.

"West Side Story" is a star-making film. Natalie Wood, disappointing as Marjorie Morningstar, comes through as a top dramatic actress. Richard Beymer is her ill-starred lover is engaging and effective; he'll be around for a long time.

Russ Tamblyn is tough and gymnastic, and Rita Moreno does her best work to date. George Chakiris, leader of the Puerto Rican gang, is a real find. He's got star quality.

The film has one jarring note. The law is represented by a gorilla-like cop and a detective who is brutal and bigoted. This adds nothing to the plot and only underlines the gangs' belief the law is worthy of contempt.

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Iowa, which doesn't open its season until Saturday, was voted the top college football team in the country today in the first regular-season Associated Press weekly poll.

The special national panel of 49 sports writers and sportscasters gave the Hawkeyes, who tangle with California in their opener, 343 points to 332 for second-place Mississippi and 309 for third-place Ohio State, another outfit that doesn't get rolling until Saturday.

The points were based on the formula of 10 for first place, 9 for second and so on.

Iowa, which also led the preseason poll, received 19 first place votes to 12 for Mississippi and 7 for Ohio State. The Buckeyes, second to Iowa in the preseason poll, play Texas Christian in their first game Saturday.

Mississippi's smoothly contrived 16-0 victory over Arkansas in a nationally televised game last week obviously impressed the panel. Ole Miss was placed no better than ninth in the preseason poll with a mere two first-place votes.

Jaycees Support College Proposal

At the September membership meeting of the Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce a resolution supporting the community college referendum, proposed by the county board of supervisors, was approved.

In addition to supporting this issue, the Jaycees are furnishing manpower to inform the public of the need for the college by working with other local groups and a countywide committee.

Paul Bouche and Charles Fort gave a report on welfare in Ulster County. Emphasis was placed on the welfare expenditures rather than the philosophy of welfare implementation.

The Jaycee "Man of the Month" award was presented to Terry Martin for his active participation in the Operation Patriotism project.

Six new members were installed at this month's meeting and presented with their Jaycee pins by Curt Bauer, Jaycee state president. New members are Ray Appleby, Victor Fox, Robert Marsh, Richard Sanders, Charles Tiano, Serge Triau and Robert Tutt.

Bauer spoke briefly, discussing Jayceeism and what the organization can do in the field of community development.

All local young men between the ages of 21 and 35 who are interested in community development may attend the Jaycee meetings held the third Monday of every month at the Stonewall Hotel. For further information on Jaycee activities Joseph Di Domenico may be contacted.

Demand to Bid a Minor Suit

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

West's spade opening was one of those distributional bids that are highly popular in most expert circles. North's two no-trump was the "unusual notrump," asking partner to bid a minor suit. With eleven minor suit cards North had a perfect hand for this convention.

East's double announced general strength and after South jumped to five diamonds West passed the hand around to his partner and, needless to say, East doubled.

West cashed his ace and king of spades and shifted to a club. East made one club trick and the hand was down one.

At the other table West decided to pass. North opened one diamond. East passed. South bid a heart and West jumped to three spades. North passed, East bid four spades, South five diamonds and West five spades.

North doubled this and opened the king of diamonds. West ruffed, laid down the ace and king of spades to drop North's queen, lost a trick to the ace of hearts and eventually made six when the club finesse worked for him.

Of course, this particular pair was lucky. West was flying blind in a fog when he bid five spades, but he sure landed safely.

Buffalo Has Lead In Junior Series

BUFFAO, N. Y. (AP)—Kerby Farrell of the Buffalo Bisons was halfway home today in becoming the first manager in Junior World Series history to win the title for both represented leagues.

His hard-hitting Bisons turned defensive giants Monday night to move into a 2-0 lead in the best-of-7 series with a 2-0 victory over the Louisville Colonels of the American Association.

In 1956 Farrell's Indianapolis club of the AA defeated Rochester in four straight games for the minor league championship.

Monday night the International League team scored one run in the first and protected Billy Smith's five-hitter with sensational defensive maneuvers.

Ted Savage gave the Bisons an insurance run in the eighth inning when he blasted Ken MacKenzie's first relief pitch for a home run.

Cecil Butler is expected to pitch for Louisville tonight in the third game. His opponent will be Wally Seward.

John Podres' Dad Dies of Pneumonia

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — Joseph Podres, 52, of Witherbee, N.Y., father of Los Angeles pitcher Johnny Podres, died Monday night at Mary Fletcher Hospital while his son was flying to the bedside.

The elder Podres had been suffering from double pneumonia and complications. He entered the hospital 10 days ago.

The Dodgers pitcher learned baseball from his father, a semi-professional ball player in New York State in his youth.

The son came to Burlington when his father first entered the hospital, then returned to baseball. He was in Pittsburgh with the Dodgers when he was notified his father had suffered a relapse Monday morning. Podres boarded an afternoon plane in Pittsburgh but his father died at 7:35 p.m. before he arrived.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For the superlative-minded, "West Side Story" is the most expensive musical film ever made. It's also one of the best.

How can the brothers Mirisch spend $6 million on a musical? Especially one with a single expensive star—Natalie Wood at $250,000?

Take a high-priced stage property. Add a year's preparation with top talent—$250,000 on screen tests alone. Rehearse for three months. Shoot for half a year. Do it in color, stereo sound and 70mm film. The bill mounts.

Profit or no, the film version was worth the chance. There has never been greater dancing on the screen. Number after number stirred Hollywood previewers to applause.

The theme seems forbidding for a musical. It is the story of a power clash between a native New York City gang and another of Puerto Rican newcomers. Two lovers, one from each side, are caught in the middle.

"West Side Story" is really a dance opera. The powerful dances of Jerome Robbins and the highly charged music of Leonard Bernstein are perfect for the milling and rumbling of the New York gangs.

But the device has its drawbacks, especially in dramatic moments. When the brother and sweetheart of the leading actresses is killed, the girls break into a duet. Credibility is strained.

Otherwise you're with the warring Jets and Sharks all the way, fascinated with their animal energy and appalled by their violence. Robert Wise, as producer and co-director, has done a fine job of holding the story together.

"West Side Story" is a star-making film. Natalie Wood, disappointing as Marjorie Morningstar, comes through as a top dramatic actress. Richard Beymer is her ill-starred lover is engaging and effective; he'll be around for a long time.

Russ Tamblyn is tough and gymnastic, and Rita Moreno does her best work to date. George Chakiris, leader of the Puerto Rican gang, is a real find. He's got star quality.

The film has one jarring note. The law is represented by a gorilla-like cop and a detective who is brutal and bigoted. This adds nothing to the plot and only underlines the gangs' belief the law is worthy of contempt.

Iowa Voted Top Team In AP Poll

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Iowa, which doesn't open its season until Saturday, was voted the top college football team in the country today in the first regular-season Associated Press weekly poll.

The special national panel of 49 sports writers and sportscasters gave the Hawkeyes, who tangle with California in their opener, 343 points to 332 for second-place Mississippi and 309 for third-place Ohio State, another outfit that doesn't get rolling until Saturday.

The points were based on the formula of 10 for first place, 9 for second and so on.

Iowa, which also led the preseason poll, received 19 first place votes to 12 for Mississippi and 7 for Ohio State. The Buckeyes, second to Iowa in the preseason poll, play Texas Christian in their first game Saturday.

Mississippi's smoothly contrived 16-0 victory over Arkansas in a nationally televised game last week obviously impressed the panel. Ole Miss was placed no better than ninth in the preseason poll with a mere two first-place votes.

The top 10 teams — first place votes in parentheses:

Iowa (19)	343
Mississippi (12)	332
Ohio State (7)	309
Alabama (6)	307
Syracuse	233
Texas (1)	227
Rice (2)	220
Penn State (2)	192
UCLA	98
Michigan State	80

Other teams receiving votes: Missouri, Baylor, Georgia Tech, Texas Christian, Purdue, Kansas, Florida, Maryland, Louisiana State, Duke, Minnesota, Oregon, Pitt, Kansas State, Auburn, Notre Dame, Army, Wyoming, Wisconsin, North Carolina State, Colorado, Mississippi State, Tennessee, Utah State, Furman, California.

STALKING TIPS

AFTER MAKING A SLOW, CAREFUL STALK BY KEEPING TREES, BRUSH, A HILL OR SIMILAR OBSTRUCTION BETWEEN YOU AND YOUR QUARRY, AND BY KEEPING WIND IN YOUR FAVOR, YOU CAN RUIN IT BY SHOWING YOURSELF AT A CRITICAL MOMENT: DON'T PEER OVER THE TOP OF A ROCK, OR PRESENT YOURSELF AGAINST THE SKYLINE; KEEP LOW, AND SLOWLY PEER AROUND SHADED SIDE OF OBSTRUCTION AFTER REMOVING HEADGEAR (IF BALD, DON'T LET SUN SHINE ON YOUR HEAD).

IF UNEXPECTEDLY EXPOSED, OR YOU MUST CROSS OPEN GROUND, FREEZE MOTIONLESS IF ANIMAL LOOKS YOUR WAY. THEN MOVE ONLY WHEN IT LOOKS AWAY OR LOWERS HEAD TO FEED.

Jaycees Support College Proposal

At the September membership meeting of the Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce a resolution supporting the community college referendum, proposed by the county board of supervisors, was approved.

In addition to supporting this issue, the Jaycees are furnishing manpower to inform the public of the need for the college by working with other local groups and a countywide committee.

Paul Bouche and Charles Fort gave a report on welfare in Ulster County. Emphasis was placed on the welfare expenditures rather than the philosophy of welfare implementation.

The Jaycee "Man of the Month" award was presented to Terry Martin for his active participation in the Operation Patriotism project.

Six new members were installed at this month's meeting and presented with their Jaycee pins by Curt Bauer, Jaycee state president. New members are Ray Appleby, Victor Fox, Robert Marsh, Richard Sanders, Charles Tiano, Serge Triau and Robert Tutt.

Bauer spoke briefly, discussing Jayceeism and what the organization can do in the field of community development.

All local young men between the ages of 21 and 35 who are interested in community development may attend the Jaycee meetings held the third Monday of every month at the Stonewall Hotel. For further information on Jaycee activities Joseph Di Domenico may be contacted.

Demand to Bid a Minor Suit

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

West's spade opening was one of those distributional bids that are highly popular in most expert circles. North's two no-trump was the "unusual notrump," asking partner to bid a minor suit. With eleven minor suit cards North had a perfect hand for this convention.

East's double announced general strength and after South jumped to five diamonds West passed the hand around to his partner and, needless to say, East doubled.

West cashed his ace and king of spades and shifted to a club. East made one club trick and the hand was down one.

At the other table West decided to pass. North opened one diamond. East passed. South bid a heart and West jumped to three spades. North passed, East bid four spades, South five diamonds and West five spades.

North doubled this and opened the king of diamonds. West ruffed, laid down the ace and king of spades to drop North's queen, lost a trick to the ace of hearts and eventually made six when the club finesse worked for him.

Of course, this particular pair was lucky. West was flying blind in a fog when he bid five spades, but he sure landed safely.

State Concludes Double Slaying Case in Queens

NEW YORK (AP) — The first degree murder trial of alleged double slayer Frederick Wood moved into the defense phase today before an all-male Queens County jury.

The prosecution closed its case against the 48-year-old former Elmira resident Monday by reading a purported confession police said Wood made and signed shortly after his arrest.

In the confession, Wood is quoted as mocking the State Parole board for releasing him from prison on an earlier murder conviction a few days before the slaying of two elderly Astoria men.

The confession quoted Wood as admitting he wrote a note after the slayings saying "God bless the parole board; they're really intelligent people."

Wood is accused of fatally beating and stabbing Frederick Sess, 78, and John Rescigno, 62, in their Astoria apartment June 30, 1960.

The slayings occurred a few days after Wood was released after serving 17 years of a 20-year-to-life sentence for the 1942 murder of John Lowman, 42, in an Elmira rooming house.

Wood was paroled under protests by Elmira officials, and had unsuccessfully attempted to escape trial on the grounds of insanity.

Phoenicia Scout Receives Award From Church

Henry Bernstein Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bernstein of South Street, Phoenicia, was the first recipient of St. Francis de Sales Parish to receive the Parvuli Dei Award. It was presented to Bernstein by the Assistant Pastor, the Rev. F. Milos, following 7:30 Mass on Sunday.

The Parvuli Dei Award is a recognition that the Catholic Church gives to Cub Scouts for advancement in religious knowledge and spiritual formation. The purpose of the award is to help the Cub Scout become more aware of God's presence in his daily life.

Young Bernstein began working on the Parvuli Dei Award requirements, (12 in all,) during May 1960 when he became a registered Lion Cub Scout, and completed the requirements during May 1961. The requirements and log book were reviewed by the Rev. John Gorman, M.S., pastor of St. Francis de Sales, and endorsed by James P. Hefferan, cubmaster of Phoenicia Cub Pack 60, Alex MacDonald, Rip Van Winkle Council Scout Executive, and the Very Rev. Msgr. Gregory L. Mooney, Archdiocesan Scout Chaplain of New York.

Since the Parvuli Dei Award application was endorsed in May 1961, young Bernstein attended summer camp at Camp Idlewild, Center Harbor, New Hampshire, and was recently inducted as a Boy Scout by Scoutmaster Clifford Segelken of Phoenicia Boy Scout Troop 60.

See New Farm Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman predicts the net income per farm will set a new record average of $3,300 this year, up a little more than one-fourth over last year.

Net income is the amount left operators after paying production costs.

Freeman predicts the total net farm income this year will be $12.8 billion, which would be slightly more than $1 billion above last year and the highest since 1953. Freeman's forecasts are based on latest reports of farm marketings, crop production and market and price prospects.

JFK Uncle Again

BOSTON (AP)—President Kennedy became an uncle again today.

A son was born at St. Elizabeth's Hospital to Joan Kennedy, wife of Edward M. Kennedy, the President's youngest brother.

The baby is the second child of Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy. They have a daughter, Kara, born 18 months ago.

The mother is the former Joan Bennett of Bronxville, N.Y. Her heritage is Republican, but she was an active campaigner for her brother-in-law in the presidential campaign.

Humphrey Says Speech for Gain In U.S. Prestige

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was credited today by Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., with having recouped in his address to the United Nations some U.S. prestige losses on Cuba and Laos.

Humphrey, the assistant Democratic leader who had worked closely with White House experts on the disarmament program the President laid down Monday, called the speech "the most remarkable and moving message of a political leader in the history of our country."

Sees Stigma Erased

Humphrey said it went a long way toward erasing the prestige-losing stigma of the Cuban invasion fiasco and the failure to follow strong words with action in Laos.

To Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, top Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, it was "a great speech."

"The President called a spade a spade," Wiley said. "He was equal to the occasion."

Eisenhower Comment

In Gettysburg, Pa., former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who recently has been critical of some of Kennedy's foreign policy actions, said he was impressed very deeply that "the President said there is no additional security in merely pursuing a spiral of arms racing.

"He saw clearly that there could be a weakening. We saw here a definite desire to protect our country."

Eisenhower said he agreed with GOP National Chairman William E. Miller — a vigorous critic of Kennedy's foreign policies — that in his speech the President was "summing up and expressing very eloquently the aspirations of the American people for the last years."

Convict German In Gen. Slander

AUGSBURG, Germany (AP) — Reporter Siegfried Naujocks of the "Overseas Weekly" was convicted by a German court today of slandering Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

The court ordered a fine of 1,200 marks—$300—or 30 days in jail.

After three days of testimony the court ruled that Naujocks, a German citizen, slandered Walker in telling three members of Walker's division last December that the general suffered from a brain tumor and that he had seen a medical report proving it. He never produced such a report in court.

U.S. Army doctors who examined Walker at the time testified no brain tumor was ever found.

The trial was based on a complaint filed by Walker after word of the brain tumor stories reached him.

Naujocks was one of the authors of a report published last April by "Overseas Weekly" in which Walker was accused of distributing material from the controversial John Birch Society in his troop information program.

The report prompted an Army investigation. The general was relieved of comman of his division and admonished by the Army commander in chief in Europe, Gen. Bruce C. Clark.

Tammany Favors Cavanagh to Take Over for DeSapio

NEW YORK (AP) — Tammany Hall district leaders have designated Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr., Mayor Robert F. Wagner's campaign manager, as their choice for chairman of the New York County (Manhattan) Democratic Committee.

A similar caucus of insurgent Democratic district leaders has been called for late today.

If the insurgents go along with the choice of Cavanagh, it will be a victory for Wagner in bringing about at least a temporary truce between the organization and insurgent factions in Manhattan.

Cavanagh, who is on leave as fire commissioner to manage Wagner's campaign for a third four-year term, has told both factions that he would accept the county chairmanship only on a temporary basis and would resign immediately after the Nov. election.

DeSapio failed to win re-election as a district leader in Greenwich Village in the Sept. 7 primary.

Wallkill Man Is Ruled Suicide

The victim was identified as John Duebel, who lived alone.

Coroner Francis J. McCardle said Duebel died of asphyxia due to hanging. He gave a verdict of suicide and said the victim had no immediate survivors.

The body was discovered by two neighborhood children, who notified their parents. Troopers were called.

Duebel reportedly had been in ill health and under the care of a physician more than a year.

The body was removed to the Jesse McHugh Funeral Home, Wallkill.

MARY MARGARET McBRIDE of West Shokan was an interested spectator at the annual exhibition of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen which opened at the gallery last week. The exhibit will continue through September 30 and is open every day from 1 to 5:30 p. m. On display are the finest examples of craftsmanship from this area in many classifications. Pictured above (l-r) are Judy Chase, a Guild student shown at the loom; Elsie Russell, Associate Editor of Reader's Digest; Miss McBride; Isabel Dougherty, Guild President, and Courtney Marvin, Director of Publicity for the Guild.

Reformed Church News and Notes

The Woodstock Reformed Church announces two activities for children in the fourth through eighth grades. Junior Christian Endeavor meets every Friday evening from 7 to 9 p. m. under the direction of Irving and Fay Cousins and Louis Wolff and his wife, Norma.

The program is geared to the instruction of children in the arts of group worship, reading of the Scriptures, leading in prayer, and the presentation of topics. Excellent filmstrips are shown, giving further guidance in character building and Christian fellowship. This week instead of the usual 7 p. m. hour, the group is meeting at the Cousins' home for a picnic. Interested persons may call Mrs. Cousins for information and transportation.

The second activity for youngsters in the fourth through eighth grades is the Junior Choir which rehearses every Saturday morning at 10:30 a. m. Pastor Olson is directing the group for the time being. This choir sings frequently at morning worship and participates in the Junior Choir festival every year in March, a large gathering of junior choirs from many churches in Ulster and Greene counties.

All children in the above age group are cordially invited to join either or both of these activities. For further information, call Pastor Olson.

On Sunday, Oct. 1, the Sunday School bus will again make its run through the Bearsville Flats. The bus leaves the church at 9 a. m. All children and adults who can and desire to may board the bus which takes them to and from Sunday School. There are classes for children two and over, as well as an adult class. Sunday School begins at 9:30 a. m. and ends at 10:40 a. m.

Communion Sunday

Sunday is World Wide Communion Sunday. The Reformed Church will celebrate the Sacrament of Lord's Supper at the 11 a. m. worship service. All Christians who are believers in the Lord Jesus Christ and members of some evangelical Christian Church are invited to participate in the Sacrament with us. The significance of World Wide Communion Sunday hardly needs to be pointed out this year. There is no possible way to predict that the united prayers of the World Church can mean so far as world peace is concerned. The church nursery will care for the children of worshippers.

Members of the Consistory will hold their Retreat this Sunday, Oct. 1, at the 4-H camp in Rifton. The Rev. Gerrit Wullschleger of the New Paltz Reformed Church will assist the pastor in conducting the afternoon session, and the Rev. Leonard Sibley will be on hand to speak of the benevolent work of the church during the evening meal. All members of the Consistory are expecting this retreat to be of immense significance to them personally, as well of great benefit to the entire congregation.

The calendar for this week: Monday, Oct. 2, stewardship committee, 8 p. m.; Tuesday, Oct. 3, Consistory, 8 p. m.; Thursday, Oct. 5, senior choir, 7:30 p. m.; Friday, Oct. 6, Junior Christian Endeavor, 7 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 7, junior choir, 10:30 a. m.

H. Schimmerling Recalls Mene Tekel Upharsin

The increase in the number of unhappy marriages, broken homes and divorces was mentioned last Saturday by Billy Graham. On Sunday it was discussed by one of the David Susskind panels. I just read about the progress of industrialization in one of the formerly agricultural countries of Europe. It grows in the same proportion as the divorces in the USA. And the road and factory building activities in said country and others grow as the broken homes, cases of mentally unbalanced people and juvenile delinquency grows in other lands.

Did our own foreign language study program grow? For years I have advocated such program in this area, apparently with little success. There are still parents of 12 year old or older "Monolingual" children; and they don't move a finger to change the situation. The other day I met a girl who is in her third year French. She could not say in French "I have to be at home at 5:30 p. m." Among the 15 people I met two weeks ago in a party, there were 10 foreign born and 5 American born guests. Those natives of and educated in Austria, Germany, Holland and France spoke from 2 to 4 languages; among the 5 American born there was one who struggled with Spanish, the other 4 just spoke English.

An American girl (her father German born) came back from oversea last summer. She studied abroad. She is 15 and speaks two foreign languages. She says she is ready to start a third one. Three youngsters of this area went oversea: one to Scotland, another one to Holland to get better education; the third one, a college graduate went to Austria and Germany for better training in music. The two Israeli youngsters, a boy and a girl scout of 17 with their knowledge of four languages whom I heard the other night on the Betty Furness program are apparently not "exceptional cases" anymore. If the situation in our monolingual education does not change radically, we shall be the exception: the nations of the world will understand our language, but we shall not understand theirs.

Like Ancient Rome

Billy Graham found a most pessimistic parallel between our country and the ancient Roman Empire in its last centuries. He blames greed, lust, money-mindedness, self complacency, egotism for this degeneration of society. May I add the over-emphasized commercialism and the glorified high standard of living which seems to overshadow our spiritual life. "Take it, do it, if it tastes well and pleases you," is the slogan to satify one' ego, "no matter whether you hurt yourself or others."

Even after the connection between lung cancer and smoking was established beyond doubt, enormous amounts of money and energies are spent for advertising more and more new brands of cigarets. The agents of Death are well-paid salesmen, indeed. Our leaders, instructors, executives, officials do not see anything wrong nor do they see any danger in the above mentioned facts; or if they realize it, they don't know how to remedy the situation. How can they? They were not trained to do such jobs; they are not prepared for it. Our leaders, etc. of today are the victims of a "Weltanschauung" which they, combined with insufficient training and the little discipline, absorbed when they were still students some 25 or 30 years ago. What leaders do we have to expect 25 or 30 years from now? Perhaps we should import them as we did the great conductors from Kousevitzky to Toscanini, from Szell to Munch, from Bruno Walter to Steinberg. If we get such people like Einstein and Dr. Teller . . . ,alright; but if we don't. . . .

We are preparing against an assault from beyond our borders with missiles, submarines, guns, bombs. Perhap we have to do this. But do we realize that our worst enemy is right here within our borders. This reminds me of that deadly sick person who surrounds himself with a heavily armed bodyguard. He was afraid somebody might attack him. But the expected enemy did not attack. Either the enemy was afraid himself or he knew that the patient would die anyway. Mene Tekel Upharsin, the handwriting on the wall be our reminder to struggle for our survival, to do better, to work harder. To do our share and duty?

No, to do more than our share and duty. This is the only proof that you love your country.

—H. A. Schimmerling

PO Art Show Closes Friday

Because of the exigencies of hanging the October post office exhibition, the current show will close Friday afternoon instead of Saturday.

The October exhibition, opening Oct. 2, will include drawings and prints in various media, but all black and white.

The exhibitors will include Robert Angeloch, John McClellan, Gladys Mitchell, Andrea Ruellen, Florence Webster, Earle Winslow and Henry Winzenreid. The participating artists will show works in water color, charcoal, lithographs and woodblock prints.

This show will be reviewed in next week's paper.

Christian Science Theme Is: 'Unreality'

The importance of distinguishing between sound and unsound thoughts will be brought out at Christian Science services in Woodstock Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Unreality" will include these verses from Psalm 119: "I hate vain thoughts: but thy law do I love . . . Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and thy law is the truth."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this citation will be read (p. 288): "The suppositional warfare between truth and error is only the mental conflict between the evidence of the spiritual senses and the testimony of the material senses, and this warfare between the Spirit and flesh will settle all questions through faith in and the understanding of divine Love."

Canada ranks third among nations of the world in size, with only China and the Soviet Union being larger.

Crippled Girl Steals Show

Missouri Youngster Feted at MD Party

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A 7-year-old St. Louis, Mo., girl, crippled with muscular dystrophy, was the star and guest of honor Monday night at one of the nicest parties ever held in Hollywood.

Jerry Lewis was host to more than 300 TV and movie names at the Coconut Grove affair.

Lewis is national chairman of the muscular dystrophy drive.

Guest of honor was Lola Lucas, a third-grader in the Missouri city, who will be poster girl for the Muscular Dystrophy Association drive for funds in November.

The cute youngster, sitting in a wheel chair at ringside, was entertained by Lewis, Johnny Mathis, Connie Stevens, the Ink Spots, Donald O'Connor, Jaye P. Morgan, the Wiere Brothers, Hoagy Carmichael, Art Linkletter and Vivien Della Chiesa.

Lola, undaunted by the star competition, easily stole the show.

Linkletter, in an impromptu interview, asked he rhow her parents first knew she had muscular dystrophy.

"When I was 9 months old," the girl answered, "my Mama and Papa didn't hear the pitter-patter of little feet. They just heard a thud, thud."

Thefts Investigated By Po'keepsie Police

Stanley Bloomer, operator of a service station at 724 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, notified police that someone entered the station through a basement window. Police said the intruder pried open the cash register and a cigaret vending machine and stole the money.

Police Chief John L. Martin said the refreshment stand at the high school football field was entered and loot consisting of potato chips, doughnuts and hot dog rolls was taken.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Onondaga Coach Corp. of Auburn will take over part of the service Greyhound Corp. provides between Rochester and Syracuse.

The Public Service Commission approved today a plan under which Onondaga Coach will provide local bus service between Syracuse and Geneva on Route 5 and between Syracuse and Port Byron on Route 31.

Greyhound will operate only between Geneva and Rochester on Route 5. It will continue service between Syracuse and Rochester, via Port Byron, on Route 31.

On the Route 31 line, Greyhound was authorized to provide local service eastbound between 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. and westbound between 1 and 4 p.m., when Onondaga Coach has no trips scheduled.

Onondaga Coach announced that present schedules and fares would be retained when it begins to serve its new routes.

Youths to Hear Term Thursday In Jailer Death

WARSAW, N.Y. (AP)—Two 17-year-old youths convicted of first-degree murder in the beating of a jailer during a jailbreak attempt will be sentenced Thursday.

A Wyoming County Court jury Monday night recommended life imprisonment for Gary W. Oddy of Glens Falls and Harry L. Barr of Albany after returning the convictions. The panel of eight men and four women deliberated about 4½ hours.

The jailer, Blakeley B. Humphrey of Warsaw, died 10 days after he was beaten with a coiled bedspring in the youth's attempted escape from the county jail May 16. Humphrey had brought supper to their cell.

Oddy and Barr were grabbed by sheriff's deputies before they could flee the jail.

The pair had been arrested April 16 as fugitives from the State School at Industry and charged with automobile theft.

State Concludes Double Slaying Case in Queens

NEW YORK (AP) — The first degree murder trial of alleged double slayer Frederick Wood moved into the defense phase today before an all-male Queens County jury.

The prosecution closed its case against the 48-year-old former Elmira resident Monday by reading a purported confession police said Wood made and signed shortly after his arrest.

In the confession, Wood is quoted as mocking the State Parole board for releasing him from prison on an earlier murder conviction a few days before the slaying of two elderly Astoria men.

The confession quoted Wood as admitting he wrote a note after the slayings saying "God bless the parole board; they're really intelligent people."

Wood is accused of fatally beating and stabbing Frederick Sess, 78, and John Rescigno, 62, in their Astoria apartment June 30, 1960.

The slayings occurred a few days after Wood was released after serving 17 years of a 20-year-to-life sentence for the 1942 murder of John Lowman, 42, in an Elmira rooming house.

Wood was paroled under protests by Elmira officials, and had unsuccessfully attempted to escape trial on the grounds of insanity.

Phoenicia Scout Receives Award From Church

Henry Bernstein Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bernstein of South Street, Phoenicia, was the first recipient of St. Francis de Sales Parish to receive the Parvuli Dei Award. It was presented to Bernstein by the Assistant Pastor, the Rev. F. Milos, following 7:30 Mass on Sunday.

The Parvuli Dei Award is a recognition that the Catholic Church gives to Cub Scouts for advancement in religious knowledge and spiritual formation. The purpose of the award is to help the Cub Scout become more aware of God's presence in his daily life.

Young Bernstein began working on the Parvuli Dei Award requirements, (12 in all,) during May 1960 when he became a registered Lion Cub Scout, and completed the requirements during May 1961. The requirements and log book were reviewed by the Rev. John Gorman, M.S., pastor of St. Francis de Sales, and endorsed by James P. Hefferan, cubmaster of Phoenicia Cub Pack 60, Alex MacDonald, Rip Van Winkle Council Scout Executive, and the Very Rev. Msgr. Gregory L. Mooney, Archdiocesan Scout Chaplain of New York.

Since the Parvuli Dei Award application was endorsed in May 1961, young Bernstein attended summer camp at Camp Idlewild, Center Harbor, New Hampshire, and was recently inducted as a Boy Scout by Scoutmaster Clifford Segelken of Phoenicia Boy Scout Troop 60.

See New Farm Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman predicts the net income per farm will set a new record average of $3,300 this year, up a little more than one-fourth over last year.

Net income is the amount left operators after paying production costs.

Freeman predicts the total net farm income this year will be $12.8 billion, which would be slightly more than $1 billion above last year and the highest since 1953. Freeman's forecasts are based on latest reports of farm marketings, crop production and market and price prospects.

JFK Uncle Again

BOSTON (AP)—President Kennedy became an uncle again today.

A son was born at St. Elizabeth's Hospital to Joan Kennedy, wife of Edward M. Kennedy, the President's youngest brother.

The baby is the second child of Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy. They have a daughter, Kara, born 18 months ago.

The mother is the former Joan Bennett of Bronxville, N.Y. Her heritage is Republican, but she was an active campaigner for her brother-in-law in the presidential campaign.

Humphrey Says Speech for Gain In U.S. Prestige

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was credited today by Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., with having recouped in his address to the United Nations some U.S. prestige losses on Cuba and Laos.

Humphrey, the assistant Democratic leader who had worked closely with White House experts on the disarmament program the President laid down Monday, called the speech "the most remarkable and moving message of a political leader in the history of our country."

Sees Stigma Erased

Humphrey said it went a long way toward erasing the prestige-losing stigma of the Cuban invasion fiasco and the failure to follow strong words with action in Laos.

To Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, top Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, it was "a great speech."

"The President called a spade a spade," Wiley said. "He was equal to the occasion."

Eisenhower Comment

In Gettysburg, Pa., former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who recently has been critical of some of Kennedy's foreign policy actions, said he was impressed very deeply that "the President said there is no additional security in merely pursuing a spiral of arms racing.

"He saw clearly that there could be a weakening. We saw here a definite desire to protect our country."

Eisenhower said he agreed with GOP National Chairman William E. Miller — a vigorous critic of Kennedy's foreign policies — that in his speech the President was "summing up and expressing very eloquently the aspirations of the American people for the last years."

Convict German In Gen. Slander

AUGSBURG, Germany (AP) — Reporter Siegfried Naujocks of the "Overseas Weekly" was convicted by a German court today of slandering Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

The court ordered a fine of 1,200 marks—$300—or 30 days in jail.

After three days of testimony the court ruled that Naujocks, a German citizen, slandered Walker in telling three members of Walker's division last December that the general suffered from a brain tumor and that he had seen a medical report proving it. He never produced such a report in court.

U.S. Army doctors who examined Walker at the time testified no brain tumor was ever found.

The trial was based on a complaint filed by Walker after word of the brain tumor stories reached him.

Naujocks was one of the authors of a report published last April by "Overseas Weekly" in which Walker was accused of distributing material from the controversial John Birch Society in his troop information program.

The report prompted an Army investigation. The general was relieved of comman of his division and admonished by the Army commander in chief in Europe, Gen. Bruce C. Clark.

Tammany Favors Cavanagh to Take Over for DeSapio

NEW YORK (AP) — Tammany Hall district leaders have designated Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr., Mayor Robert F. Wagner's campaign manager, as their choice for chairman of the New York County (Manhattan) Democratic Committee.

A similar caucus of insurgent Democratic district leaders has been called for late today.

If the insurgents go along with the choice of Cavanagh, it will be a victory for Wagner in bringing about at least a temporary truce between the organization and insurgent factions in Manhattan.

Cavanagh, who is on leave as fire commissioner to manage Wagner's campaign for a third four-year term, has told both factions that he would accept the county chairmanship only on a temporary basis and would resign immediately after the Nov. election.

DeSapio failed to win re-election as a district leader in Greenwich Village in the Sept. 7 primary.

Wallkill Man Is Ruled Suicide

A 55-year-old Wallkill man was found hanged in the breezeway of his home Monday at about 11:30 a. m., according to Highland State Police.

The victim was identified as John Duebel, who lived alone.

Coroner Francis J. McCardle said Duebel died of asphyxia due to hanging. He gave a verdict of suicide and said the victim had no immediate survivors.

The body was discovered by two neighborhood children, who notified their parents. Troopers were called.

Duebel reportedly had been in ill health and under the care of a physician more than a year.

The body was removed to the Jesse McHugh Funeral Home, Wallkill.

Reformed Church News and Notes

The Woodstock Reformed Church announces two activities for children in the fourth through eighth grades. Junior Christian Endeavor meets every Friday evening from 7 to 9 p. m. under the direction of Irving and Fay Cousins and Louis Wolff and his wife, Norma.

The program is geared to the instruction of children in the arts of group worship, reading of the Scriptures, leading in prayer, and the presentation of topics. Excellent filmstrips are shown, giving further guidance in character building and Christian fellowship. This week instead of the usual 7 p. m. hour, the group is meeting at the Cousins' home for a picnic. Interested persons may call Mrs. Cousins for information and transportation.

The second activity for youngsters in the fourth through eighth grades is the Junior Choir which rehearses every Saturday morning at 10:30 a. m. Pastor Olson is directing the group for the time being. This choir sings frequently at morning worship and participates in the Junior Choir festival every year in March, a large gathering of junior choirs from many churches in Ulster and Greene counties.

All children in the above age group are cordially invited to join either or both of these activities. For further information, call Pastor Olson.

On Sunday, Oct. 1, the Sunday School bus will again make its run through the Bearsville Flats. The bus leaves the church at 9 a. m. All children and adults who can and desire to may board the bus which takes them to and from Sunday School. There are classes for children two and over, as well as an adult class. Sunday School begins at 9:30 a. m. and ends at 10:40 a. m.

Communion Sunday

Sunday is World Wide Communion Sunday. The Reformed Church will celebrate the Sacrament of Lord's Supper at the 11 a. m. worship service. All Christians who are believers in the Lord Jesus Christ and members of some evangelical Christian Church are invited to participate in the Sacrament with us. The significance of World Wide Communion Sunday hardly needs to be pointed out this year. There is no possible way to predict that the united prayers of the World Church can mean so far as world peace is concerned. The church nursery will care for the children of worshippers.

Members of the Consistory will hold their Retreat this Sunday, Oct. 1, at the 4-H camp in Rifton. The Rev. Gerrit Wullschleger of the New Paltz Reformed Church will assist the pastor in conducting the afternoon session, and the Rev. Leonard Sibley will be on hand to speak of the benevolent work of the church during the evening meal. All members of the Consistory are expecting this retreat to be of immense significance to them personally, as well of great benefit to the entire congregation.

The calendar for this week:

Monday, Oct. 2, stewardship committee, 8 p. m.; Tuesday, Oct. 3, Consistory, 8 p. m.; Thursday, Oct. 5, senior choir, 7:30 p. m.; Friday, Oct. 6, Junior Christian Endeavor, 7 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 7, junior choir, 10:30 a. m.

H. Schimmerling Recalls Mene Tekel Upharsin

The increase in the number of unhappy marriages, broken homes and divorces was mentioned last Saturday by Billy Graham. On Sunday it was discussed by one of the David Susskind panels. I just read about the progress of industrialization in one of the formerly agricultural countries of Europe. It grows in the same proportion as the divorces in the USA. And the road and factory building activities in said country and others grow as the broken homes, cases of mentally unbalanced people and juvenile delinquency grows in other lands.

Did our own foreign language study program grow? For years I have advocated such program in this area, apparently with little success. There are still parents of 12 year old or older "Monolingual" children; and they don't move a finger to change the situation. The other day I met a girl who is in her third year French. She could not say in French "I have to be at home at 5:30 p. m." Among the 15 people I met two weeks ago in a party, there were 10 foreign born and 5 American born guests. Those natives of and educated in Austria, Germany, Holland and France spoke from 2 to 4 languages; among the 5 American born there was one who struggled with Spanish, the other 4 just spoke English.

An American girl (her father German born) came back from oversea last summer. She studied abroad. She is 15 and speaks two foreign languages. She says she is ready to start a third one. Three youngsters of this area went oversea: one to Scotland, another one to Holland to get better education; the third one, a college graduate went to Austria and Germany for better training in music. The two Israeli youngsters, a boy and a girl scout of 17 with their knowledge of four languages whom I heard the other night on the Betty Furness program are apparently not "exceptional cases" anymore. If the situation in our monolingual education does not change radically, we shall be the exception: the nations of the world will understand our language, but we shall not understand theirs.

Like Ancient Rome

Billy Graham found a most pessimistic parallel between our country and the ancient Roman Empire in its last centuries. He blames greed, lust, money-mindedness, self complacency, egotism for this degeneration of society. May I add the over-emphasized commercialism and the glorified high standard of living which seems to overshadow our spiritual life. "Take it, do it, if it tastes well and pleases you," is the slogan to satify one' ego, "no matter whether you hurt yourself or others."

Even after the connection between lung cancer and smoking was established beyond doubt, enormous amounts of money and energies are spent for advertising more and more new brands of cigarets. The agents of Death are well-paid salesmen, indeed. Our leaders, instructors, executives, officials do not see anything wrong nor do they see any danger in the above mentioned facts; or if they realize it, they don't know how to remedy the situation. How can they? They were not trained to do such jobs; they are not prepared for it. Our leaders, etc. of today are the victims of a "Weltanschauung" which they, combined with insufficient training and the little discipline, absorbed when they were still students some 25 or 30 years ago. What leaders do we have to expect 25 or 30 years from now? Perhaps we should import them as we did the great conductors from Kousevitzky to Toscanini, from Szell to Munch, from Bruno Walter to Steinberg. If we get such people like Einstein and Dr. Teller . . . ,alright; but if we don't. . . .

We are preparing against an assault from beyond our borders with missiles, submarines, guns, bombs. Perhap we have to do this. But do we realize that our worst enemy is right here within our borders. This reminds me of that deadly sick person who surrounds himself with a heavily armed bodyguard. He was afraid somebody might attack him. But the expected enemy did not attack. Either the enemy was afraid himself or he knew that the patient would die anyway. Mene Tekel Upharsin, the handwriting on the wall be our reminder to struggle for our survival, to do better, to work harder. To do our share and duty?

No, to do more than our share and duty. This is the only proof that you love your country.

—H. A. Schimmerling

PO Art Show Closes Friday

Because of the exigencies of hanging the October post office exhibition, the current show will close Friday afternoon instead of Saturday.

The October exhibition, opening Oct. 2, will include drawings and prints in various media, but all black and white.

The exhibitors will include Robert Angeloch, John McClellan, Gladys Mitchell, Andrea Ruellen, Florence Webster, Earle Winslow and Henry Winzenreid. The participating artists will show works in water color, charcoal, lithographs and woodblock prints.

This show will be reviewed in next week's paper.

Christian Science Theme Is: 'Unreality'

The importance of distinguishing between sound and unsound thoughts will be brought out at Christian Science services in Woodstock Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Unreality" will include these verses from Psalm 119: "I hate vain thoughts: but thy law do I love . . . Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and thy law is the truth."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this citation will be read (p. 288): "The suppositional warfare between truth and error is only the mental conflict between the evidence of the spiritual senses and the testimony of the material senses, and this warfare between the Spirit and flesh will settle all questions through faith in and the understanding of divine Love."

Canada ranks third among nations of the world in size, with only China and the Soviet Union being larger.

Crippled Girl Steals Show

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A 7-year-old St. Louis, Mo., girl, crippled with muscular dystrophy, was the star and guest of honor Monday night at one of the nicest parties ever held in Hollywood.

Jerry Lewis was host to more than 300 TV and movie names at the Coconut Grove affair.

Lewis is national chairman of the muscular dystrophy drive.

Guest of honor was Lola Lucas, a third-grader in the Missouri city, who will be poster girl for the Muscular Dystrophy Association drive for funds in November.

The cute youngster, sitting in a wheel chair at ringside, was entertained by Lewis, Johnny Mathis, Connie Stevens, the Ink Spots, Donald O'Connor, Jaye P. Morgan, the Wiere Brothers, Hoagy Carmichael, Art Linkletter and Vivien Della Chiesa.

Lola, undaunted by the star competition, easily stole the show.

Linkletter, in an impromptu interview, asked he rhow her parents first knew she had muscular dystrophy.

"When I was 9 months old," the girl answered, "my Mama and Papa didn't hear the pitter-patter of little feet. They just heard a thud, thud."

Thefts Investigated By Po'keepsie Police

Thefts of food from a refreshment stand at the Poughkeepsie High school football field, and $35 in change from a cash register at a gasoline service station, were under investigation today by Poughkeepsie police.

Stanley Bloomer, operator of a service station at 724 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, notified police that someone entered the station through a basement window. Police said the intruder pried open the cash register and a cigaret vending machine and stole the money.

Police Chief John L. Martin said the refreshment stand at the high school football field was entered and loot consisting of potato chips, doughnuts and hot dog rolls was taken.
